

THE DAILY EXAMINER. NOVEMBER 15, 1883.

It is like the unfortunate cat seen lately on Grafton Street, which, in its enthusiastic eagerness to get at some lobster flakes it saw in a can, pushed in its head and it takes exactly a month to explain and rectify it.

It will be admitted that THE EXAMINER is well supplied with gentle, candid, kindly and discerning critics; and we are pleased to receive from day to day, the best evidences in the world that THE EXAMINER holds and continues to retain the confidence of the public.

Now the criticism of the Herald—a specimen brick of which is here quoted—was drawn out by reason of the position taken by THE EXAMINER in the discussion on the question: Is the Government of Canada to be denounced on account of the withdrawal of the "St. Lawrence" and "Princess of Wales"?

No proper examination of the steamers has been made; and if an examination were considered necessary, it might have been made before the time when, of all others in the year, they are most required.

So that THE EXAMINER did not find itself "in a dilemma"—did not "wheel round," is not "cowardly." The position we now hold with respect to the question is, right or wrong, the position we took up from the first.

But, says the Herald, "the Government refused the certificates." The Government did not refuse the certificates. It did not grant the certificates. It has nothing to do with the certificates.

The Herald says that Mr. Coker "inspected the vessels mentioned in August." We are informed that he gave them no such "strict inspection" as would justify him in condemning them and withdrawing them from the routes on which they were placed.

"That the hull is in all respects staunch and seaworthy, and in good condition for navigation; that the equipment of the vessel throughout is in conformity with the requirements of the Steamboat Inspection Act, 1882, and that she is adapted and fit to carry four hundred passengers and no more."

In August, and up to the 31st October, the steamers were, according to Mr. Coker, "in all respects staunch and seaworthy," and fit to carry "four hundred passengers"; but, (marvellous change!) on the 1st of November they are not, according to Mr. Coker, fit to carry freight.

The Herald, which does not admire THE EXAMINER's logic, of course thinks Mr. Coker's logic all right. What do the public think about it?

The steamer "Worcester," Capt. Blankenship, arrived from Boston this forenoon with freight and passengers. The "Worcester" encountered very heavy weather after leaving Boston, which continued until she reached Halifax.

The numerous friends of Mr. Robert A. Haviland, son of Lieutenant-Governor Haviland, will regret his death, which took place at Government House, last evening, at six o'clock.

A MAN NAMED James Cronan was struck by an engine and killed on the New Brunswick Railway, near Parville, on the 14th inst.

THE TEMPERANCE AGITATION

What it has Done—What it is Doing!

Prof. Foster's Second Address.

PROFESSOR FOSTER'S second address was listened to by a very large audience, including some of Charlottetown's most influential citizens. Judge Hensley occupied the chair. The Professor said he wished to show some of the results of temperance work.

To this end, it would be necessary to consider the evils that had been prevented and the positive good that had been done. For fifty years temperance workers have been engaged in saving men from the drunkard's misery and the drunkard's grave.

Now they say: no man in health should use it; no man in sickness should use it unless prescribed by a doctor; and in nine cases out of ten something else might be prescribed which would effect the purpose of the doctor just as well.

Where are they now? Every year they are placing additional prohibitions upon the liquor traffic. In Great Britain, in the States, in Canada, all along the line. Fifty years ago, where were the women? They were back in the shadow. They were suffering because of the traffic.

At the close of the meeting the Stockholders repaired to the mill and inspected its operations. About 100 looms were working, and a busy scene was presented in each of the various departments.

Why Brown Seized the Government Property.

One day last week a member of the Summerside Journal staff called at the Court House for the purpose of interviewing John Brown, the party who was arrested for taking such liberties with the Government property at the depot here, on the 1st inst.

Now, strange as it may seem, not one of these seats has been won by a grit or an anti-protectionist. Five Quebec constituencies have been heard from; three from New Brunswick and two from Nova Scotia, and not a grit yet.

Moncton Cotton Manufacturing Company.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS.

(Moncton Times.)

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Moncton Cotton Manufacturing Company was held at the office of the Company at four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The report showed the operations of the Company for the year ended September 1st, and gave an estimate of the expenditure since that day up to the present. The seventh call of ten per cent. made on the stock was shown to be necessary for the purposes of the Company.

The new Board of Directors were then elected as follows:

John L. Harris, Hon. John Lefurgey, (P. E. Island), Josiah Wood, M. P. (Sackville), John A. Humphrey, M. P. P., W. J. Robinson, C. B. Record, George W. Chandler, (Dorchester).

On motion of Peter McSweeney, jr., seconded by Mr. James Flanagan, a vote of thanks was tendered to the Directors for their services during the past year. Mr. McSweeney, in making the motion, referred to the work of the year and thanked the Directors for their services.

At the close of the meeting the Stockholders repaired to the mill and inspected its operations. About 100 looms were working, and a busy scene was presented in each of the various departments.

The Grit Reaction.

(From the Halifax Mail.)

The Montreal Witness says that Mr. Gault, M. P. of Montreal west, wants to resign but that Sir John will not allow it. The Witness says: "That the Premier would do a great deal to avert an election contest just now, when the benefits of the National Policy are hardly so obvious to the vulgar eye as he would desire, is admitted by his supporters, and will be well understood by all."

Now, strange as it may seem, not one of these seats has been won by a grit or an anti-protectionist. Five Quebec constituencies have been heard from; three from New Brunswick and two from Nova Scotia, and not a grit yet.
