

City Bus Schedule

Germaine Cornellier stopped by my office last week and seemed very upset that the City Bus Schedule was not anywhere to be found on campus. Well, thanks to Germaine's concern, here is the bus schedule which many of you may find very useful, (by the way, Germaine also donated the bus schedule).

THE NETTED GEM

P&G.

Is it everything they say it is

A lot of things you may have heard about Procter & Gamble are true.

They say we have a tough selection process. True. Because we only hire at entry level, we have to make sure we get the right people, right from the start.

They say we promote only from within. True. At P&G, you can go as far and as fast as your abilities will take you. It's up to you. All our senior managers started at entry level.

They say we'll throw you right into the thick of things. True. At P&G, we believe in on-the-job training. You'll get meaningful responsibility right from the start. You'll also get a great deal of support. There are other things you may not have heard. Like the fact that P&G pays competitively. And we believe our benefits package is the best in the country.

Procter & Gamble is the most successful packaged goods developer and marketer in the world. One or more P&G products, such as Ivory, Crest, Tide and Pampers are used in 95% of Canadian homes today. Our success is due to the high calibre of men and women we employ in all areas of technical and business management. And we need more.

We're looking for outstanding graduates in all disciplines with a track record of achievement, leadership and people skills. If this describes you, come and talk to us at UNB on October 2 and Dalhousie and St. Mary's on October 3rd, 1985. Your Placement Office has more details.
