This exclusive of gold and silver. This total is $82,191,803 greater than the total of 1890, and the total of 1890 was greater than that of any preceding year in the history of the country, and was $159,606,066 greater than the commerce of 1889. Since 1889, therefore, the total value of the foreign commerce of the United States has increased $241,797,869. The leading exports of the United States in 1891 were: Cotton, $290,708,000; breadstuffs, $127,668,000; provisions, $137,176,638. Under the operations of the McKinley tariff there has been a great increase in the value of the free goods imported, and a decrease in the value of dutiable goods. In the nine months ending June 30, 1891, the imports of free goods were $295,963,663, an increase of $86,979,792, over the preceding nine months. In dutiable goods the value of the imports in nine months was $334,242,340, a decrease of $55,543,692. The value of the gold and silver exported from the United States in the last fiscal year was $108,729,288, and the value of the gold and silver imported was $36,212,334, an excess of exports of $72,516,954.

Tunnel Building.

The art of tunneling may be considered as having been reduced to a science, as no distance is too great and no material too hard to be penetrated if the object sought is sufficient to justify the expense. The building of the St. Clair River tunnel, where iron cylinders were forced through the clay by hydraulic pressure, was a great advance in the art of building tunnels through certain kinds of soil. The tunnel built under the streets of London, where the top of the arch is just below the cobble stone pavement, was built without in the least obstructing travel at the place where the work was being carried on. According to the Industrial World, a tunnel five miles long is now being driven through the solid rock under Gray's Peak, 60 miles west of Denver, Col. This tunnel, which is 8x18 feet, is built primarily to tap the mineral veins in the mountains, which are thought to be quite rich. After the tunnel is complete it will be enlarged and opened for railway traffic to accommodate an extension of the Utah Central railway, which is to form a through line from Denver to Salt Lake. Thus far about a mile of the tunnel has been driven by hand power, but a plant of ten Rand drills, with Ingersoll air compressors, has just been put in, and an electric light plant is soon to follow, after which it is expected the rate of working will be greatly increased. The excavating of this tunnel is through rock about as hard as any that can be found anywhere.
