

Timmy Refuses A Dare

Be wise and take the greatest care. Now you accept a foolish dare. Old Mother West Wind.

"I suppose you can swim," said Paddy.

Now Timmy the Flying Squirrel is not a flier at all. He is like an aeroplane without an engine.

Timmy the bat is a true flier, not a glider. Flitter has real wings. He had been trying to explain the difference to Paddy and Mrs. Paddy.

Ask Milk Powder Import Control

WINNIPEG (CP) - The Dairy Council of Canada said Wednesday it will ask the federal government to place import controls on skim milk powder.

The announcement followed a directors meeting called to act on recommendations arising from the council's two-day annual meeting which concluded here Tuesday.

A statement said large quantities of milk powder are entering Canada from New Zealand, Australia and the United States at prices below the 17-cent floor level fixed by the government.

Will Train Lay Missionaries

BRANDON, Man. (CP) - The Anglican Church of Canada may establish its own training school for men and women lay missionaries.

Rev. M. E. Coleman, bishop of Qu'Appelle, said Wednesday his diocese will consider constructing such a school at Regina.

The offer followed a report to the church's executive committee, holding its annual five-day conference here, that Christianity is losing its battle to spread the gospel in out-of-the-way areas.

Bishop Coleman said such a school could be used to train lay members for the job of bringing the gospel to districts now thinly covered by Anglican dioceses.

New Polish-Yugoslav Pact May Soon Be Announced

By COLIN FROST

WARSAW (AP) - A formal state treaty of friendship between Poland and Yugoslavia is a likely outcome of Tito-Gomulka talks next week in Belgrade.

Informed sources said Saturday that the treaty will replace the pact of mutual assistance denounced by Poland in 1949. This denunciation was a direct result of Yugoslavia's expulsion from the Communist bloc in 1948.

Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka leaves Tuesday for his first meeting with President Tito of Yugoslavia in 10 years.

Both have become identified as opponents of Soviet domination in Communist affairs. The Poles are nonetheless anxious that the meeting should not give an impression of ganging up against Russia.

Gomulka, Polish Communist party first secretary, will take with him a powerful party and government delegation. Its leaders are Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz, Foreign Minister Adam Raczki and Agriculture Minister Edward Ochab.

NO MUTUAL ASSISTANCE Sources say the treaty will not contain clauses of mutual assistance. This is regarded as impossible because of other commitments of the two countries. Poland is a member of the Warsaw Pact. Yugoslavia is a member of the Balkan Pact, which in turn is linked with NATO.

As seen here the treaty rather will provide a formal basis for closer co-operation economically and for the application of a common foreign policy.

Either in the treaty or in the party declaration to be issued after the talks Poland will seek written Yugoslav recognition of its western frontier, the disputed Oder-Nesse line.

It is reported too that Poland will ask Yugoslavia to press for recognition of the frontier by Western powers.

The frontier was set up after the Second World War. It brought into Poland rich industrial and agricultural provinces which for 600 years had been ruled by Germany. Poland itself ceded eastern provinces to Russia.

The former German provinces make up one-third of Poland's present area.

Recognition of the frontier without change now is presented as a major part of Polish foreign policy. The Soviet Union has guaranteed the frontier.
