DELIRIUM TREMENS.

Few of those who have read in the newspapers the verdict of a Coroner's inquest upon the body of some unfortunate son or daughter of intemperance "died of delirium tremens," know aught of the dreadful, the hellish malady described by these significant words. If one's reason remain unclouded, he may bear extreme pain without flinching, he may sustain with fortitude the bereavement, by death, of those who were dear to him as his own existence; he may be steeped to the lips in poverty, and have to suffer the contumely of the world, still if his mind retain its sanity and fortitude, he will recover his serenity and composure. But in the complaint called delirium tremens there is such a blending of the unearthly with the pains of life, that a novice, in the hands of those as ignorant as himself, has but a very small chance of recovering. Death is obnoxious in most of its forms, but in delirium tremens it is horrible and appalling.

Delirium tremens usually attacks those who have been engaged in a short course of reckless dissipation, and have been suddenly obliged to discontinue the stimulants to which they had accustomed themselves, without an opportunity of "tapering off" as the phrase goes, or who are so blinded and lost in the maze into which they have plunged themselves, as to continue drinking when the system is unable to support the unnatural excitement to which it has been subjected.

The first symptoms generally consist of extreme nervousness, and dissatisfaction, and a horror of some dreadful, impending evil, a dread of having committed some hideous crime against one's friends, or society at large. The victim feels wretched and miserable until he has partaken of a remedy of "a hair of the dog that bit him," suggested by some "old hands." A few of these hairs judiciously administered at intervals might effect a cure. But, unfortunately, the sufferer, finding immediate temporary relief, continues to indulge until reason is all but overturned, while an indestructible weakfulness remains. Night after night the victim tries to sleep, but finds it impossible. He is like the thirsty soul of mythology, whose lips the water touched, while he could not drink. The victim feels sleepy and tries hard to sleep, but the brain is in too great excitement to permit of repose.

Unless a strong opiate be taken, and it is frequently dangerous to take one, this state of weakfulness continues for three or four days until the mind and body are completely exhausted. Then follows the second stage of the disease in which no illusion in nature can be more horrible. The victim falls into a kind of slumber surrounded by grotesque and monstrous animals who crawl over and around him, and endeavour to crush or devour him. If he awakes affrighted, the animals disappear, and are succeeded by unhuman figures and coutenances grinning and mocking at the unfortunate inebriate. If he now in his despair, try to keep awake, the figures become voices suggesting to him all manner of blasphemy, and urging him on to self-destruction. Such is the horror of these, that he again has recourse to sleep, to shut out his tormenters. Alas! fresh troubles await him. Thousands of fiends in shapes diversified, try to tear him to pieces, or he is in the midst of ponderous machinery, the irregular movements of which seem certain of crushing him to death.

It is in ene or other of the states sf of the second stage that ihe victom, if not carefully watched, commits self-destruction to escape from the horrors which surround him. One night's sound sleep, and bracing tonics remeve the disease. To procure this sleep, the victom's friends should have recourse to a physician familiar with the disease, and in whose honor and ability they have confidence

We might write a volume on this subject. We believe, however, that we have said enough to show that Temperance in all things is best.

THINGS TO BE FOUND OUT.—Nature is not exhausted. Within her fertile bosom there may be thousands of substances yet unknown as, precious as the only recently found gutta percha. To doubt this, would be to repudiate the most logical inference afforded by the whole history of the earth. Corn and the grape excepted, nearly all our staples in vegetable food are of comparatively modern discovery. Society had a long existence without tea, coffee, cotton, cocoa, sugar and potatoes. Who shall say, there is not a more nutritious plant than the sugar cane, a finer root than the potato, a more useful tree than the cotton? Buried wealth lies everywhere in the bowels of the earth, which needs but the true divining rod of organized action for its discovery.—Athenæum.

It was a judicious resolution of a father, as well as a most pleasing compliment to his wife, when, on being aked what he intended to do with his girls, he replied: "I intend to apprentice them all to their excellent mother, that they may learn the art of improving time, and be fitted to become, like her, wives, mothers, and heads of families, and useful members of society."

It has been ascribed to the Queen; that, on asking the Duke (we suppose on a wet day) what boots he had on, and being answered, "The people call them Wellingtons," she exclaimed, "What an absurdity! where, I should like to know, will they find a pair of Wellingtons?"

Tacitus tells us, that in his time the spectators in public theatres were obliged to stand during the representation, that they might not, if accommodated with seats, be tempted to waste whole days in idle amusements. A gentleman recommends the same plan to be adopted at all public dinners, that persons may drink, no longer than they can stand.

PROSPECTUS OF THE
Charlottetown Gas Company.

PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE:

Hon. DANIEL BRENAN, Chairman;

Hon. Charles Young, Hon. W. W. Lord,
Hon. Charles Hensley, Hon. Joseph Pope,
Francis Longworth, Esq., James Walkinshaw, Esq.,
Mr. James Anderson, Henry Haszard, Esq.,
Hon. George Birnie, Mr. George Beer,
James D. Haszard, Esq., George DeBlois, Esq.

THE superiority and advantages of Gas over every other method yet discovered for lighting Towns are so self-evident and so universally acknowledged, that it would be superfluous to dilate on the subject; and it is only surprising that, while every Town and considerable Village in Great Britain, as also many Towns in the neighbouring Provinces, are lighted by Gas, this, the Capital of Prince Edward Island, should be still in darkness.

To supply this desideratum, it is now proposed to form a Joint Stock Company—to be Incorporated by an Act of the Legislature—with a subscribed Capital of £6000, in 1200 Shares, of £5 each, to be managed by a body of Directors, annually chosen by the Shareholders.

As many of the inhabitants of Charlottetown may be comparatively unacquainted with the practical results of Gas Companies, it may be proper to observe, that a Joint Stock Company for the purpose of lighting the Town with Gas, can hardly be called a speculation; because it is now ascertained, by reference to the annual Reports and Dividends of the Gas Companies of Great Britain, and some of the neighbouring Colonies, that wherever they have been managed with ordinary prudence and economy, they have yielded a certain and steady return of annual interest on the capital invested.

Previous to bringing the scheme before the public, the Provisional Committee had been in correspondence with competent parties, both in the neighboring Provinces and in Great Britain, and from the information thus obtained, and the estimates they have received, they are of opinion that the Land, Buildings, Apparatus, Machinery and Pipes requisite to enable the Company to go fully into operation, may be acquired and completed for and with the proposed capital.

To enable the Company to commence operations at once, and on the most advantageous terms, it has been resolved that a deposit of £1 5s. per share be paid on the allocation of shares, and that no further call be made, till the Act of Incorporation be obtained; and that such further calls shall be payable by such instalments, and at such intervals, as the Directors may judge most convenient for the Shareholders and the requirements of the Company.

Although certain spirited individuals were prepared to subscribe the whole of the requisite Capital, it is deemed but fair to give the public an opportunity of participating in the advantages of the undertaking; and for this purpose the Subscription List will remain open at the Office of Mr. LAWSON, Interim Secretary to the Committee,—more than one-half of the Shares being already subscribed.

JOHN LAWSON, In. Secretary.

In addition to its greater economy, Gas Light may also be pronounced safer than any other ordinary Light. It produces no sparks—it cannot be carelessly placed in contact with bed curtains, or substances easily ignited, and it requires scarcely any attention. It may be turned down in an instant to the most minute speck of flame, ready to be restored to full brilliancy when necessary, by the simple turning of the stop cock; and even when it escapes by the carelessness of an attendant, or a defect in the fittings, it at once indicates the accident to the whole household, by the disagreeable smell which it occasions.

From the large quantity which must be mixed with atmospheric air before it becomes explosive, it is scarcely possible that this accident should occur, in any ordinary apartment, even if the Gas were allowed to escape for the purpose. And as its smell so instantly indicates its presence in cellars, or other confined situations, where it may have escaped in quantity from the accidental breaking, or leakage of a pipe, it is only by the greatest carelessness, or ignorance, that a light will be approached to it, before it has been allowed to escape by the free admission of air. There is no such thing as the bursting of a pipe, or the blowing up of a Gasometer.

RELATIVE EXPENSE.—The relative cost of Gas has been generally considered not to exceed one-third to one-half the cost of tallow candles.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A CRIPPLE SETS ASIDE HIS CRUTCHES AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thompson, Chemist, Liverpool, dated August 20, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR—I am enabled to furnish you with a most extraordinary cure effected by your invaluable Ointment and Pills which has astonished every person acquainted with the sufferer. About 10 years ago, Mr. W. Cummins, of Saltney Street, in this town, was thrown from his horse, whereby he received very serious injuries; he had the best medical advice at the time, and was afterwards an inmate of different infirmaries, yet he grew worse, and at length a malignant running ulcer settled in his hip, which so completely crippled him, that he could not move without crutches for nearly 10 years; recently he began to use your Ointment and Pills, which have now healed the wound, strengthened his limb, and enabled him to dispense with his crutches, so that he can walk with the greatest ease, and with renewed health and vigor. (Signed) J. THOMPSON.

A MOST EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A DREADFUL SKIN DISEASE, WHEN ALL MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Hird, Draper, of Keady, near Gainsbro', dated March 1st, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR—Some time since, one of my children was afflicted with dreadful eruptions over the body and limbs. I obtained the advice of several eminent Surgeons and Physicians, by all of whom the case was considered hopeless. At length I tried your Ointment and Pills, and without exaggeration, the effect was miraculous, for by persevering in their use, all the eruptions quickly disappeared, and the child was restored to perfect health.

I previously lost a child from a similar complaint, and I firmly believe, had I in her case adopted your medicines, she would have been saved also. I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer.

(Signed) J. HIRD, Draper.

ANOTHER SURPRISING CURE OF ULCERATED BAD LEGS, DEBILITY, AND GENERAL ILL HEALTH.

Copy of a Letter, from Mr. J. M. Clennell, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, dated September 20th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR—I am authorised by Mrs. Gibbon, of 31, Bailey Street, in this town, to inform you, that for a considerable period she had been a sufferer from debility, and general ill health, accompanied by a disordered stomach, and great derangement of the system. In addition to this, she was terribly afflicted with ulcerated wounds, or running sores, in both her legs, so that she was totally incapable of doing her usual work. In this distressing condition she adopted the use of your Pills and Ointment, and she states that in a wonderful short time, they effected a perfect cure of her legs, and restored her constitution to health and strength; and that she is now enabled to walk about with ease and comfort. Several other persons in this neighbourhood have also received extraordinary benefit from the use of your invaluable medicines.

I remain dear Sir, yours faithfully,

(Signed) JOHN MORTON CLENNELL.

CERTAIN REMEDY FOR SCORBUTIC HUMOURS—AND AN ASTONISHING CURE OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY YEARS OF AGE OF A BAD LEG.

Copy of a Letter from Messrs. Walker and Co., Chemists, Bath.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR—Among the numerous cures effected by the use of your valuable medicines in this neighbourhood, we may mention that of an old lady living in the Village of Preston, about five miles from this City. She had ulcerated wounds in her leg for many years, and latterly they increased to such an alarming extent as to defy all the usual remedies; her health rapidly giving way under the suffering she endured. In this distressing condition she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and by the assistance of her friends, was enabled to persevere in their use, until she received a perfect cure. We have ourselves been greatly astonished at the effect upon so old a person, she being above 70 years of age. We shall be happy to satisfy any enquiries as to the authenticity of this really wonderful case, either personally or by letter.

A private in the Bath Police Force, also, has been perfectly cured of an old scorbutic affection in the face, after all other means had failed. He states that it is entirely by the use of your Ointment, and speaks loudly in its praise. We remain, Dear Sir,

Your's faithfully,

(Signed) WALKER & Co.
