

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 14, 1894.

HARBOR LIGHT.

The undoubted success of the Harbor Light in the past two winters is a sufficient proof that it supplies a need of the community. Thither resort men who, if not there, would be in the tap-rooms. There they read papers and periodicals, illustrated and otherwise, kindly supplied by the Bazaar Store, Messrs. George Carter & Co., Messrs. Hazen & Moore, and kindly-disposed householders who have first read them at home, forward them in care of Mr. W. F. Carter, there the poor man can enjoy a quiet game of draughts, etc., there the younger generation have the free use of a gymnasium; there they occasionally have an entertainment, musical, literary or pictorial; there they are sometimes treated to a social cup of coffee; there, above all, they are away and free from the temptations of the drinking-saloon and the gambling-house.

At the meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. parlour last evening it was decided to maintain the Harbor Light throughout the coming winter. An Executive Committee consisting of the Rev. James Simpson, the Rev. G. M. Campbell, Mrs. Poole, T. W. May, James E. Welsh and W. F. Carter was appointed, and will make arrangements for the season of 1894-95. Mr. Carter acted as secretary of the meeting, and will, we presume, as in previous years, take an active part in the management of the institution. An appeal will forthwith be made to the public for a total sum of $150, which will be all the money required; and surely the wealthy and charitable could give of the means bestowed upon them in no better way! Subscriptions may be sent to any member of the committee above named, or to THE EXAMINER office or the Guardian office, and they will be duly acknowledged. An adjourned meeting of all interested in the Harbor Light will be held in the Y. M. C. A. parlour on Saturday evening next at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that the subscribers will be present. A prospectus of the work for the season of 1894-95 will then be submitted.

UNJUST TAXATION.

We presume that our correspondent, "One of the Fooled," is under a mistake. Such gross injustice as he describes is surely impossible—even on the part of a Grit tax-gatherer. It is, nevertheless, undoubtedly true that very great dissatisfaction exists throughout the country on account of the unfairness of the Peter-Farquharson levy. Many men, even those who are honest and desire to do "the fair thing," have not grasped the fact that they are taxed on account of their buildings as well as on account of their land. They have read the Premier's speech at Mount Stewart, they have seen or heard that they have to pay so much per acre, and they suppose that only their acreage is taxed. These have, it is stated, calculated the value of their farms exclusive of buildings, and have not hesitated to sign the declaration, presented to them by the tax-gatherer, supposing it to be in accord with their preconceived ideas. Others, and these for the most part Conservatives, did not place implicit confidence in the Premier's statements at Mount Stewart. Consequently they looked more carefully into the law or they have read THE EXAMINER. These know that the value of the buildings is included in the value of the farms in respect to which they pay taxes; and they have therefore made, their valuations considerably higher than the others, and paid proportionately higher taxes. They have thus borne a heavy penalty on account of their better information and greater intelligence. The difference, it will readily be seen, is wide. Suppose a man owning a hundred acre farm worth $15 an acre, and buildings worth $1,500 or $2,000; if he has ignorantly valued only the acreage he will have paid but $3.00; but if he has, as an honest man acting according to the law, included in his declaration the value of the buildings, he will have paid $6.00. We are assured that a difference as wide as this, or proportionately wide, exists in numbers of cases. That is to say, well-informed and honest men have paid double as much tax money as ill-informed or dishonest men! Everyone will admit that the Government ought to have provided against the slightest unfairness of the levy, let alone such scandalous injustice as this.

FACING BOTH WAYS.

As showing the extreme uncertainty of the Grit policy and intentions, the following incident related by The Courier of Bradford, Ontario, is interesting: Mr. W. F. Cookshut spoke at Mr. W. Paterson's meeting in the Opera House, and during the course of his remarks, referred to the member for South Brant as a man of "Ministerial status." Then the following passage at arms occurred: Mr. Paterson—"What do you mean by 'Ministerial status'?" Mr. Cookshut—"I mean this. During the last election it was thought if your side got in that the duties would be lowered. Some of the Bradford manufacturers got alarmed, when you privately told them that the duties would not be interfered with." Mr. Paterson, the Courier remarks, did not endeavor to make any explanation at that meeting, and he has not since attempted to do so, although the incident has more than once been repeated. This is in agreement with Mr. Paterson's organ, the Expositor, which, just after the revision of the tariff in 1894, declared: "Mr. Foster has dealt much more severely with the lines of manufacture in which Bradford is interested than a Liberal Government would have done." It is evident that the Grit party has not lost its claim to the title of the "Organized Hypocrite!"

THE OPPOSITION POLICY.

The Montreal "Star" has been analyzing what Mr. Laurier and his lieutenant have been saying on the trade question, and after quoting the pleasant sounding phrases such as—"freedom of trade," "enlarged trade," "wider trade,"—"it is forced to call these pleasant expressions 'airy nothings,' and then it continues: "The shoal upon which this new painted ship will come to grief, however, is the widespread distrust of the Liberals in trade matters, and the consequent widespread demand that their declaration of policy be clear and explicit, not vague and illusory. The country is not in a mood to take anything on faith from the Liberals in regard to tariff legislation. We came too near the precipice in '91 amid a fog of fine phrases. If the Liberals would be strong in the next campaign, they must be exceedingly frank and plain with the country—they must tell us in spite of their bank at the sight of an open road last session, how they intend to amend the tariff. It is folly to howl at protection and then promise 'incidental protection,'—to declare for a great reform in the tariff which shall reduce it to a revenue basis when it does no more than raise the revenue now, and ask the people to accept this as a full explanation of the Plain intentions of therapy. Plain details and not dazzling phrases constitute the real need of the oppositionists at this time."

The Star has struck the feeling of the country exactly. It has discovered the fatal weakness of the Liberal party. HAVE IT NOW! THE Toronto Globe declares that when the Liberal party gets into power they will carefully enquire and investigate where the expenditure can be reduced and where the taxes can be lightened. Wouldn't now be the better time to do this? There is no trouble in doing it. All the facts and figures are exposed every year to public view, and often if anyone wants them. The people want something a little more definite than the Globe's promise of careful inquiry should be made at once by Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard as their assistants, and the result of their deliberations given out to the electorate. The voters would then know just where the Liberals would touch the tariff and where they wouldn't, where they would put on taxes, and where, if anywhere, they would take them off. By all means let us have the enquiry now. There is lots of time yet in which to make it before the session of Parliament, and during the session it could be given to the world in a resolution, so that every Liberal in the House would have an opportunity of voting his approval of it.

MERRY MARRIAGE BELLS.

The marriage of Mr. David Macdonald, of Glenfiddan, and Miss Mary Jane McDuff, of Clermont, was solemnized at St. Mary's Chapel, Indian River, yesterday, in the presence of a goodly number of relatives and friends. Mr. Joseph Macdonald, of Piquet, was groomsmen, and the bridesmaid was Miss Maggie Macdonald, of Kinkora. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. John J. Macdonald, assisted by Rev. Mgr. Gillis, pastor of St. Mary's, and Rev. J. A. Macdonald, Missoquoie. The music on the occasion was excellent. The choir was led by Mr. Thomas Donohoe, and Miss Lizzie Macdonald, of Kennington, presided at the organ. After the ceremony there was a sumptuous repast at the residence of the bride's brother, at which the rev. gentlemen already referred to were present. The happy young couple left Kennington on the evening express en route to Glenfiddan, stopping over night at the Queen Hotel. The bride was the recipient of very many beautiful presents, including a beautifully-bound prayer book from Very Rev. Mgr. Gillis, a handsome china tea set from Rev. A. J. Macdonald, Fort Augustus; a breakfast, dinner and tea set, including silver cruets and cutlery, from Rev. J. J. Macdonald, Kinkora, who also presented the groom with a splendid set of driving harness; and a handsome table scarf from Rev. J. A. Macdonald, of Missoquoie. THE EXAMINER joins with the numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald in wishing them every happiness in their journey through life.

SUPREME COURT.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 14. The Supreme Court met to-day and delivered judgment in the Thorne case, discharging the writ of habeas corpus, and with costs. The Chief Justice was of opinion that certiorari was taken away by the Canada Temperance Act, and therefore the court could not go behind the conviction to inform and hear upon which evidence was made. Had there been no evidence before the Magistrate it would be different. But in this case there was some evidence, which, in His Lordship's opinion, was insufficient to have convicted Thorne, and had he been trying the case instead of the Magistrate, he would have discharged him. But owing to the provisions of the Canada Temperance Act, which took away certiorari, the court could not interfere. Mr. Justice Hodgson dissented and was of opinion that the court had jurisdiction which was not taken away by the act in cases where a magistrate convicted a man upon a state of facts which disclosed no offence against the law. "It would be a monstrous thing," said the learned judge, "to convict a man and send him to jail when he was guilty of no offence at all and then hold that this court could not interfere. He not only concerned with the Chief Justice that Thorne ought not to have been convicted on the evidence, but went further and held that the evidence disclosed no offence at all, and the conviction should be quashed. Mr. Justice Fitzgerald concurred with the Chief Justice. He held that certiorari was taken away by the C. T. Act, where there was any evidence before a Magistrate. He did not think it was his duty to say what he would have done had he been the Magistrate, but he thought there was some evidence upon which a conviction might have been made. The court then adjourned until Tuesday next when judgment will be delivered in Hughes' case. The only way to cure catarrh is to purify the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and tones up the whole system. FOR GOODS SALE TO-MORROW AT PATON'S. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

DUTIES ON RAW MATERIALS.

MR. EDITOR.—In changing the refund duties on exported goods from ninety to ninety-nine per cent, the Government has done right. In place of sending the raw material—cattle, meat, butter, cheese, wheat, etc.—fed them to the Canadian workmen, and send them away doubled and tripled in value, the Government has done right. In place of sending the raw material—cattle, meat, butter, cheese, wheat, etc.—fed them to the Canadian workmen, and send them away doubled and tripled in value, the Government has done right. In place of sending the raw material—cattle, meat, butter, cheese, wheat, etc.—fed them to the Canadian workmen, and send them away doubled and tripled in value, the Government has done right.

When Canadian manufacturers are able to export these goods to foreign countries and compete with the world, it will be a fortunate day for the home consumer. Competition, the greatest arbiter in matters of trade to-day, will look after his interests, be the duty what it may. Nothing but a home market will ever make a great country of Canada. Foreign markets for all the raw products of the farm are a delusion and a snare. Prince Edward Island has been utilizing a foreign market in past years to her bitter cost. It is like a man with a bank account, drawing continually and depositing nothing. If hedging editors will leave the fiscal policy to the Government (until their whiskers grow) and give her time enough to expand her trade until she shall have ten workmen where to-day there is only one,—when this time arrives, we will have a home market for nearly all the farm products and be in a position to compete with the world in foreign markets in many of the staple manufacturing products of the day. In the meantime neither the Government dare to radically change the present National Policy and the Liberals know it. BLUE NOSE CANADIAN. Ch'town, Nov. 12, 1894.

A COMPLAINT.

SIR,—Our tax-gatherer at Orwell Cove is, not giving satisfaction to all concerned in charging the Tories, and showing partiality towards the Grits. Here, for instance, there are in Orwell Cove three householders each with house and lot—two Grits and one Conservative. The two Grits valued their place at $500, and their dues were $1.00 each; and the Conservative valued his place at $500, and his dues were $1.25. I will say a little more later on about this. I am, Sir, ONE OF THE FOOLED.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

ROME, Nov. 12.—An inquiry has been ordered into the recent supposed anarchist attempt to blow up the Pampula fort in Piedmont, on which occasion a lieutenant in command of pickets was wounded. Several workmen at the fort have been arrested.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The Zukunst, in an article under the caption, "A Giant's Plaything," creates a sensation by drawing a parallel between the Kaiser and Charles I. of England, and predicts that the German ruler may meet a fate similar to that of the English King, if he persists in his King Charles methods of claiming that the people must blindly confide in his policy, for which he holds himself responsible to God alone. The paper expresses hope that Chancellor Von Hohenlohe may be able to dispel the Kaiser's illusion that a modern people can be treated as a plaything.

ROME, November 12.—The Vatican is satisfied with the results of the conference of patriarchs. The pope has authorized them to maintain a resident bishop in Rome to assist in their plans to develop the Catholic clergy in the Orient and prepare for a union of churches.

PARIS, November 12.—It is stated the late czar's funeral has been deferred until the 20th or 21st on account of the cold weather.

DUBLIN, Nov. 12.—The anti-Parnellites met here to-day with their leader, Justin McCarthy, in the chair. They declared the acceptance of Mr. Gladstone's and Lord Londonderry's celebrated checks justified as these contributions to the Irish cause, were made spontaneously with the begging charity. The meeting resolved it was not a party matter, as the party was not invited to do so. The circular was sent out, the resolution added, through the blunder of a clerk. A meeting of dejected newspaper discussion of party differences as calculated to injure the Irish cause. The meeting declared it to be the liberal party's paramount duty to secure the autonomy of Ireland, and observe faithfully its pledge in this respect. Such observance would be the sole guarantee for the success of the alliance between the Irish and Liberals.

POLICE COURT.—This forenoon, Edward Flanagan was fined $2 or 14 days for selling drink, and $5 or 30 days for assaulting Daniel McNevin. Daniel McNevin was fined $50 and $11.60 costs for violating the Canada Temperance Act; and a fine of $10 and $5 costs, and a suspended sentence of 14 days for selling "table beer." John Hebert's case was adjourned for one week, and the summons against Andrew Doyle, jr., H. C. Conolly and Lemang Martin were dismissed.

Charlotteville ladies are all delighted with Priestley's dress fabrics which are now sold by the better class of dealers throughout Canada. They have a fineness of texture and a softness and beauty of surface all their own.
