Isiah Horne's Famous Remedy's.
MR ISAIAH HORNE.
DEAR SIR,—My son STEPHEN, the subject of his own name, and subject of your painfully treated with a rubbing of your "Famous Remedy," which gave relief at once.
Also my other son struck his knee against a log and it pained him so that he could not sleep. He got out of bed and rubbed his knee with the remedy and felt relief, and was all well in the morning. I think it a grand remedy.
Yours truly,

MERRY MOMENTS
"This reminds me of my school days," remarked Pegg, as he dropped into his new easy chair. "Candied seat, you know."—Boston Transcript.
The younger one—I wonder if I will lose my looks, too, when I get to your age. The elder one—You would be lucky if you did. Washington Star.
"Say, guide, what does that memorial stone commemorate?" "I put it there," is upon the spot where a tourist once gave five marks."—Flieg gends Blattler.
Thomas—Have they named the twins over at your house yet? John-Yep; pa called them Thunder and Lightning as soon as he heard about them.
—Truth.
Van Twerp—I hear your daughter has reached a high place in the theatrical profession. Van Swipe—Yes; she's singing on a roof garden.
—Brooklyn Eagle.
He walked the stream the living day.
With red and blue and yellow And then went home and revealed in One long, luxurious lie.
—Philadelphia Record.
Carry—Why was it I wonder, my poor husband never said anything to me about remarrying? Anna—Probably you were the person he wanted to warn.—Life.
Justice—What is the charge against this prisoner? Officer—Having an infernal machine in his possession, your honor. Justice—Amaret or bicyclist?
—Brooklyn Life.
Teacher—If your father was to hear of your bad conduct it would make you blush, wouldn't it? Bobby—I beg your pardon, sir, my father hasn't any hair left.—Boston Traveller.
Harry—Come, Johnny, let's play horse. Johnny—You're behind the times; we don't play horse any more.
If you want to play bicycle I'm with you.—Boston Traveller.
Weston—Do you think a young man can safely marry on a 10c a week? Easton—Well, that depends a good deal on how much the girl's father is worth.
Somerville Journal.
Summer Resorts—And is everything hot and fresh? Farmer—Nice and —Nice and fresh? I guess you'd think so if you'd see some of our city boarders.—Boston Traveller.
Young lady (on the grand stand)— The umpire calls a foul, but I don't even see a feather. Her escort—But this is a foul ball. This is a picked one.—Sacred Heart Review.
"Did you receive an affectionate letter from your mother last week?"
"Yes, but she didn't say any words." She merely wrote "Love, send me $100."—Philadelphia Record.
Alphonse—You never hear of women cashiers running off with their employers' money. Henri—Not often, but when it does happen they take the employer too.—Illustrated Bits.
Hobson—I hear Cholly Sappy is out of his mind, poor fellow. Costigue—I think he is rather to be congratulated.
He must have been frightfully cramped in it.—Philadelphia Record.
Cholly Chumpey—I see that earrings are coming into fashion again. Have your ears ever been bored? Miss Causton—What a question! Haven't I often listened to your twaddle?—Syracuse Post.
"I see they've nominated Coxey for Governor of Ohio," said one exclaiming. "Yes," replied another.
"But we haven't had such walk-over elections for a long time."—Washington Star.
Bloss—'I'm going down to Atlantic tomorrow. I'll look up your sister, Sibbie. Yes, do. She's having such a dull time; she wrote me she would be glad to see anybody.—Philadelphia Record.
"I don't know how it is," said Adolphus; "but there is always something or other running through my mind."
"How fortunate," replied Kate, "that it isn't a train of thought."—Boston Transcript.
Yablesy—Did you carry out your three of telling Remondum what you thought of him? Judge—No. The telephone girl said she positively could not stand such language.—Indianapolis Tribune.
"Ah," said the jovial friend of the man with the veil, "going for a little rest, are you?" "No," was the reply, "with a hurried glance at the time table, 'I'm going away on my vacation.'—Washington Star.
"We must fly," said Morat to Napoleon, on one occasion when the battle had gone against them. "It is impossible," replied the latter. "The enemy has destroyed both wings of the army." —Harper's Bazar.
He—What a pity that Miss Vere de Vere should have lost her good name.
She (greatly shocked)—In heaven's name, what do you mean? He—Why, marrying a man named Jones, of course.—New York Sun.
Jones—This chicken is fourteen years old. Smith—How can you tell the age of a chicken? Jones—By its teeth!
Smith (greatly shocked)—In heaven's name, what do you mean? Jones—But I have Crypt.
Curry—Carson seems to be very friendly with everybody all of a sudden.
Vokes—Yes, he is going to be married soon, and he wants to have as many friends as he can to invite and get presents from.—Truth.
Clara—If Mr. Castleton succeeds in kissing a girl he tells all the rest of the men about it. Maude—That accounts for it. Clara—For what? Maude

Are You Dependent?
Has ill health or overwork made you dependent? Has your nervous system been overworked? If so you need a thorough course of Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic. You will find it exactly what you need. It restores health and strength and hopefulness. And it does it in the most natural way in the world.
It improves digestion, stimulates the appetite, affords new vitalizing power to the blood, and so leads to a building of the weak and wasted tissues of the body the result of which is a complete renewal of health, and a vigorous mental activity. Its power is irresistible. The formerly dependent sufferer feels the thrill of a new vitality, and work is no longer a dreary task, or pleasure merely a thing to be endured.
Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic is sold by all druggists and dealers at 50cts. per bottle or six bottles for $2.50, and is manufactured only by the Hawker Medicine Co.
(Ld.) St. John, N. B., and New York City.

GLAD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY.
There could be no gladder tidings than news of a cure for consumption. Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil cures consumption and every disease of the lungs and respiratory organs. Why? Because it supplies new blood to the exhausted system, thus giving a new lease of life.
Miller's Emulsion is made from the Oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver, and in conjunction with hypophosphites of lime and soda forms the greatest vitalizer of the age.
Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthening and blood making, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung Affections. In 1/2 bottles, 50c. and $1. at all Drug Stores.

Children Shrink from taking medicine. But they are eager to take what they like—Scott's Emulsion, for instance.
Children almost always like Scott's Emulsion.
And it does them good.
Scott's Emulsion is the easiest, most palatable form of Cod Liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda added to nourish the bones and tone up the nervous system. The way children gain flesh and strength on Scott's Emulsion is surprising

All delicate children need it.

CANADIAN PIRATES.
They Infest the Straits of Belle Isle and Little Ploumer E. Cape Them.
In no other part of the world, perhaps, is there such a daring gang of pirates as that which infests the Straits of Belle Isle, the narrow passage north of Newfoundland, by which steamships in the summer months reach the Gulf of St. Lawrence from Europe. Some of them live a good part of the year on Belle Isle itself, but others come from Newfoundland, Labrador, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, ostensibly to engage in the fisheries, but in reality on the lookout for what they call a "look and seal from ships in distress." There are at least three or four weeks every year in the vicinity of Belle Isle, and sometimes a great brood of steamships breaks up or runs aground there. This is a rich harvest for the pirates. They swarm about the wreck and help themselves to everything that they can lay hands on. The captain and crew of such ships in distress have usually all they can do to save themselves from the scene of the wreck with the exception of his clothes, with the fate of their cargoes. Should they venture to remonstrate with these highwaymen of the sea for the freedom which they help themselves to to other people's property, they would be laughed at for their pains, as was the captain of the wrecked steamship Mexico, a few days ago. Captain Daly has just arrived from the scene of the wreck of his ship, with the most startling description of his experiences with the pirates.
Daly endeavored to make terms with the captain of the fishing schooner that swarmed about the wreck of his ship, saying that he intended to take everything that they could lay hands on. As an instance of the barbaric character of the robbery, he reported that some of his men were killed by them. Daly reports that he went aboard one schooner at a time when it was suspected that some of his men were concealed on board. The woman protested that there was nothing whatever belonging to him. He insisted upon a search, and found hidden in the bulkhead of the schooner a crew of children which had been taken from his cabin. Continuing the search he found a small black battered down, and upon opening it discovered three teen boys of chiding, but the most suspicious sailors. Shipping men feel that it is an outrage upon foreign as well as Canadian shipping for such a gang of pirates to be permitted to large in Canadian waters prey upon the commerce of the world, and wonder that justice was not meted out to them long ago. Thus far, no attempt whatever has been made to bring these marauders to justice. Were a gunboat to be sent down to the straits, as many wish it would be dodged quite easily by the fast-sailing, light-draught, fishing, wrecking and smuggling schooner of the gulf, with the intimate knowledge possessed by their crews of the bays and coves of the coast.
Some day the pirates will encounter a well-armed captain and crew, and a wreck for steamship men know what they have to expect here. There will be a desperate fight, for the pirates are well armed and on some of their smuggling expeditions they have already enraged the crews of the Government revenue cutters.—New York Sun.

John's got the Rheumatism and Muscular Pains again
Why not try the Menthol Plus
my wife got one, I cured like magic For a long time I suffered with Rheumatism in the Back so severely that I could not even sit straight. My wife advised me to get Menthol Plus. I tried it and was soon going about all right. S. C. BRYAN, Swags Corner.
