

New Woolens

There's economy in MAKING YOUR OWN

It's just amazing what you can do with smart patterns, that help you at every turn, and solve all the puzzles.

Here are some of the fabrics that this Fall approves.

- New fall boucle dress Blue, Navy Blue, Wine, wools 54" wide in Nordic Rust, $1.95 yd. Novelty striped wool, in Navy and White, Rust and White, Grape and White, 54" wide, $1.75 yd. Plain rabbits hair to match striped wool in Rust, Wine, Navy and Black, 54" wide, $1.75 yd. Pin striped light weight wool, 54" wide in Navy, Black, Wine and Rust, $1.75 yard. Wool faille for skirting in good shades of Navy, Brown, Wine, Grey, California Rose, Varsity Rose, Purple, and Green and Black, $1.50 yd. Wool Plaids, 54" wide in good patterns, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50 up. Wool Crepe, 54" wide, in Carrose, Swiss Violet, Turquoise Blue, and Camba Cerise, $1.25 yd. Fall Coating in Brown, Wine, Green, Navy, Black in newest patterns, prices from $2.00, $2.25, $2.50, $3.95. Metallic and White Crepe for blouses and trimmings, 38" wide, $2.75 yd. Also in black. New brocaded crepe in Town Blue, Harvest Wine and White, 38" wide, $2.25 yd.

BUTTERICK PATTERNS

The style of Paris and New York, easy to use, everything made plain as you go along.

25c, 35c, 45c, 50c, 65c

HOLLYWOOD PATTERNS

Here's the queen of low priced patterns... ask the lady who has used one. You'll be delighted with the correctness of styling, and you'll be pleased with the price.

15c and 25c Each

DRAMATIC EVENTS OPEN TO VIEW

An Exclusive Establishment

That gives you a clue to the plot and background of The Guardian's new serial which begins Friday, September 22nd. But when you hear that HOLLOWAY HORN is the author, no more need be said to make you an eager reader of

COUNTY CLUB

Begins FRIDAY, SEPT. 22nd.

Racing Driver

(Continued from page 6.)

"Nothing, darling—but I was just thinking that we must look rather like a couple of the primitive folk ourselves! The caveman carrying off his woman!" "Some of their customs," said Rupert appreciatively "were rather sound."

"Where are the others?" asked Florence presently. "He had almost forgotten the others."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

"The professor and Christine, and Frank and Dorothy, were travelling back to England together."

of the Drakensberg and returned to Durban. From there Rupert and Florence went to Johannesburg, for Florence was determined to appear with Mr. Knox Oliver's company, as she had promised. When the day came she had promised Rupert that she would quit the stage.

THE END.

Souris Teachers Convention

Souris district Teachers' Convention was held in St. Mary's hall on Wednesday, September 6.

The morning session opened at 10:30 with the president, Mr. Francis O'Keefe of Gowran Brae presiding.

The minutes of last year's convention were read by Miss Campbell secretary, and adopted as read.

The president in his address outlined the work carried on by the executive for the past year. He stressed the need of a general secretary and enumerated the duties of such an officer. He also encouraged the continuation of study clubs among teachers as a means of improvement and mutual aid.

Mr. Ernest Reid gave a very interesting and instructive talk on school management.

Miss Duffy secretary of the P. T. Teachers' Federation, in her address encouraged all teachers to join the federation. She also spoke in favor of a general secretary and the benefit such an officer would be to the federation.

The next speaker Miss Vera Darrach, assistant director of the Junior Red Cross, spoke concerning Red Cross activities in the district.

Mr. Ernest Reid then read the following resolutions which were adopted:

(1) Resolved that the thanks of the convention be extended to the management of the hall for its generous hospitality.

(2) Whereas in many cases due to deficiency in the payment of salaries, the part of salary paid by the Government has been withheld—Therefore be it resolved that this convention urge the executive of our federation to continue in their efforts to prevail upon the government to remedy such conditions.

(3) Whereas we are greatly in need of someone to enlighten the people to a knowledge of our condition and to make them more education conscious—Therefore be it resolved that a general secretary of education be appointed by our federation.

(4) Whereas School Fairs have apparently outlived their usefulness—Be it therefore resolved that they be replaced by something more acceptable to the public.

The following officers were appointed for the ensuing year:

President: Mr. Ernest Reid. Vice President: Mr. Bernard Moore, Souris. Secretary: Miss Clara Burke, Bay Fortune.

Canadian Legion Urges Declaration Of Gov't Intention

OTTAWA, Sept. 19—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today heard from the Dominion Executive Council of the Canadian Legion a request for an immediate declaration of the Government's intention regarding the service of troops now being enlisted in Canada.

It was asked to declare the troops would be trained and equipped as an expeditionary force as soon as possible to be available for overseas service whenever Great Britain indicates such service is required in the common cause.

Mr. Mackenzie assured the executive his suggestions would receive serious consideration. He said the Government was fortunate in being able to draw on the experience of men who served in the first Great War.

"It looks like a long war," he said, "and all the resources of the country will be taxed to the utmost."

Brigadier W. W. Foster of Vancouver, Dominion President, was spokesman for the executive, which met Mr. Mackenzie King and four war veteran members of the Cabinet, Finance Minister Bennett, Labour Minister Rogers, Defence Minister Mackenzie and Pensions Minister Power in the Prime Minister's office. The meeting was held in the middle of a three-day meeting of the Council at which the Legion's contribution to Canada's war efforts was discussed.

YEO THEATRE

The blinding romance of the man who passed continents that ships might sail the desert! THE POWER-YOUNG ANNABELLA

MONTAGUE—SAT. 23rd. SOURIS—MON. 25th.

Moscow Gives Progress Of Poland Invasion

MOSCOW, Sept. 19—(Tuesday)—(AP)—The Soviet army general staff's second communication to the press, covering Monday's activities, was issued early today as follows:

"During the day of Sept. 18 red army troops continued throwing back Polish army units and by evening had occupied:—

"In the north, in western Byelorussia (White Russia) the town of Sventsyan, the railway junction of Lida, the town of Novogrudok, the town of Slonim, Vokovysk and the station at Yaglevichi on the railway line between Minsk and Brest-Litovsk;

"In the south, in the western Ukraine, the railway junction of Sarny, the towns of Lutsk, Sanislaw, Galich, Kraze and Buchach."

"Advance columns of the red army are approaching Lwow and Wilno."

Chiefs of Allies Sea, Land and Air

LONDON, Sept. 20—(CP)—British and French commanders in the various high posts of the nations' navies, armies and air forces follow:

BRITISH NAVY: First Sea Lord—Admiral of the Fleet Dudley Pound. Commander-in-Chief, Home Fleet—Admiral Sir Charles Forbes.

Commander-in-Chief, Mediterranean Fleet—Vice-Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham. Commander-in-Chief, American and West Indies—Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble.

Commander-in-Chief, C-in-C Station—Admiral Sir Percy Noble. In Charge of Malta—Vice-Admiral W. T. R. Ford.

BRITISH ARMY: Commander-in-Chief of British Field Forces—General Viscount Gort.

Chief of the Imperial General Staff—General Sir Edmund Ironside. Commander-in-Chief of the Metropolitan Forces—General Sir Walter Kirke.

Commander-in-Chief in the Far East—Major-General A. E. Griese. Commander-in-Chief in the Near East—Lieut-General Archibald Wavell.

Commanding in Palestine and Transjordan—Lieut-General M. G. H. Barker.

BRITISH AIR FORCES: Chief of the Air Staff—Air Chief Marshal Sir Dudley Newall. Chief of Fighter Command—Air Chief Marshal Sir Hugh T. Dowding.

Chief of Bomber Command—Air Chief Marshal Sir Edgar R. Ludlow-Hewitt. Chief of Coastal Command—Air Chief Marshal Sir Fred W. Bowhill.

Chief of R. A. F. Middle East—Air Marshal Sir William Mitchell.

FRENCH FORCES: Chief of the French General Staff of Army, Navy and Air Force—General Maurice Gamelin.

Chief of the French General Staff of Army—General Charles Colson. Chief of the French General Staff for Air—General Victor Vuillemin.

Chief of the French Staff for Navy—Admiral of the Fleet Jean Danjou. French Commander-in-Chief in the Near East—General Maxime Weygand.

BIRCH GROVE INSTITUTE: The September meeting of Birch Grove W. T. was held at the home of Mrs. R. B. Auld on Wednesday evening, Sept. 13th. The Vice-President presided and the meeting was opened by singing the "Ode and repeating the "Creed" in unison. Eleven members and two visitors were present. After Roll Call the minutes of the last meeting were read, approved and signed. Correspondence was then read.

The sum of six dollars was acknowledged from the P. E. I. Exhibition for the exhibitors of the district scoring second highest. Also a letter from the Red Cross was read announcing the meeting to be held at Charlottetown Sept. 19th. It was agreed if any of the members were able to attend to do so. A discussion then took place about a Junior Club of the S. P. C. A. but it was decided not to start one at present. A vote was then taken to write to the Library Association asking for an extension of one month on the box of books.

Plans for a Pantry Sale were then left over for the next meeting. A short report of the District Convention was then given by members who were present. After the report of Committees were heard the new committees were elected for next meeting. (Sings)—Mrs. John Lewis and Mrs. Everett Schurman, (Program)—Mrs. Fred Moore, Mrs. Willis Ostway and Mrs. John Paynter. (Lunch)—Mrs. Will Francis, Mrs. George

Ready Reserves For Dominion's Naval Services

(By Capt. W. W. Murray, M. C.) (Canadian Press Staff Writer) Canada's small but efficient naval service, consisting of six modern destroyers and four minesweepers, provides a not unworthy reinforcement to the small fleets maintained by Great Britain on the Atlantic and Pacific in the event of hostilities. Whether this country will be able to have the destroyer Kempenfelt transferred to the Royal Canadian Navy as a flotilla leader is doubtful.

When "last heard of" the Kempenfelt was doing her job with the Grand Fleet on the naval manoeuvres which were to continue throughout September. She was to be released and purchased by Canada at the end of September, if nothing happened in the meantime to disturb the international situation. But something undoubtedly has happened, and Kempenfelt will likely stay in the Royal Navy.

Personnel of the Royal Canadian Navy is approximately 2,200 ranks and ratings, with a likelihood of an added 300 before the end of the year, should normal peace-time plans be developed. A shortage of naval officers is being overcome by drawing on the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and the award to suitable officers of temporary commissions.

Supplementing the active personnel of the R. C. N. are about 1,100 volunteer reservists and nearly 400 skippers and seamen of the flotilla reserve on both the Atlantic and Pacific coast. Training of the latter is for mine-sweeping purposes. They are required to furnish their own boats, with all necessary provision arranged for compensation in the event of injury or destruction.

R. C. N. Reserve An added reserve for the R. C. N. is the Preventive Service of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. This force operates 35 patrol vessels, chiefly on the Atlantic and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Of these eight are sizable cruisers, capable of sailing long distances on their own, and the others are small speed-boats, designed to compete with the fast run-runners operating off the coast.

The 235 men of the Preventive Service are trained in navigation and gunnery in addition to the normal duties of coastguards. In an emergency they would likely be given an opportunity to engage in the naval service, and the ships might be equipped with mine-sweeping devices and depth bombs for anti-submarine work.

During the Great War, The Canadian Press recalls, extensive use was made by the navy of trawlers and drifters, and at its close four of the trawlers were converted in service as minesweepers for several years in Canada. One of them, the "Thelwell," made a trip across the Pacific Ocean to Japan some years ago. Later she struck a rock off Vancouver Island and went down. There were no casualties either on the lengthy trip or in the subsequent sinking.

Twenty-five years ago Canada's navy consisted of a couple of outdated cruisers, the "Niobe" at Halifax and the "Rainbow" at Esquimaut. Both were conditioned for break of hostilities, and the Rainbow, without any ammunition for her well-worn guns set her nose out into the Pacific to look for the German cruisers "Nuremberg" and "Dresden." Ammunition was subsequently found, and the gallant old-liner commanded by Captain Walter Hase, continued on her way. Fortunately for the R. C. N., those crack German ships were not encountered.

The Dominion also possessed two submarines purchased just at the outbreak of war and cleared in time from a United States Pacific Coast port of escape internment. There are no submarines in the service today.

Speed-Boat Sweepers Many patriotically-minded citizens loaned their speed-boats to the country during the last war and these did protective service in the way of mine-sweeping on the Atlantic Coast. Nova Scotians and Newfoundlanders were the reservoir from which Canada drew her naval personnel between 1917 and 1918. In large numbers, however, they enlisted also in the Royal Navy.

Whether the changed situation in the Pacific will bring about a change in the disposition of the ships of the R. C. N. has not yet been determined. Four destroyers and two minesweepers keep watch and ward off the British Columbia coast. It may eventually be decided to bring one, or possibly two, of the destroyers to the Atlantic, and one of the minesweepers.

Following are the ships on the Pacific: Destroyers, St. Laurent, Restigouche, Ottawa and Fraser; minesweepers, Nootka and Comox. On the Atlantic: Destroyers, Saguenay and St. Esprit; minesweepers Gaspe and Pundy.

H. M. C. S. Venture of the Halifax station is an auxiliary schooner.

People Tell Us! "You Have the Smartest Coats in Town"

DRESSY FURRED COATS PERSIAN KURL COATS UNTRIMMED COATS DRESSY SWAGGERS SPORT COATS FUR COATS

Actually hundreds of these new fall numbers. We feel reasonably sure we can please the most fastidious taste.

SEE THEM ALL HERE TODAY Rejoice in our low prices! Be among the first to wear the latest fall styles.

USE OUR BUDGET PLAN The GREENDAL CO. 99 QUEEN STREET

RED ARMIES' INVASION PLANS NOT REVEALED

Possibility of Soviet March Into Estonia Is Discussed In Moscow Circles.

(By Witt Hancock, Associated Press Staff Writer) MOSCOW, Sept. 19—The Soviet army rolling westward through Poland was reported authoritatively tonight to have occupied the city of Wilno about 85 miles into northeastern Poland, and to be approaching the industrial city of Lwow, some 90 miles in from the frontier in the southeast.

Just how far into Poland the Red Armies planned to go was not definitely known, but it was understood the invasion probably would halt on a line running roughly from Wilno to Lwow.

As the German-Russian campaign of mopping up in Poland seemed to be nearing an end, the possibility that Soviet troops might march into little Estonia was discussed in Moscow's diplomatic circles.

News that the Soviet Baltic fleet was sent into action to "take measures" following the escape of a Polish submarine interned at the Estonian port of Tallinn was regarded here as significant.

Soviet Russia's present sea base on the west is Leningrad on the Gulf of Finland and Russia is known to want a Baltic base.

Diplomats said that should Russia decide to occupy part of Estonia this might give her complete control of the Gulf of Finland. Estonia now has a number of fortified islands in the gulf as well as shore batteries controlling certain large sectors.

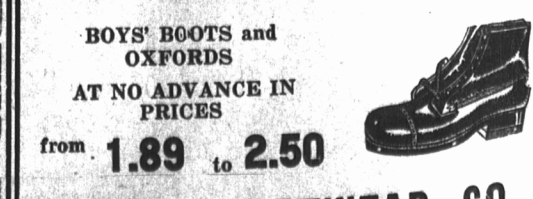

Estonian circles in Moscow insisted, there was not a single conflict in the relations of their government with the Soviet Union. They emphasized that their guards had tried to prevent the escape of the submarine and denied there was any connivance.

Rumors that the British and French Governments had presented a protest against Russian occupation of Polish territory could not be immediately confirmed.

A dispatch to the army newspaper, Red Star, disclosed that the process of liquidating huge estates in the Ukraine and White Russia already was under way. Army commanders were reported to be instructing peasants to "take up your cattle into the landlords' pastures."

Tass, official news agency said that the advance of the Russian armies was received by joyous crowds which lined the roads and that girls decked the tanks and horses with flowers. The agency reported "striking meetings of the populace and Soviet army units."

MORE WEAR—MORE STYLE

Send them off to school in smart, comfortable and economical shoes. Shoes that will please the youngster and comfort the budget! Select from many styles. Nationally Famous Growing Girls Shoes Specially Priced AT ONLY 1.98 to 2.98 BOYS' BOOTS and OXFORDS AT NO ADVANCE IN PRICES from 1.89 to 2.50 BRADY FOOTWEAR CO. QUEEN STREET BETTER SHOES AT LOWEST PRICES