

Dissension Hits Yankees; Players & Case Squabbling

NEW YORK (AP) — With an 11½-game lead and only 36 games remaining you'd think New York Yankees would be out fishin' Monday. Or in the case of some maybe reading a few comic books or taking in a Western movie. But an angry Casey Stengel sent his charges through a strict workout in Yankee Stadium amid rumors of tension and dissension on the ball club which has lost eight of its last 11 games.

None of the players was anxious to talk for publication. But said one: "We are not used to playing a string of night games as some of those other clubs and we topped it off with a Sunday double-header last week followed by a day-nighter on Monday. Then the trip to Boston. We're bushed."

jury, he may have to pitch a chubby ace against Cleveland Wednesday. A year ago Monday the Yankees held only a 7½ game lead over Stengel apparently is thinking of the five games topped off by club's lead in the last 10 days.

Round-By-Round Account Of Patterson-Harris Fight

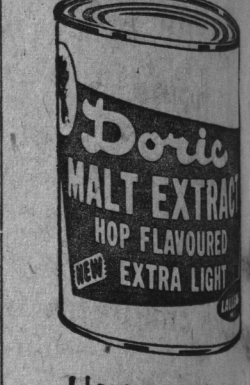

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Round by round report of the world heavyweight boxing championship fight Monday night between champion Floyd Patterson of New York and challenger Roy Harris of Cut and Shoot, Texas: Round One Harris opened the action jabbing to the champion's head but both stayed at long range to the first half of the first round feeling each other out. Midway in this stanza Patterson sent a hard right to the head and in a fast exchange the New Yorker connected with a stiff left to the head and Harris with a right to the body, as the close round ended.

tack as he attempted to set up the challenger. After the first minute, Patterson slammed a left hook and followed with a right to the body. Harris backpedaled to avoid further damage and tied up Patterson's attack, but the champion backed Harris into the ropes and scored with a left and right. As they reached the centre of the ring Patterson slammed home a straight right, sending Harris to the canvas for a count of eight. Harris finished the round without further damage.

AUTHORITY HANGS HEAVY

Other comments expressed privately and with the usual "don't quote me" appeals were: "Casey just wants to show his authority." "Is he going to give his brain a workout too?" "What we need is some rest." "I hope it rains." (The sun shone brightly). Manager Stengel, as usual, did speak for the record as he sent his charges through the brisk workout. "We've been playing some lousy baseball and they can't be tired the way I take them in and out all the time," he said. "We've had workouts before on offdays and we'll probably have them again."

Paige Works Off Jail Tab On Mound

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A few more nights like Sunday night and pitcher Satchel Paige of Miami Marlins won't have to worry about going to jail. The 50-year-old Paige was sentenced to 20 days in jail April 23 by Municipal Judge Charles Snowden for speeding and driving without a licence. However, the sports-loving judge deferred the sentence until Oct. 1 and told Paige a day would be lopped off each time he won a game for the Marlins. In scored a run or struck out his arch-rival, Buffalo first baseman Luke Easter.

Big Four Football Play To Get Underway Today

By THE CANADIAN PRESS The Big Four football season gets under way today with Hamilton and Ottawa rating as the teams to watch during the grueling 14-game schedule. Hamilton Tiger-Cats Grey Cup champions, start defence of their Big Four title by opening the season in a twilight game with the Alouettes in Montreal. A few hours later, Toronto Argonauts and the Rough Riders in Ottawa will trot on the field to start their night game, first of seven to be played under lights this season.

And the 13-week grind by Eastern Canada's four major professional teams in search of the Grey Cup will have begun. Hamilton's defensive-minded tabbies have rated as slight favorites to repeat but Ottawa's three wins-no losses pre-season exhibition record has won over many a football fan's choice as the East's most probable representative in the Grey Cup game Nov. 29 in Vancouver.

Coach Jim Trimble will have 29 players—13 American imports and 16 Canadians—on cock for the Hamilton-Montreal game but he's leaving much-publicized Frank Rogel, formerly of Pittsburgh Steelers at home. Montreal's hopes depend primarily on a small nucleus of seasoned imports with a handful of homebred players. Seven of 17 American imports coach Doug (Peahead) Walker has in camp are holdovers—quarterback Sam (the Rifle) Etcheverry, fullback Pat Abbruzzi, halfback Joel Johns, ends Hal Patterson and John (Red) O'Quinn, centre Tom Hugo and tackle Bill Hudson. Patterson is still the big question mark because he was used sparingly in exhibition games because of a shoulder injury.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

That must have been a real thriller of a baseball game that Junior Legionaires and Junior Pontiacs staged in Summerside on Saturday. At the very offset of their seven game series the boys go into extra innings to determine a winner. The second game scheduled for Memorial Field on Sunday last was washed away by the rains giving the Westerners the next contest on Saturday afternoon. The third is slated for Scharlottetown Sunday afternoon.

Brian Lewis's Legionaires surely proved that a ball game is not over until the last out is made. They roared back from a 7-0 deficit and Jack Kane's homer won it in the eleventh.

Lewis threw 15 ball players into the battle and he figures that the strength of his bench made the victory a reality. He has eighteen registered players and Brian intends giving just about everyone a chance to strut his stuff. From here it looks as if no player has a monopoly on any one position.

Although the Pontiacs failed to garner a victor in the opening game in their own backyard, their backers are not too worried about it. They know that home crowds mean very little to Juniors some insist young players perform better before opposition fans. We are inclined to agree with this latter opinion.

One thing is certain. These junior players are primed to give baseball fans a really great series. They'll wage battle as only young players know how to wage it. Neither team will entertain any thoughts of elimination until the final out in the final game has been called.

And that's what is bound to make this fight for the junior baseball supremacy of Prince Edward Island a really great one. After more than a week lapse, City Softball action resumes this evening at Memorial Field with second place Barry's Lions at home to third place Rollaway Aces in the first game of their best-of-five semi-final series. Action will continue tomorrow evening with the regular schedule winners taking on the B.I.S. Shamrocks. This series also is a best-of-five affair.

Lions tonight will undoubtedly go with their pitching ace, coach Lorne Israel. Lorne has pitched heads-up ball all season long and has meant a whale of a lot to Barry Moore's boys. There's no reason to think that he'll be less tough in the playoffs. In fact we look for Israel to be even tougher. If that's the case the opposition had better take care.

However in this series the Lions' roar won't terrify Rollaway Aces' coach Willie Hennessey. Willis is a tough guy to scare and he brims confidence when you mention his club's chances with the Lions. Hennessey has a lot of experience in his lineup and he figures that experience will count when the chips are on the line. With his line of reasoning nobody can find too much fault.

We expect this series to go the five-game limit. We won't attempt to call a winner because that would really be throwing a jinx on the club. It should be a really stern battle with the breaks deciding who will make the final bracket and oppose the winner of the Junior B.Y.C.-B.I.S. Shamrocks for the City Softball League championship.

Pittsburgh Pirates are making a fine showing this season under manager Danny Murtaugh. Nobody is calling them to unseat the Braves as league champions but every baseball fan agrees that Danny is doing a mighty fine job with his boys.

They have the solid support of everyone in the Smoky City. Pirate fans have had cellar dwellers for such a long time that a first division club looks to them like a world series winner.

Recently two 16-year-old Pirate fans spent the night in jail—all because they were backers of the Buccaneers. They hitched hiked 110 miles to watch the men of Murtaugh down the world champion Milwaukee Braves. The youngsters had enough money to buy their lunches, tickets for the game and tickets for the wind-up game the next night. But their bill for a night lodging was a little steeper than they anticipated. The boys told their story to a sympathetic policeman who provided lodging in jail.

The boys liked the lodging too. Hank Bauer, 36-year-old right fielder of the New York Yankees admits that his age is catching up with him. And at 36 Bauer shouldn't be too surprised. Hank puts it this way: "Yes, playing almost every day has bothered me. I'm tired. Tired in the morning when I get out of bed. I used to jump out; now I kinda roll. I guess I can stand being tired a bit, as long as I'm doing all right at the plate. I haven't got that quick bat any more. I'm not swinging as hard and I'm not hitting homers like I did two years ago, but I'm getting more hits."

There are plenty of clubs that would still like to have Bauer around despite his 36 years. One of the most popular fellows ever to wear a Dodger uniform is Gil Hodges who performed with such fine ability when the Dodgers called Ebbets Field their home. The big good natured first baseman was the idol of Flatbush fans as his bat proved such a potent weapon in bringing pennants to the Brooklyn club.

Bill Gil is only a shadow of his former self as he performs with the Alstonites on the west coast. His bat is no longer feared by the opposition and Hodges has had many suggestions from well-wishers as to methods of correcting this unhappy situation.

One suggestion was that Gil's eyes were failing and that the big fellow needed glasses in the worst way. Hodges comes back with this answer: "I've never worn glasses, on or off the field, and they told me there was absolutely no need for wearing them now. I'm just not hitting. I don't know why and nobody else seems to know why. I've snapped out of slumps before, though, and I'll whip this one."

All baseball fans are certainly pulling for the affable Hodges to make good his threat. After his successful defence of

Champ Retains World Crown

By BOB MYERS Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — World champion Floyd Patterson of New York got off the floor in the second round and handed game Roy Harris of Cut and Shoot, Tex., a bloody beating, knocking him out in the 12th round of their scheduled 15-round world heavyweight boxing championship fight Monday night. Referee Musty Callahan, called to the previously unbeaten Texan's corner between the 12th and 13th rounds, stepped quickly across to Patterson's corner and lifted his hand in victory. Under California rules, it goes as a 12th round kayo since the bell had not sounded for the ensuing round. A crowd estimated at 15,000 witnessed the battle in Wrigley Field, along with thousands more in 150 or so theatres via closed circuit television facilities. It was Patterson's third defence of the title he won in Chicago in November 1956, when he knocked out Archie Moore in five rounds. Patterson weighed 184½ and Harris 194. Four times the gallant but out-classed Harris hit the canvas from Patterson's lightning-like fists, each time to bring a roar of applause from the throngs as he waded back in trying to damage the champion. SURPRISED CHAMP But it was the surprised champion who hit the deck first. The 25-year-old Harris, fighting his 23rd professional bout, caught the Empire crown against Mike Holt of South Africa here earlier this year. Durelle, 29, told reporters: "I'd like to go out as champ. On the other hand, if I don't get a crack at the old guy soon I'm not going to bother with the game anymore."

"I've been getting battered around in rings for 13 years. I've got a decent living from my fishing fleet and I want to see more of my wife and three kids."

The French-Canadian is a big gate attraction in Montreal. He drew almost 8,000 for a non-title go-and-victory-against-Germinal Ballerin of France, and 5,500 saw him defeat Holt in a savage brawl that ended when the challenger was unable to answer the bell for the ninth round.

TV HURT GATE The second bout was carried on national television networks in Canada and the United States and attendance suffered. Although the Montreal area was blacked out on the Canadian system, many were able to get the telecast on a U.S. channel (WPTZ) at Plattsburgh, N.Y., near the border.

For world's title fights, however, Quinn said the network's contract provides for a blackout within a 75-mile radius and that would cover the U.S. station, 62 miles from Montreal.

The station manager, George BarenBregge, said he would object to a blackout. "But I guess we would have to abide by the network's decision. What they say goes. They lay down the policy and we have to follow it."

GETS MONTON FIGHT To keep in trim in case Moore or the IBC and Quinn change their minds, Durelle has accepted a 10-round non-title fight with Freddie Mack of Brooklyn,

Morell Midgets Cop King's Co. Loop Pennant

Morell midgets baseball nine won the pennant of the Kings County Midget League by easing the Mount Stewart midgets, 2-1 last evening. In another league tilt Georgetown tied St. Peters for fourth place by dropping St. Peters, 6-4 at the losers' field.

Peakes midgets finished third in the league and Georgetown and St. Peters will play again this evening at Morell to decide fourth. League playoffs begin Friday night.

Visibly astonished, but not hurt very much, Patterson was on his feet at the count of three and was never again in serious danger.

The crowd came for action and they got it, along with blood. Roy came up with a slit left eyelid and a bloody nose in the third, and in the next round Roy's right eye was opened.

Canadians Score Crushing Wins In U.S. Amateur Golf

DARIEN, Conn. (CP) — Canada's Marlene Stewart Streit and Rosemary Neundorf smashed their way to one-sided victories—both by 7 and 6 scores—in the first round of the United States women's amateur golf championships Monday.

But the large entry of fellow Canadians was trimmed before the day's competition on the 6,467-yard Wee Burn Country Club course, where women's par is 75, wound up.

Mrs. Streit, the perennial Canadian champion from Fonthill, Ont., and U.S. champion in 1956, needed only 12 holes to oust Margaret Watkins of Grosse Point Farms, Mich. The Canadian long-ball hitter didn't lose a hole although she soared to a 40 for the first nine.

Miss Neundorf, of Toronto, defeated the grand old lady of the sport, Mrs. Edwin H. Vare, Jr., of Philadelphia, six times U.S. champion who was making her 25th appearance in the tournament.

Aussie Fighter Regains Ch'ship

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — George Barnes of Sydney, regained his British Empire welterweight title Monday by stopping Johnnie Van Rensberg of South Africa, in the 13th round. Barnes weighed 146½, the loser 141½.
