N.B. Union To Try For Negotiations

BATHURST, N.B. (CP) — An attempt to reopen negotiations between Mace Limited and members of the Construction and General Labor Employees Union (Ind.) will be made here today, a union spokesman said Thursday.

The workers went on strike Saturday to back up demands for higher wages.

There were no pickets at Mace Limited construction sites in the Bathurst-Belledune area Thursday following the granting of an interim injunction to restrain picketing. Mr. Justice Albany M. Robichaud granted the injunction Wednesday and a court hearing was set for Sept. 7.

A spokesman said two strikers spent Wednesday night in Gloucester County jail after being charged with intimidation on the picket line. RCMP have been patrolling the strike areas. The workers are asking a 28 per cent increase in their present hourly wage of $1.32.

Rejean Charlebois, a representative of the union, told union meetings in Bathurst and Green Point Thursday that an appeal for a general strike would be issued immediately.

Mr. Charlebois said $700 had been donated to the union by delegates attending the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Labor Federation this week in Moncton. He said delegates to the meeting would be seeking further support from their local unions.

Thursday's meetings were also addressed by G. A. Soucy of Saint John, Electrical Workers Union representative.

U.S.-SINGAPORE

In the end the British, with their close ties with the Singapore administration, are reported to have saved the day for the United States by persuading Lee that at that time to drop his threats to make the full affair public.

Apparently, the argument that was most effective with Lee was that it was not in his interest to start out on the wrong foot with the new administration of President John F. Kennedy.

The original incident occurred at the end of the Eisenhower administration. It was settled at the outset of the Kennedy administration. An aide of Prime Minister Lee said Wednesday in Singapore that the $3,000,000 bribe offer alleged by Lee had been made in January, 1961, before the Kennedy administration took office. He said Kennedy ruled that no money would be given "under the counter."

Accuser To Meet Accused

SINGAPORE (AP) — Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew, who has extracted Washington admission that U.S. officials engaged in "improper activities" here in 1960, is meeting today with the U.S. ambassador to Malaysia, James D. Bell.

The chief of this new country, recently separated from Malaysia, has invited press, radio, and television representatives to cover the session in his closely guarded office at the city hall.

The probable topic is American diplomatic representation in Singapore, which the United States recognized following the island state's breakaway from Malaysia Aug. 9.

Based 200 miles away in Kuala Lumpur, Bell declined to say in advance what he and Lee will discuss.

The ambassador had declared Tuesday "there is no truth" to a press conference declaration by the prime minister that the U.S. government offered Lee a $3,000,000 bribe not to reveal that an agent of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency was caught trying to buy state secrets from a Singapore intelligence officer.

Medical Society Says Medicare Must Meet Demands Of Doctors

ST. ANDREWS, N.B. (CP) — The New Brunswick Medical Society Thursday urged that a universal medicare plan not be introduced without the full cooperation of the medical profession.

Any plan lacking the co-operation would be "as disastrous as a government without the support of the people," the society said in a sweeping statement issued at the close of its annual meeting here.

It contains 10 resolutions planned to be submitted to Premier Louis J. Robichaud prior to the conference of provincial health ministers on medicare in Ottawa Sept. 23-24.

In the statement, the society specifies the principles it considers necessary for any medicare plan to win the co-operation of doctors.

For one thing, demand the right for doctors to practise inside or outside the plan "with out any deterrent or penalty" to patients or doctors.

ABLE TO PAY

For another, they contend that a public medical care should not be imposed on self-sufficient persons able to pay for themselves.

"As citizens," the statement said, "we feel governments should not concern themselves with the medical problems of those New Brunswick residents who have the ability and the right to care for themselves.

"Nevertheless, as physicians, we welcome any move that helps our patients avail themselves of medical care."

The statement promises the co-operation of the medical profession if the administration of any medicare plan is left in the hands of an independent commission, dedicated to giving the best medical care people can afford.

It said the primary purpose and objective of the government and the medical profession, working hand in hand, should be the welfare of the patient.
