

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 5, 1882.

King's County Exhibition!

A Large Attendance and a Good Show.

King's County Exhibition was greatly favored yesterday by the bright, cool weather. There were present a large number of visitors from all parts of the County; and the exhibits, though fewer in number than they ought to be, were yet more numerous than those of last year, while their quality was excellent.

At nine o'clock His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, accompanied by R. T. Hodgson Esq., A. D. C., and a number of citizens, left Charlottetown by special train and arrived at Georgetown shortly after eleven. His Honor was entertained at luncheon by the Hon. D. Gordon; and then, after inspecting the articles displayed in the Drill Shed and the stock shown on the Square, opened the Exhibition with a speech, in effect, as follows:—

Mr. Chairman, Commissioners, Ladies and Gentlemen:— I certainly am rather amazed at the statement that I am prepared to make some observations upon the agriculture of King's County. The fact is I was invited to come to Georgetown to open the Exhibition; and I hoped that, when doing so, I myself would have been fully informed by the Commissioners respecting the state of your agriculture.

I have, however, received no reports, and consequently, feel somewhat at a loss concerning the observations it would be proper to make. I am very glad, indeed, again to be in Georgetown among my old friends, and I may say that I always feel more at home in Georgetown, than in any other part of the Island, outside of Charlottetown. You are to be congratulated on this beautiful day. The weather has necessarily a great deal to do with the success of exhibitions. Owing to bad weather, the great exhibition in Montreal this year attended by about 25,000 persons less than last year; and the Kingston Exhibition of this year was also a partial failure on account of the weather.

Here, we are blessed with a day the most smiling and favourable; and I am pleased to observe that the labors of the husbandmen in King's County, at last, have been generally well rewarded. The crop of potatoes is excellent, and potatoes are a staple product. The specimens of grain on exhibition in the building appear to be very fair. The wheat, weighing sixty-four pounds to the bushel, is excellent. I observed also several bags of the small white bean, which, in the United States and here, forms one of the principal ingredients of that popular dish "pork and beans." Heretofore, the beans we have used have been imported; but, if we can grow them for ourselves, so much money will be saved to the land, and our farmers will have a home market for their produce. It is to be hoped that they will be successfully cultivated. The horses on the show grounds, are, some of them very fine animals, and there also some very good specimens of sheep. But my hobby, I must own, is neither horses nor sheep, but horned cattle. I believe that the prosperity of our farmers lies in the direction of improving our cattle; and I believe that dairy farming can be carried on as well here as in Ontario or almost anywhere else. It is pleasing to know that several improvements in dairy farming have recently been introduced. One of these is the Cheese Factory. There are now three cheese factories at Cornwall, at York, and at Lot 49. I myself, a few days ago, had the pleasure of tasting cheese made at the Cornwall and at the Lot 49 factories; and I have no hesitation in saying that it was equal, if not superior, to any cheese we import from Nova Scotia or the United States. Why should it not be so? The grass produced by our soil is as sweet and good as that produced by any other soil in America. What we ought to do is to exert ourselves to have well bred animals, and to have them carefully and wisely housed in winter. There should be no more of those miserable, crooked-backed cows, which are too often seen shivering in the wind on the top of the dunghill. If more interest were taken in the stable, our farmers would have more dollars in their pockets. A consequently a smaller amount goes to milk or to fat. Intelligence must now be brought to bear upon our agriculture. The time has gone by when it was considered that any land could be a farmer. Though bred to the task myself, I have always taken a great interest in farming, because I believe that it lies at the bottom of the wealth and independence of all countries. Agriculture is now making vast strides in every part of the civilized world; and in the present age the successful farmer must be an educated man—acquainted with agricultural chemistry—knowing the nature of soils—knowing whether to sow cereals or plant roots, ready to take advantage of the latest and best improvements in breeding. One of the most important improvements which has lately been introduced into our dairies, I allude to the "Creamer"—such as I see on exhibition here to-day. I speak from experience in this matter when I say that with the old fashioned milk-pans you cannot make much more than half as much butter as with the "creamers." From the same quantity of milk, nearly double the quantity of cream can be obtained—and that, too, with half the trouble. Equally profitable results will follow improvements in breeding. One of the old kind of steers takes five or six years to reach maturity, but a Durham ox is ready for the market at the age of three years; and it is evident that there must be vast profit from the latter than from the former. I regret that some of the best of the cattle on exhibition here were taken from the field before I reached it; for I should like to see for myself whether or not King's County is making progress in stock-raising. There is always a good market for cattle and sheep. I see by the statistics that no less than 650,000 head of cattle were shipped from Canada last year. The average weight of these cattle was 1,200 pounds, and supposing they were sold at only five cents per pound, they brought into Canada upwards of $3,000,000. Should not we have some of this money? Certainly we should; and we should also participate to a much greater extent than we do in the export of sheep, which, by the way, I should like to see exported direct to the mother country, instead of being sent all the way round to Quebec.

These remarks are necessarily somewhat crude and disjointed, and I ask you to take them only for what they are worth. I feel proud to be here, both as a native of the Island and as Lieutenant-Governor. My business is to declare this Exhibition open; and I now do so. (Applauds and cheers.)

The arrangements for the Exhibition were as perfect as possible. The prize-list was quickly made up and the prizes were promptly distributed. Much praise is due the Secretary, G. F. Owen, Esq., and his obliging assistants,—to whom our thanks for courtesies extended are due. The excellent state of the P. E. Island Railway was a subject of remark on the part of visitors, and Mr. Archibald, the Superintendent, received deserved praise. We learn that His Honor the Lieutenant Governor was highly pleased with the improvements lately made in what is known as "the Governor's car." Horeford's Acid Phosphate. VALUABLE MEDICINE. DR. W. H. PARMELEE, Toledo, O., says:—"I have prescribed the 'acid' in a large variety of diseases, and have been fully satisfied that it is a valuable addition to our list of medicinal agents." [Oct. 5, wkly.] TELEGRAPHIC NEWS. A Budget of Eastern News. Swords and Medals for Heroes. The Egyptian Army Organization. Arresting Notables. Special Dispatch to the Examiner. LONDON, Oct. 4. News has been received here, that the Sultan is angry over the indifference of England to the demands of the Porte. The Sultan has reminded Lord Dufferin that no answer has yet been received to the note asking when the English troops will be withdrawn from Egypt. The Sultan is surprised at this, and wonders at the vacillancy of England on the subject. Unless the British Government answer the note at once, the Sultan threatens to appeal to a general conference of European Powers. The Khedive is having medals struck for presentation to the men of the British Army who took part in the Egyptian expedition. News reaches here, that the Notables of Cairo intend to present swords of honor, on account of distinguished services, to Gen. Wolsley, Admiral Seymour, and Gen. Lowe. This mark of honor to the British commanders gives general satisfaction here. (Colonel Drury Lowe, C. B., went to Egypt in command of the cavalry with the brevet rank of brigadier-general, obtained his commission as cornet in December, 1854, arriving in the Crimea in time to help swell the depleted ranks of the light cavalry brigade. He served in the battle of the Tchernaya, and afterward won distinction in Central India under Sir Hugh Rose's command. In the Zulu campaign he commanded the seventeenth Lancers, and participated in the battles of Gingihova and Ulundi. He has the reputation of an able and brilliant cavalryman. He distinguished himself several times during the Egyptian Campaign.) Wood's and Allison's brigades compose the British army occupying Egypt. The chief stations have not yet been settled, but it is proposed that Suez, Ismailia and Port Said form the chief centres of the army of occupation. Baker Pacha is proceeding rapidly with the organization of the Egyptian gendarmes, and the force will soon be in complete working order. The sudden departure of Baker from Constantinople is the subject of much comment here, and the general opinion is that the Sultan looks upon the late proceedings of the Pacha as a direct violation of the agreement, and as an insult to Turkey. The first detachment of the Household Cavalry left Cairo yesterday en route for England. The men presented a splendid appearance as they left the city, and were enthusiastically cheered. Numerous arrests have been made at Damietta of men implicated in the late rebellion. Among the prisoners is the Chief of the Notables, a friend of Arabi, and one of the leaders of the National Party. The Phoenix Park Murderer. Westgate, the self-accused murderer of Cavendish and Burke, and who is now confined in the Spanishtown Jail, Jamaica, will not be sent to England. The English authorities place little credence in the prisoner's statements, and they have forwarded instructions to the authorities at Jamaica to do what they like with the man. Westgate will be placed on trial at Spanishtown, and his case will be settled there. CONTRADICTION. The London papers of to-day contradict the report which appeared in the Figaro concerning the attempted assassination of the Pope. France Floating into Debt. The Riots in Hungary. Special to the Examiner. PARIS, Oct. 4. Paris papers state that the country is increasing its floating debt to the amount of three hundred millions of francs. As the money is to be expended in the construction of important public works, the debt causes but little adverse comment. News has reached here, that there has been a renewed outbreak of the Anti-Jewish riots in Hungary. Many persons have been seriously injured. IRISH NEWS. A Fire Fiend—An Irish Exhibition. Special Dispatch to the Examiner. DUBLIN, Oct. 4. The house belonging to a farmer named Curry was mysteriously burned to the ground at Coleraine, Ireland, to-day. Curry was burned to death in the building. The Irish Committee appointed to enquire into the best mode of ensuring the success of an Irish Exhibition advise holding exhibitions in the United States and in England, in order to popularize Irish industries outside the borders of the country. Weather Bulletin. Probabilities for the next 24 hours for the Maritime Provinces. TORONTO, Oct. 5—10 a. m. Light to moderate winds; continued fine weather; higher temperature. JAMES SLAUBWHITE, North-West, says he was almost fatally injured by the fall of a tree. After doctors gave him up, Minard's Liniment, used externally and internally, cured him. [Oct. 5, wkly.] Cattle Shipments. The Monetary Times says that cattle shipments to Britain from Montreal continue, and it is understood that one dealer in that city has engaged all the cattle freight by the Beaver Line of steamers for the remainder of the season of navigation. Freight is quoted at 50s. to 70s. from Montreal, while they are 40s. to 50s. per ton from Boston. The Montreal shipments for last week were: Per "Nestorian" to Glasgow, 339 cattle, "Mississippi" to Liverpool, 201 cattle, 240 sheep. "Carnous" to London, 551 cattle, 600 quarters beef, and 100 carcasses mutton. The season's shipments of cattle from Montreal to Britain, up to 23rd instant, were 34,004 head of cattle and 62,915 sheep, as compared with 36,642 head of cattle and 51,624 sheep up to same date last year. The New York Star is again reminded of the wide circle of British possessions around the globe. "We hear," it says, "of rejoicing over the British victory in Egypt from Quebec to Jamaica and Vancouver, from Hong Kong to Calcutta, Bombay, and Aden, and northward to Malta, Gibraltar, and the Suez Canal, and southward to Cape Town. Verily the fame of a British soldier fills the wide world, both the dry land and the sea thereof." All of which is gratifying to "Britishers." Sixteen years ago, George T. Reynolds, a stock raiser at Griffin, Texas, was wounded in a skirmish with Indians, an arrow entering the abdomen and passing through the abdominal cavity. Such a wound is almost invariably fatal; but he pulled the shaft of the arrow out, and although the head broke off and remained in the body, he astonished everybody by recovering within ten days. A few days ago he felt pain in the back, near the spine, and a surgical operation brought to the surface the steel arrow head that had taken sixteen years to work its way through his body. It is stated that 150 tons of fresh Australian meat preserved in a frozen state arrived on August 21, and was served out shortly afterward in excellent condition to the British fleet in Alexandria. On May 1 this meat was shipped at Sydney in the steamship "Sorrento," and brought through the Suez Canal in the hottest season. In all the cargo, which was first taken to London, consisted of 402,000 pounds of beef and mutton, where the British Government bought 150 tons for the use of the sailors in Egyptian waters. This experiment has been a grand success, and it determined the sending of the "Sorrento" for another cargo. The New York correspondent of the Gazette says, with reference to the clothing business in that city that it is very lively over done. So many jobbing clothiers have started at Buffalo, Cincinnati and elsewhere that they eat into the profits of the New York houses. In one State in the South, where a few years ago about seven salesmen travelled, there are now forty from Ohio alone. This business is a very attractive one to the Hebrew element, and they almost cannot get it, but even their ability cannot make six men wear twelve coats at once. The last man will not be a shoemaker, as has been popularly believed. By the law of the survival of the fittest, he will be a tailor. Help somebody worse off than yourself, and you will find that you are better off than you fancied. "Short visits are the best," as the fly said when he alighted on the stove. Household Furniture.
