Fall Liming A Must To Combat Acid Soil By A. W. HUMPHREY, Soil Analyst P.E.I. Department of Agriculture

INTRODUCTION This column is published as a public service feature by this newspaper. Articles are being prepared by various members of the P.E.I. Department of Agriculture with the assistance of the Canada Department of Agriculture. The writer at all times will be identified. This project is an attempt to publish information of current interest on different phases of agriculture, suggestions for topics will be appreciated and can be sent to the P.E.I. Department of Agriculture, Box 2000, Charlottetown. WHY IS LIME IMPORTANT? Soils in most parts of the Maritimes are very acid to extremely acid due to the high amount of rainfall which has severely leached our soils. The acid nature of these soils limits the number of crops that can be grown successfully and also decrease the efficiency of applied commercial fertilizers. Soil acidity is therefore a major limitation to crop production, unless corrected by liming. Liming not only neutralizes the soil acids, but it also supplies calcium or calcium and magnesium to growing plants. It increases the number and activity of beneficial bacteria in the soil and speeds of the decomposition of plant residues and it increases the efficiency of applied fertilizers. FIELDS REQUIRE LIME Lime may be applied anytime during the year when it is convenient to work it into the soil. For immediate response and maximum yields, lime should be thoroughly mixed with the soil before the crop is seeded. The most efficient practices would be to plough the field, apply lime and work in, preferably in the fall in order to permit time for the lime to neutralize the soil acidity.

W.H. Horton, principal of Queen Charlotte High School was honored Wednesday night at a supper party given by the teaching staff of the school. A.W. Kennedy congratulated Mr. Horton upon receiving the degree of Master of Education from the University of New Brunswick at the fall convocation last week. Following Mr. Kennedy's address, Lynnie Aitken presented a suitable gift to Mr. Horton and Mrs. Horton was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Doris Ferguson. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. R.T. Matheson and her social committee.

BRISTOL Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McLellan, Ontario, who were here from Hamilton, Ontario, visiting Mrs. McLellan's mother at the old homestead for two weeks, left last week on return to their Ontario home along with their five children who came with them to enjoy a couple of weeks in the country. Mrs. McLellan, was Phyllis Sinnott, before marriage. Mrs. Bella Gauthier, and small daughter who spends the winters in Toronto, with members of the Gauthier family left Saturday morning for the Queen city after spending the summer months at the old Bristol home. Mrs. Gauthier said she would also spend some time in New York with another married daughter as she did last winter. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald, had taken up residence in the old Harris Arnold homestead, that has been vacant for some time. This old property has changed hands different times since Mr. Arnold died a number of years ago. Joe Gotell, has purchased the old Stewart Mosher property, in Bristol, and taken up residence there. This property and fine old home has changed hands several times and once was reported as sold for a very small sum by a man who had no use for it. There has been some talk here about the Post Office coming back to Bristol again after being closed and moved to Morrell, but we doubt if such talk will come to anything. There seems to be no one interested in being postmaster here now. Miss McKinnon, who was teacher in Bristol school last term is the teacher again this year but she is Mrs. Eldershaw this year as she was married some time ago and resides in the village of Morrell. Johnnie Gauthier, is due here this week, from Toronto for a brief stay. Mr. Gauthier is coming for a few days to help his mother get ready for the trip back with him. They will go Saturday morning by train. Some farmers were seen in the fields with a crew of potato pickers on Sunday afternoon in a last effort to save the crop that has been left late owing to weather and lack of help. Considerable grain dead ripe long ago still stands in the fields mostly because of weather and waiting for the combines to do the job. Farmers seem to be taking a beating all the time. One man said he had seven acres of spuds to dig and no help to be had at any price. With most of the roads paved now, Bristol still has what may be called "memory lane". It's the old back farm road winding from the main highway to Kane's corner and on the road is that haunted spot where Jimmie Angus MacDonald was found cut, bleeding and frozen 30 years ago in a mystery that still is not solved. There are many stories of ghosts and spirits of the past being seen in this old road and few care to travel it at night, even horses balk at the section where a pack peddler is reported to have been killed and buried in the swamp long ago. A story on the old spot is to be written in the not too distant future. Stannis Lapierre, who is well along in the twilight years had the misfortune to fall in the bath room recently and has been removed to Charlottetown Hospital for a check up. Mr. and Mrs. Ted McEwen, have moved to the city to reside for the winter at least, where they are both employed and their daughter has joined the grade eight class at Notre Dame convent for the balance of the term. John O'Neill, who underwent much surgery in the hospital in the past couple of years has finally regained his better health and we are happy to learn. With the election day coming along and no sign of the British post office coming back to this district it looks as if it was gone forever like the old station where the mail bags were tossed off for so many years.

NOTICES NOTICES C. B. Car Plant Said Assured SYDNEY (CP) — The Cape Breton Post says a plant to assemble Japanese autos will be built at nearby Point Edward, but there may be some question as to who will operate it. The newspaper says Canadian Motors Industries Ltd., is awaiting the go-ahead from the provincial industry development agency, Industrial Estates Ltd. Two members of IEL are currently in Japan ironing out final details. It is possible that the Japanese firm which will provide the parts will take over the operation in Cape Breton," the paper said. This was a question for Industrial Estates to decide, it adds. Last Friday IEL President Frank H. Sobey denied reports that the plant would not be established at Point Edward. He said negotiations were going ahead for the proposed plant. When it was first announced last March the value was estimated at $4,000,000. MIKE BRINGS ORDER NORWICH, England (CP)—The number of false alarms turned in here has dropped by 75 per cent in two years. The drop followed installation of a tape recorder to record the voices of everyone giving the alarm.
