From The Columns of The Times, London.

PROPHECY AND FULFILLMENT

Time was when the fulfillment of Israel's religion as he knew it, prophecy was regarded as one of the major arguments in Christian apologetics. Prophecy, on this view, was largely identified with prediction. The chapter headings in old copies of the Authorized Version show how far this could be carried, so that some of the psalms were attached to events in the life of Christ, and a number of prophecies were interpreted as forecasting the history of the Church.

Historical study of the Bible has made it impossible to maintain such a position any longer. It is now seen that the prophets were so great because they spoke the word of God to their own generation in its bearing upon the situations by which it was confronted. Their message was to the present, and not to generations to come.

The Christian should be more concerned with the spiritual message of the prophet than with those rare occasions on which he was able to anticipate the future. Even when the former rather mechanical view of the relation between Old Testament and New Testament had perforce been abandoned, a connexion remains and has to be accounted for.

Especially at two points does it seem too close to be explained away due merely to chance. Jeremiah in his prophecy of the New Covenant anticipated a fresh disclosure of God's will to men—in mercy rather than in command—which should take the place of Israel's religion as he knew it. Second Isaiah speaks of the servant of the Lord whose mission is to the nations, and who wins men by dying at their hands. Each of these prophecies has been taken up into the New Testament, and it is not possible for a Christian to read them without seeing in them a preparation for Christ. How then are they to be related to him? Perhaps it would be best to interpret the connexion between prophecy and fulfilment as parallel to that between man's prayer and God's answer. These two prophets were men who entered deeply into their time in sympathy, and into the purpose of God in prayer and dedication.

They saw what was required if the human needs to which they were so sensitive were ever to be satisfied, and they knew enough of the heart of God to discern dimly what He would do in His own time. Therefore they offered to him their intercession for their fellows, and their own yearning for the deliverance which he alone could achieve.

If only God would lead men into a fuller and more gracious revelation! If only one might come who would suffer as so many prophets had suffered and prevail as no prophet had prevailed! These were the prayers that men of God offered to Him, and Christ came as the answer to them and was crucified at Calvary, rising again from the dead at Easter.

Easter At P.J.'s

Several carcasses of the finest beef in the city will be on display at our store for Easter.

We purchased two carcasses from Mr. R. H. Roberts, and one carcass Baby Beef and one carcass of Steer Beef from Drake Bros., Millview. Other exhibits in our Easter display are well up to the standard of previous years.

In addition to our Easter Beef we also have on hand all the goods to make your Easter feast one of the most enjoyable on record. Let us help make your selection from our well stocked store. Here you will find prices comparable to any in the city and we cordially invite your inspection.

For high class groceries, meats, vegetables, etc., call or phone P. J. MacDonald, corner Prince and Kent Streets, 888 or 889.

Shop For Your Easter Dinner At Andrew's Grocery

If it's Easter beef, bacon, hams or Cottage Rolls you want—or for that matter anything for the Easter dinner—visit Andrew's Grocery, Meat and Fish Market, Elm Avenue.

Plenty of baby beef and steer carcasses are on hand for the Easter shoppers. The public is cordially invited to visit the store up to noon Good Friday and see this outstanding display.

In addition to the Easter beef the various other commodities that go to make up a well-stocked store are on display and you can complete your Easter menu here from the varied assortment of groceries that are on hand, all at reduced prices.

You will receive prompt, courteous service from clerks who will fill your every need for the Easter table.

The meat is the finest obtainable and here you will find all baby beef, each carcass weighing from 450 to 500 lbs. dressed. This meat is supplied by Wilbur Younker, Kingston, and Hammond Saunders, Mulque Road.

Try Andrew's Grocery, 38 Elm Avenue, for your Easter supplies—Phone 2995 or 2997.

Indian Reserve in Sask. Flooded

ST. LOUIS, Sask., April 9 — (CP) — More than 100 persons have been evacuated from their flooded homes on the John Smith Indian Reserve near this community 80 miles northeast of Saskatoon.

Cordwood, stocks of flour and seed supplies for spring planting were lost as the families moved out of reach of the flooding South Saskatchewan River. Livestock and farm machinery was moved to high ground earlier.

Two schools in the reserve are partly awash, and a church is threatened. This would help boys at an early age to choose their future careers.

EASTER BEEF

AT THE NORWOOD

We have a fine display of Easter Beef fed by Mr. Lloyd Vessey, York, at regular prices; also your needs in Groceries.

It will pay you to shop at THE NORWOOD on the St. Peters Highway.

VERNON DENNIS

Mrs. Louis V. Goldie, home baker of Gagetown, N.B., is an enthusiastic user of Fleischmann's Yeast.

Scores with Home Baking at 1951 Queen's County Fair

Queen's County, N.B., boasts some of the top Maritime home bakers, and competition at the Gagetown fair is mighty keen. So when Mrs. Louis Goldie's bread scores a first prize for the second year running, it's evident she's well up on the finer points of bread-making. Speaking of her success, Mrs. Goldie emphasizes that your first step is to choose the right ingredients—particularly yeast. "Your yeast must have plenty of pep—and that's why I recommend Fleischmann's Yeast," says Mrs. Goldie. "With Fleischmann's my doughs always rise light and my finished baking is tender and digestible." Yes, it's results that have made Fleischmann's Yeast the choice of prize-winning cooks—and the favorite of 3 out of 4 Canadian women.

Queen Street Market Offers Choice Beef

The many customers of the Queen Street Meat Market will be pleased with the display of Easter beef this year. As in the past, the meat is of the choicest and is bound to please even the most fastidious. It will be on display for inspection Good Friday morning and customers, both old and new, are invited to come in and look it over.

The choice beef which makes up this year's Easter display includes, one carcass from the Charlottetown Fat Stock Show and fed by Dan Jewell; one Baby Beef from the Amherst Fat Stock Show and three carcasses from local suppliers.

All the sundry merchandise that go to make up a first class Easter menu may be purchased from the well-stocked shelves of this store, included in the lot being hams, vegetables, canned goods, etc. Make it a point to visit the Queen Street Meat Market Good Friday morning.

J. M.'s Display High Quality Easter Beef

"The best display of Easter-beef ever", is the way to describe the top quality beef this season at J. M.'s Meat Market located in the City Market Building.

The display more than lives-up to the enviable reputation established by this well known firm in past years. Customers of J. M.'s would be well advised to get their orders in early for Easter beef.

Many of the carcasses in this really outstanding display of beef are from animals which were winners in the recently held Fat Stock Show and Sale here. They were purchased through Wellington MacNeill.

Included in the display are, one heifer from Alex MacBeth and Sons, Marshfield; a heifer and steer from Otis MacLeod and son, Uggie; a steer and heifer from Norman MacMillan, Albany Plains; a heifer and steer from Charles Mutch, Earnsccliffe; one steer from W. Calbeck, Crapaud; a steer from Thomas Devereaux, New Haven; a steer from Jas. Evans, Irishtown, and another steer from

OUTSTANDING DISPLAY OF EASTER BEEF AT THOMAS H. MILLS

The Thos. H. Mills' Meat Market, located at 137 Hillsboro Street, is one of the oldest established firms in the city. Its history dates over 100 years. Holding to custom set down through the years, Mr. Frank Mills, proprietor, has again this Easter season another outstanding display of Easter beef. Patrons of this well known firm are cordially invited to inspect the display Good Friday morning.

It is some 40 years since the establishment became known as the Thos. H. Mills' Meat Market and the years of experience are a guarantee of satisfaction to the customer.

Dressed by Mr. Frank Mills, who has had over 20 years of experience in the meat cutting business, and assisted by Mr. Charles Jackson the selection this year of Easter beef is up to the usual high standard.

Included in the display are three heifers weighing 850, 950, and 990 lbs. respectively, fed by Chester Dover, Glasgow Road, and sold through R. H. Roberts, Winsloe Road.

Ham and bacon from Swift Canadian, together with canned goods and a full assortment of vegetables are also to be found here. One would be well advised to give Mills' Meat Market a call before coming to a final decision on where to purchase your Easter feast needs. The phone number is 334. Deliveries will be made.
