

Ch'town Rural Teachers Hold Fall Convention

The Charlottetown rural teachers are holding their annual fall convention at P. W. C. auditorium on Friday, Sept. 4-5. At Thursday session on Thursday morning, the secretary, Miss Patricia MacNeil, read the minutes of the last fall convention. The president, Miss Jean Rayner welcomed the teachers especially the beginning teachers whom she encouraged by remarks on the rewards of teaching.

Mr. Claude Ward gave a report on the activities of the P. E. I. T. P. during the past year. Following Mr. Ward's report a discussion was held concerning Education Week. It was decided due to poor travelling conditions during March that Education Week should be held during November.

Mr. Gordon Rice, Supervisor of school unit No. 1, in his report stressed that at conventions more teachers should take part in discussions rather than listen to speeches by officials. He reported good results in school unit No. 1 each school having excellent teachers.

Mr. R. W. Ross supervisor of Inspectorate No. 4 urged teachers to send in reports promptly. He also outlined the duties of Supervisors. The new members appointed to the Board of Governors are Mr. Frank Costello, Mr. Condon, Miss Deane, Mrs. Dover and Miss Erna Cole.

At the afternoon session a demonstration was given by Mrs. Hynes in her remarks she said that the main object of teaching language is to have the children express themselves fluently.

Mr. M. MacKenzie, chief Supervisor of P. E. I. commented on the program of Studies, with special mention as to the new text books. Grants for school improvement are still available.

The assembly of teachers then was divided into smaller groups to discuss teaching methods.

Miss B. Martin then gave a demonstration on the teaching of arithmetic. She gave teachers numerous ideas in arithmetic to gain the interest of primary pupils.

The president reminded teachers to pass in questions for the question box on Friday morning when the next session will be held.

Need For Association Of Turnip Growers Suggested

"It has been said we have a limited market for turnips, but that is so," said Mr. R. E. Robinson, Chief Inspector of Agriculture, Service, Ottawa, in an address before an assembly of producers, shippers and buyers, in the Prince of Wales College hall yesterday.

"We have a competitive market, however, which calls for a selective quality of product, more than ever before," Mr. Robinson added. "It is the policy and desire of the Department I represent to help in every way to achieve that end. We know full well however, that a meeting of this kind can give the Department direction and prove most helpful in many ways."

Many other interested growers, dealers and shippers took part in the discussion, all of whom expressed appreciation at what is being done, and with the information developed at the meeting.

Inspector Ralph B. Lea explained that the drift of females when they emerged from the ground, was towards the nearest turnip field, with a definite tendency, however, to follow the prevailing wind. They lay eggs up to October 20th.

Many other interested growers, dealers and shippers took part in the discussion, all of whom expressed appreciation at what is being done, and with the information developed at the meeting.

Others from the matter; and I assure you that when either of the other two succeed in developing something worth while, we shall hear about it at once and release the information, just as we do with our associates, as we progress in our search, for a remedy.

Say's Gov't May Consider Changes In Beef Support

WINNIPEG, Sept. 4 — (CP) — Western agricultural sources said today the Federal Government may consider changes in the present beef support price program.

This was indicated following a lengthy conference here late yesterday attended by Agriculture Minister Gardiner and Manitoba agriculture and livestock officials. Although no official statement was forthcoming from the closed session, there was general agreement the present policy needed bolstering if it were to prove effective during the heavy fall marketing months.

Mr. Gardiner said the present program will remain in effect until Sept. 30 "at least," and if any changes are to be made these will be announced within "two or three weeks."

In an interview following the meeting, Mr. Gardiner said: "Shipments of Canadian beef to Britain will not be resumed until 'about the end of October.'"

2. Government purchases of surplus beef will be continued after the Canada-United Kingdom beef contract has been filled.

3. Canada is examining the prospect of selling beef in one form or another to countries other than the U. K.

4. It is unlikely that talks leading to the removal of the present U. S. beef embargo will be resumed in earnest until after the U. S. elections in November.

Enjoyed Island Cheese

During the enjoyable stay with the Chief Justice it was noticed that one of the greatest attractions was the cheese tray. Numberless guests inquired as to the type of cheese provided and where it might be obtained. Their opinion of this Province obviously rose when they learned that their prize morsel was described as "Old Island cheese."

When the visit to Stanley Bridge ended the delegates resumed their road journey to Stanhope where they were the guests of the Provincial Legislature at dinner last night. They leave here this morning by train to continue their visit to the various parts of Canada. The tour will last until the first week in October.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our daughter Goldie Elizabeth who passed away one year ago.

The days slip past, we ponder and we yearn To see her loving smile, we yet shall learn That God's true wisdom never makes mistakes, The physical in all that love forsakes She leaves a vacancy we cannot fill So mystical yet real, like a sunshine o'er a hill Whose dying colors blend in beauty rare So blended in our hearts, her love we share.

Lovingly remembered by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carver, Charlottetown.

Lord Lewellin

Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M.P., acted as chairman at last night's function, and expressed the hope that the visiting delegates had enjoyed their short stay in this Province. He recalled his visit to Australia and New Zealand two years ago and said he was grateful for the opportunity now to return in some measure the splendid hospitality which had been shown him on that occasion.

Premier's Remarks

Premier J. Walter Jones gave a brief resume of the history of the Province, tracing its development from early times.

It was the fisheries, the Premier emphasized, which first brought people to this Island, and much of its early history had to do with the fortunes of men like Pierre de Roma whose success induced the envy of the people of Boston who burned him out at Brudenell. It is in the fisheries that much of the hope lies for future prosperity. In this connection the Premier spoke of the new draggers and said that what was needed is more investment capital.

"In agriculture our farmers are always on top in quality production," Premier Jones continued. "They have been held down chiefly because of lack of transportation to markets that should be served by trucks." He said it was amazing to see the response of Island farmers to the Government's request for first quality products to supply the markets close at hand.

He expressed his pleasure at the delegation of the Commonwealth delegates to include this Province in their itinerary, "for Canada, like all great civilizations, has arisen at the seashore."

MARGATE, Kent, England, Sept. 9 — (Reuters) — A United States air force F-84 jet fighter crashed into the sea 10 miles off the English south coast today. Rescue boats left harbor here in hopes of finding the pilot alive.

Throne. He later remarked that his country this autumn is celebrating its 300th anniversary and noted the changes which have taken place in that time. The first speaker of the Assembly there was a white man from England. Today, Mr. Husband, who is colored, stated that there were only three white men in the Assembly.

At Government House

When the motorcade of 15 autos moved off from the Provincial Building it drove to Government House where His Honor Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse and Mrs. Prowse accorded the delegates such a warm welcome that several were later heard to remark on the "wonderful hospitality" of the people here.

Visit To Summerside

In the Western Capital the group visited the Fox Station where they displayed a lively interest. Greeted by Dr. C. K. Gunn, head of the station, they were told by him that at this season the foxes they saw were not in the best of condition, but that three months hence they would be prime. However, the delegates appeared greatly impressed with the gradations of color of the foxes and were particularly interested in the young foxes as they went through the various sheds where they are penned.

Leaving Summerside a 20-mile motor drive took them to the beautiful summer home of Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell at Stanley Bridge. The rustic appearance of the large, rambling home with its panelled inside walls and beamed ceiling delighted every guest. Outside, the terraced lawns, lovely flowers and perfectly selected shrubbery elicited praise from all.

Several visitors took advantage of the invitation to bathe in the warm waters of the fronting river and enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Showed Keen Interest

At Bunbury Farm all the delegates were greatly impressed by the international records of the champion cow, Abegweit Milady, and everyone in the party who had a camera took pictures of her. Particularly interested in her and in the prize bull, Abegweit Prxy, was Hon. A. Casley-Hayford, Minister of Agriculture and Natural Resources, of the Gold Coast, Africa.

On leaving the cattle farm the delegates visited the milk farm operated by Mr. B. B. (Bus) Jones, son of the Premier. The tiny animals, destined for expensive fur coats, excited the interest of everyone. Mr. Jones was asked numerous questions regarding feeding, breeding and care of the milk.
