LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL ELECTION.

Liberal-Conservative Candidate for Charlottetown,

HENRY LONGWORTH, ESQ.

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 28, 1878.

A Great Triumph.

THE greatest triumph achieved by Sir John McDonald in the formation of his Cabinet has been the union of such men as McKenzie Bowell and M. Langevin. The former is a representative Orangeman; the latter a representative Ultramontane. Yet they are to-day both working harmoniously together for the common good of their common country.

Differences of religion and of race are sunk or ignored, and duty to united Canada is the motive for united action. This is as it should be. In the Government of the country no man should be known either as Protestant or Catholic, Orangeman or Jesuit. The fitness of the men has been the chief consideration with Sir John McDonald. Their religious differences he has properly and happily ignored. Good.

Americans Honored.

FROM the New York Herald we clip the following list of United States citizens who were admitted to the Order of the Legion of Honor on the occasion of the distribution of prizes at the Paris Exposition :—

Richard C. McCormick, Commander General, commander.
Fred'k A. P. Barnard, President of Columbia College, officer.
Andrew D. White, President of Cornell University, officer.
Prof. Wm. P. Blake, chevalier.
Mr. Edw. H. Knight, chevalier.
Wm. W. Story, chevalier.

A number of exhibitors were also decorated. Of these were :—

Chas. Tiffany, silverware.
Thos. A. Edison, phonograph.
Elisha Gray, telephone.
Brewster & Co., carriages.
J. A. Bridgman, artist.
Cyrus H. McCormick, of Chicago, and Walter A. Wood, who were decorated as chevaliers in 1867, were made "officers."

The following, attached to the American Commission, were also made chevaliers :—

A. H. Girard, Foreign Secretary.
Henry Pettit, architect.
Homer Pickering, Superintendent of Machinery.
John D. Philbrick, Superintendent of the Educational Section.
D. M. Armstrong, Superintendent of the Art Gallery.
Lieutenant B. H. Buckingham, Naval Attache.

Souris Notes.

SOUIS EAST, Oct. 26.

Steamer "Albert" called here last evening on her way from Magdalen Islands. She reports a heavy storm there on Wednesday and Thursday, but no wrecks.

Potato trade very brisk here; from ten to twelve thousand bushels stored for sale or shipment. Price: Blues, thirty cents; Roses scarce. Oats thirty cents—no demand.

A few small schooners only in port.

Codfish plenty on North Side, but mackrel fishing over for the season.

The new station nearly completed; and the line to be moved on to the new track about the 15th November. A large number of men engaged and proceeding vigorously with the heavy cutting to the new wharf, which is being pushed forward rapidly. The change in the location of the line will be a great advantage to the people of this place.

Y. M. C. Association Convention at New Glasgow, N. S.

Delegates from a large number of Maritime Associations assembled in Mchanics' Hall, New Glasgow, on Thursday afternoon. The Convention organized as follows :—

John E. Irvine, St. John, President; T. S. Whitman, Amherst; Sheriff Freeman, Liverpool; W. Whittaker, Chatham; John Stewart, New Glasgow; J. Eckersly, Richmond; J. Scott, Charlottetown; C. Primrose, Pictou, Vice Presidents. W. McNutt and S. Scott, Secretaries. The welcome meeting came off successfully in the United Presbyterian Church in the evening. Mr. Fraser, Town Warden, welcomed the Convention to the place, and Mr. J. E. Irvine replied. Rev. Mr. McCurdy, for the clergy, also welcomed the delegates. Sheriff Freeman replied. There were other addresses, besides singing, prayer, etc. At the business meeting on Friday favorable reports of the work in their respective places were made by delegates from Annapolis, Antigonish, Alma, Bridgetown, Acadia Mines and Brookfield; also by Mr. McNutt, of Campbellton, and Mr. Whittaker, of Chatham. Other reports were deferred. The third topic for discussion was: "Temperance—What can our Association do to further the good cause?" was opened by Rev. E. A. McCurdy, of New Glasgow, Mr. John Ackerson, Rev. Geo. Miles, Mr. Scott, of Charlottetown, Mr. Scott, of Truro, and Sheriff Freeman participating.

IT is now stated that Lord Dufferin will assume the leadership of the Liberal Opposition in the House of Lords on his return to England.

Belfast Partial Election.

Pursuant to notice, a large and influential meeting of the electors of the southern end of the Belfast District, was held in the Belle Creek School House, to nominate a man to fill the vacancy in the House of Assembly caused by the resignation of J. F. Robertson, Esq. Mr. Simon Compton was appointed Chairman, and the undersigned Secretary.

Alex. Martin, Esq., having been put in nomination, declined contesting the District.

Speeches were made on both sides, and the acts of the present Government ventilated — the feeling running strongly against the Government.

Angus D. McMillan, Esq., was then put in nomination on motion of A. W. Cooke, Esq., seconded by John Beaton, Esq. The nomination was supported by Messrs. Alex. Martin, Duncan Crawford, Malcolm McMillan, John McGregor, and Malcolm N. McMillan. On motion being put, it was carried unanimously.

Three hearty cheers were given for the people's nominee; and the proceedings were ordered to be sent for publication to the Presbyterian, Argus, and DAILY EXAMINER newspapers.

M. MARTIN, Sec'y.

Belle Creek, Oct. 25, 1878.

Trade of Ireland.

Irish trade returns show a remarkable falling off lately in the number of head of live stock sent to Great Britain. The exports from the port of Dublin in 1876 were 56,679 cattle, 111,082 sheep, and 8,771 pigs; in 1877, 50,772 cattle, 105,154 sheep, and 9,652 pigs; in 1878, 44,957 cattle, 85,147 sheep, and 7,322 pigs; a decrease of 12,000 head of cattle, 26,000 sheep, and 2,000 pigs. Competition from this side of the Atlantic is beginning to be severely felt. The Dublin Express says: "The increase in the imports of live stock into Liverpool from across the Atlantic within the last three months is causing more uneasiness to Irish cattle dealers than the imports of dead meat which preceded them."

A Court at Ottawa.

Some persons have been anxious to know whether or not there would be a court at Ottawa. Why, there has always been a court there since it was the residence of the Governor-General. We have a court in Toronto and a court wherever a Lieutenant Governor resides. We are, in fact, more richly endowed with Courts in the Dominion than they are in the three kingdoms, where there only two courts. A gentleman who visited England lately is anxious that we should put the public in possession of the following :—He asked the Lord Chamberlain a series of questions, some of which were hardly necessary, because the etiquette in the points was well known. He elicited the following information: that a lady visiting H. R. H. the Princess of Wales at H. R. H. private receptions should appear with glove off the right hand; a gentleman ditto. The same rule to be adhered to at any reception of H. R. H. the Marchioness of Lorne. When any of the Royal Family hold a reception in which they represent Royalty, the same rule. The court courtsey is made to all the Royal Family at Court, but not at private receptions, the rule in these cases being to bow and pass on. Our correspondent infers "that when H. R. H. the Princess Lousia attends the Governor General at the opening of Parliament, that reception being reprefentative, every guest sheuld appear with one glove off, make a bow to both their Excellencies, and pass on."—Mail.

President McMahon on the Triumphs of France.

BEFORE distributing the prizes at the Paris Exposition, President McMahon said :—

"When the government of the Republic convened the savans, artists and mechanics of all nations to meet in our capital, France was just emerging from a period of painful strife, and her industry had not escaped the force of that vast commercial crisis which depressed business throughout the globe. Yet the exhibition of 1878 has equalled, if not surpassed, its predecessors. Let us thank God, who, to console our country, has permitted that this great and peaceful glory should be reserved for it. We may declare these happy results with profound satisfaction, because in our idea the success of the International Exhibition redounds to the honor of France. But it does not become us simply to encourage art and exhibit the improvements made with regard to the various means of production. We have been able, in a most earnest and convincing manner, to demonstrate that seven years passed in reflection and devoted to labor have sufficed to repair the most terrible disasters that ever befell a nation. The world has witnessed the strength of our credit, the abundance of our resources, the peace and quiet of our cities, the content of our populations, the instruction and good discipline of our army, as now reconstructed, testifying to an organization which I am convinced will be fecund and durable.

"Our national ambition has not been arrested by disaster. If we have become farseeing, prudent and more laborious we shall become still more so, and, in memory of our misfortunes, maintain and develop among us the spirit of concord, absolute respect for our institutions and laws, and ardent and disinterested love of country."

T. DEWITT TALMAGE, preaching on the haunts of iniquity at Brooklyn last Sunday, delivered himself thus :—

"Sirs, before I get through with this course of Sabbath morning sermons, by the help of the eternal God, I will save ten thousand men? And, in the execution of this mission I defy all earth and hell."

Correspondence.

☞ We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements or opinions of our correspondents

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—Ignorance, prejudice and empty conceit have always been base barriers to the progress and best interests of our race. The recent movements in connection with the Victoria Park are proofs positive of this aphorism. It is but a short time ago that the Park was fast assuming the shape and appearance of an agreeable resort for the citizens of Charlottetown. Mr. Henry Curtis, the late Keeper, was eminently instrumental in transforming the Park from being an unsightly jungle to its present promising appearance. But some discordant and retrogessive spirit must have alighted in the midst of our City Fathers, and is vitiating their tastes and warping their judgments in matters relating to our new Park. In common with hundreds of our fellow-citizens, the writer of these lines intensely deprecates and regrets the change that has been made in relation to the Keepership of Victoria Park. It was ill-conceived and ill-timed, which the future will amply prove. The effervescing spirit here referred to, wherever he is, will certainly entail discredit on the City Council, if that honorable body listen to many more of his hard breathings, in matters of which he has no knowledge whatever. Can anybody pretending to the slightest knowledge of what a public park should be and how it should be superintended, for one moment believe that the newly appointed incumbent is as eligible for that position as is the late Keeper. With Gordon no one wishes to quarrel. But it is well known that he is as far below Mr. Curtis in the knowledge and experience of laying out a park and superintending it, as Joe Hogan is below Lord Beaconsfield in statesmanship and diplomacy.

The great mass of the City Taxpayers understand not why Curtis has been dismissed; but a few of the knowing ones do. If these divulge the secret, it will add no lustre to the glory of some recently elected Councillors.

Last year Mr. Curtis refused to carry a ladder on his back and light the Brighton Road Lamps. The Councillors of that time saw that the demand was unreasonable, and, therefore, relinquished it. It was not to be expected that the Keeper would, this year, consent to do a duty which he could not perform last year. It may not be known to the citizens generally, that Curtis left a pay of $2 per day to serve the city authorities at $1 per day for the year. Not long since he had an offer of being hired by the year at a pay of $2 per day, but would not break faith with the City by retiring in the middle of an engagement. Did all of the City Fathers so keep faith with him? It will be to the credit of the City Council to reconsider the whole matter. By inserting the above, Mr. Editor, you will oblige some hundreds of taxpayers, together with your humble servant.

Yours, &c.,

A CITIZEN.

Cardinal Cullen.

A distinguished Irishman has passed away in the person of Cardinal Cullen. Born in Ireland in 1803, he went to Rome at an early age, and entered the service of the Church. During the thirty years that he remained in Rome he acquired a wide reputation for his learning, and filled many important posts, including that of Rector of the Irish College. In 1850 he succeeded Dr. Crolly as Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of all Ireland, and in 1852 he was removed to Dublin, taking the place of the deceased Dr. Murray. Eleven years ago he was proclaimed Cardinal, being the first Irish Bishop advanced to that dignity since the time of the Reformation. Cardinal Cullen took a deep interest in educational matters, and his voice and pen were ceaselessly used to promote the welfare and happiness of his people. Devoted alike to the interests of his country and of his Church, he endeavored to make the welfare of both go hand in hand. He sought to ameliorate the condition of Ireland by means of religion; and his labors to prevent the success of Fenianism and the other "isms" which sought to advance faction at the expense of country have made his religious labors really patriotic ones. It is true that his feelings are supposed to have been the national feelings of Ireland, but he saw no hope for the country at the hands of those miscalled patriots, whose policy was alike self-seeking and irrational.—St. John Globe.

Russian Opinion.

Russian journals say, in reference to the impending Afghan war, that as England loaned officers to Turkey to organize and command fleets and armies against Russia, she can now return the compliment by loaning Shere Ali officers to teach his troops how to operate against England. A further evidence, however, of the designs of the Muscovite, is found in the gigantic efforts he is making to prepare a fleet to prey upon British commerce, when that war between the two powers, which everybody knows is inevitable, is declared. We see it stated in American papers that—"The three Russian cruisers that have been in process of construction at Philadelphia for the past six months are so near completion that but little remains to be done to put them in readiness for sea. Their names are the 'Europe,' 'Asia' and 'Africa.' All of them will be ready for delivery in a month's time. The 'Europe' was formerly the 'State of California,' and the 'Asia' was originally the Columbus,' so that in fact they are not new vessels, but old ones reconstructed. Nevertheless, they are an important addition to the Czar's navy; and as they have been constructed with special reference to their sailing qualities, in case of war no doubt they could perform, as cruisers, important service."
