CONTRACT BRIDGE By B. JAY BECKER FAMOUS HANDS West dealer. Both sides vulnerable. NORTH ♠ A 4 4 3 ♥ 3 ♦ A 4 4 ♣ A Q 6 4 2 EAST ♠ J 10 8 6 ♥ 10 9 7 6 ♦ K Q 10 3 ♣ J 10 9 3 SOUTH ♠ A Q 9 7 2 ♥ 8 5 ♦ 7 ♣ K 8 5

Opening lead—king of hearts. This hand, reported in the Bridge World magazine by Karl Righter, of Buffalo, presents some interesting points. The bidding was impossible. South's bids may perhaps be better understood in the light of his knowledge that North was a confirmed overbidder, as evidenced by North's jump to four spades opposite a forced response. But even so, we think South's first response should have been two spades, to show a good hand, rather than the later jump to six spades over four to make up for the previous underbid. East's double was from hunger.

Copper Is Shipped To Japan Because Of Determined Man

VANCOUVER (CP) — A shipment of 3,000 tons of copper concentrates will be loaded this weekend at Cowichan on Vancouver Island for Japan, marking another step in the success story of Oswald G. (Ozzie) MacDonald. Mr. MacDonald, president of Cowichan Copper Company, is a rugged individualist. He has often flouted conventional promotion procedures to guard his own interests and those of his shareholders, and it has been said by his competitors that he could fall into a gravel pit and come out smelling of attar of copper. In the last year, Cowichan Copper has shipped 8,000 tons of copper concentrates to Japan, grossing $1,125,000. It wouldn't have been done without Mr. MacDonald's determination. ASK EXTENSION Two years ago, an eastern mining company that had heavy investments in Cowichan asked for an extension of a $500,000 option because things were tough in copper mining. Mr. MacDonald said no. He and his directors decided to go it alone. They shipped development ore to Tacoma, Wash., to finance start-up costs. About a year ago, after a mill had been installed on the Cowichan property, Mr. MacDonald announced a multi-million-dollar deal to ship copper concentrates to Japan. The Japanese helped finance Cowichan's pre-production expenses and construction of a dock. Mr. MacDonald now has just returned from a tour of mines, smelters and production facilities in Japan and says he has a promise from Japanese backers to pour $1,000,000 into development of further Cowichan copper properties. STARTED AS A YOUTH Mr. MacDonald, 49, got into mining originally when he was 16, spending summers away from the University of Manitoba working in Manitoba mines. When he graduated, he remained in the mining industry, working in various capacities ranging from assayer to accountant. He obtained a lease to a gold property in Manitoba during the Second World War, but it burned down before he was able to get it going, and he could not get permission to rebuild it. This sent him into the wholesale plumbing-supply business in Vancouver four years. A weekend prospector, he spent his evenings pouring through a library of books on the mining industry. In 1950, he began developing the Cowichan copper operation.

Management Development Said Necessity, Group Told

MONCTON — A Moncton gathering was told Thursday night that management development has become a necessity. J. U. Gallant of Moncton said this was so "not only because top managements have been allowed to become old as a result of depression and war, but because the modern business enterprise has become a basic institution of our society." Canadian National Railways personnel assistant in the vice-president and general manager's office here, Mr. Gallant addressed the annual meeting of the New Brunswick chapter of the Public Personnel Association. Noting that the CNR had always placed "great emphasis" on training, Mr. Gallant said: "The finding, developing and proving out of leaders of tomorrow is an essential job to which the best men must give fully of their time and attention. The vision and performance of today's managers must be focused and directed to develop those who will manage tomorrow. No one can develop himself unless he works on the development of others." Mr. Gallant said that if the prosperity and survival of any business depend on the performance of its management of tomorrow, it should no longer be necessary to debate whether management development is a "luxury" which only big companies can indulge in during boom times.
