

OLD LEGION HOME BEING DEMOLISHED

The former home of the Royal Canadian Legion's Charlotteville Branch is fast being demolished to make way for more parking in downtown area. The legion opened its new home on Powell Street less than a month ago, and the former building on Grant Street was sold to the Pat- thers of Confederation Memorial Foundation to be used as vacant lots to make a large parking lot in the centre of the city.

Stanhope Ass'n Is Planning Golf and Fishing Facilities

The establishment of an artificial lake for fishing, and a golf course in the Stanhope area was discussed this week at the annual meeting of the Stanhope Beach Development Association held at Greer's Hotel, with president Wilson Ross presiding. The meeting was told that the fishing pond could be established at "very nominal cost" in the vicinity of MacDonnell's poultry farm. It would enhance the beauty of the area and provide an extensive area for fishing. Land has already been provided.

Atlantic Young PCs Meeting In St. John's

The Atlantic Provinces Young Progressive Conservative Association will meet this weekend in St. John's, Nfld. The sessions will get underway Friday night and end late Sunday afternoon. A delegation from the Island will include, Arthur McInnis, association of school superintendents and inspectors, to represent that body on the board of directors of the Canadian Education Association.

Charlotteville provincial president of the Y.P.C., Urban Laughlin, Summerside, past president, James Lea, Charlottetown, president of the Queens County Association, Keith Macquarrie, M.P., and the Hon. Hubert McNeill, provincial minister of health, who will represent Premier Walter S. Howe. He will be accompanied by Mrs. McNeill. It is expected other delegates will attend.

The Island representatives will link-up with the Nova Scotia delegates and fly by TCA charter flight to the Newfoundland capital.

Among those attending from Ottawa will be Marcel Bureau, executive secretary of the Y.P.C. of Canada, and Richard Thresher, national secretary of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada.

It is expected the meeting will devote a considerable period to panel discussion. Guest speaker at the noon luncheon on Saturday will be Heath Macquarrie.

The Rt. Hon. John G. Diefenbaker will be the principal speaker at the Newfoundland Hotel Saturday evening. Arthur McInnis will preside.

The conference marks the first time since Newfoundland entered confederation that such a gathering has been held in St. John's.

The Island delegation is due back Monday.

She told of the fine co-operation the school had always received from the Home and School Association and looked forward to another successful year.
