MARKET QUOTATIONS

SUMMARY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto: Market irregular lightest trading in four years.

New York: Market higher; aircrafts improved.

Montreal: Market irregularly lower in draggy trading.

TORONTO

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market Monday dragged itself through the slowest session in more than four years as prices moved in an extremley narrow range in no particular direction.

Brokers said the main reason behind the dull trading was the fact that all banks and several other financial houses were closed for observance of Remembrance Day. Wall Street experienced a similar situation.

Senior base metals were mixed in a fractional range. Lower-priced mines, including uraniums and golds, had few changes of more than 10 cents. Gains balanced losses.

Wesetrn oils were thoroughly mixed. Security, Bailey Selburn and Home Oil A had moderate losses while North Canadias Oils, Merrill, Canadian Devonian and Consolidated West Pete recorded moderate gains.

Index changes: industrials up .79 to 405.47; golds off .09 to 70.03; base metals up .11 to 155.87; western oils off .03 to 132.28.

Britain-U. S. Are Closer Now Than For Many A Month

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Britain and the United States appear to be ready to hang together in their Middle East policies after hanging separately for the last year.

There is a noticable change in atmosphere in the current talks between Prime Minister Macmillan and President Eisenhower from the constraint that heralded their talks in Bermuda last April.

At that time there was an uncomfortable feeling among Britons that Macmillan, heir of Sir Anthony Eden's intervention in Suez, was approaching Eisenhower in the role of the erring schoolboy trying to butter up the headmaster.

American spokesmen had been outspokenly critical of Suez and had made it painfully clear that they were anxious to dissociate themselves from Britain in their future Middle East planning.

NOTHING TO GAIN

But the ostentatious shipment of American arms to Jordan under the Eisenhower doctrine has proved no more popular in Arab capitals than the dropping of British paratroopers at Port Said. Russian penetration of the Middle East has continued and the doctrine itself is virtually dead.

The propaganda mills of Cairo and Damascus, massively supported by Moscow, have virtually ignored Britain and France, the culprits of Suez, in their efforts to brand the United States as the Western imperialist aggressor in the Middle East.

In the face of mounting Arab hostility, the U.S. has nothing to gain diplomatically by further displays of coolness toward Britain.

ECONOMIC EMPHASIS

With the disastrous consequences of precipitate action fresh in their memory, Macmillan and Eisenhower are not expected to attempt a spectacular move to turn the tide of Russian expansion in the Arab world. The Syrian-Turkish problem is before the United Nations assembly and the two leaders are presumed to be content to see it talked out there.

London sources see the possibility of more fruitful discussion of long-term economic projects. There has been considerable talk of a kind of Colombo Plan for the Middle East, under which the two countries would offer technical assistance and material resources to the underdeveloped Arab countries without political strings.

In the present superheated atmosphere, it is an offer that few Arab governments would dare to accept. But it might be effective at a later date

NORMAL TRADE

Russia's hit-and-run economic assistance already has proved a mixed blessing to Egypt, which bartered cotton for arms last year only to find the cotton competing against her current crop on world markets. Syria, which embarked on a similar deal this year, is likely to run into the same difficulties.

Despite Nikita Khrushchev's efforts to fan the flames of Arab hatred of the West, nothing short of war can prevent the ultimate restoration of normal trade relations between the Arab countries and their traditional customers in Europe and America.

In the long run, Western planners hope to capitalize on the resulting relaxation of tension with ready - made plans for economic aid.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts and rocket fuel stocks made some gains as the stock market edged ahead Monday in a slow Remembrance Day session.

Production Is Prosperity Key

BRANTFORD (CP) — Canada's three - year business boom has ended and the key to continued prosperity is increased production, A. C. Ashforth, president of the Toronto-Dominion Bank, said Thursday.

In an address to the Brantford Board of Trade, Mr. Ashforth said:

"Economic activity is no longer moving upward . . . while mnoth-to-month increases are no longer being recorded, the important thing is that busisess activity continues at or near an all-time record."

His remarks were recorded in a text of his address released to the press prior to delivery.

Mr. Ashforth said critics of Canada's so-alled tight money policy have been "seeking easy money. Easy credit makes sense when business is deprssed. At the height of a boom, it could be a ruinous policy."

"If we are simple - minded enough to believe that we can increase our prosperity by increasing the money supply, then why not double our money supply and double our weatlh?

"We can consume only what we produce and there is no money magic that will enable us to consume more than we produce."

STILL POPULAR

The accordion, one of the most popular musical instruments, was invented by Damien of Vienna in 1829.

Dramatic demonstration at Quebec Winter Carnival . . .

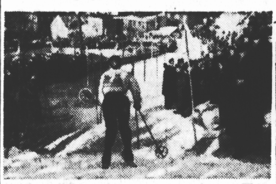
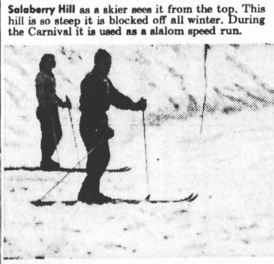
New winter tire climbs ski hill, takes hold where driving seems impossible!



Salaberry Hill as a skier sees it from the top. This hill is so steep it is blocked off all winter. During the Carnival it is used as a slalom speed run.



New Suburbanite winter tires boosted this car UP Salaberry Hill. Goodyear's New Custom Suburbanites had to take hold from a standing start with the car already nosing up the incline. The snow was doubly slick from the constant polishing of skis.

Even on the slick ski run, the New Custom Suburbanite tread—delivered immediate, straight-ahead driving power.

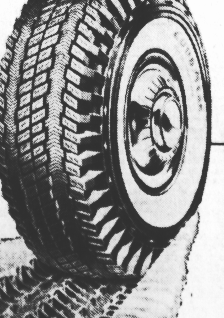
This amazing New Suburbanite Tread boosted the car up and over the ski hill without skids, spinning or fish-tailing. This type of traction is why Quebec taxi drivers rely on Suburbanites when winter comes.

New advances in traction engineering, improving on the original Suburbanite design (for years Canada's most popular snow tire) make the New Custom Suburbanite the finest winter tire ever.

HERE'S THE NEW TREAD DESIGN THAT MAKES SUBURBANITES GREATER THAN EVER

Over 5500 hard biting edges grab hold, claw slick ice or packed snow to give you up to 55% better traction. The extra wide tread surface with V-Grip notches delivers straight-ahead driving power . . . gets you through winter roads safely without tiresome delays. You get a new quiet too—Custom Suburbanite's modern new tread whispers along smoothly on bare pavement, no nerve-jarring, fatiguing tread whine.

More mileage than ever before because the two continuous tread ribs carry most of the load weight. Traction notches stay sharp and efficient for extra seasons. Built with exclusive Goodyear 3-T cord, triple tempered for extra toughness to stand up to rugged winter driving. See your Goodyear dealer soon.



Let it snow—you'll go!

FUSES BLOWING OUT? It's a nuisance... it may be dangerous...

IT'S NOT NECESSARY!

How safe is the electrical wiring in your home? Do fuses blow—or breakers trip—too often . . . Do you have to unplug one appliance to use another . . . Does your TV picture shimmy when electrical equipment comes on . . . Do walls around outlets get warm . . . Do you replace 15-amp fuses with 20- or 30-amp fuses?

If there are any wires burned bare of insulation your home is in a state of complete electrical collapse!

These are the symptoms of old-fashioned, inadequate and frequently dangerous home wiring. If you notice these signs in your own home, think of the wires inside the walls—where you can't see them. Why not play it safe? To protect your family, call in an Electrical Contractor. He will survey your electrical system . . . will tell you if it's safe and adequate . . . or how little it would cost to modernize . . . to LIVE BETTER—ELECTRICALLY with FULL HOUSEPOWER.

To rewire your home—no matter how old it is—could amount to less than you pay to paint it every few years . . . less than the cost of sodding a lawn . . . AND wiring for full HOUSEPOWER you only do once, it lasts a life-time. Furthermore, you can finance the cost on a Home Improvement Loan!

Don't deprive yourself and family of the unequalled comforts and conveniences of to-day's modern electrical appliances and lighting. Above all, why risk an electrical fire? Find out! Make sure! Call an Electrical Contractor to-day!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO!

- Call an electrical contractor at once. Have him do an ELECTRICAL SURVEY on your home, building or plant wiring for safety, efficiency and HOUSEPOWER rating. Most contractors do this work at no obligation to you.
- Ask your contractor about Home Improvement Loans . . . how they finance wiring improvements at low interest.
- Contact your Electric Utility for advice.
- Contact your Nearest Electric Service League for free literature or advice; or write to the: Institute of Electrical Living, 126 Davenport Road, Toronto, Ontario, for informative literature on full HOUSEPOWER for old or new homes.
