Sport Echoes From Prince County

The National League and the Prince Edward Island League both look like a two-team race. While Brooklyn and New York are showing their heels to the rest of the National League entries, Curran and Briggs and the R.C.A.F. Royals are way out in front in the Island scramble. We have seen all the teams in action now, and although there is no team in the Island circuit that it would be safe to stake your life-savings on to drop any particular game, we have the feeling at the present time that the Abbie Juniors, the M.C.A. and the Summerside Holman entry will fight it out for the "desperation" spot in the Island League playoffs. All three teams are sadly lacking in pitching strength, having to depend on Donnie MacLean, Lefty McAleer and Joe Bernard respectively for really effective hurling. True, the R.C.A.F. and Abbie Intermediates' pitching staffs don't remotely resemble the Cleveland Indian array of flinging talent, but the Flyers have a lot of powerful stick make up for lack of experience on the mound. The Abbie Intermediates also look strong defensively, and not too weak on the offense.

Now that the Big League All-Star game is the talk of baseball fans, it might be a good time to start picking all-star teams from our Island League. This one our way start the ball rolling: Catcher—Arnold McCallum, M. C. A.; First Base—Maurice Cannon, C. and B.; Second base—Don MacKenzie, R.C.A.F.; Short Stop—Buck Whitlock, Abbie Intermediates; Third Base—Glen Matheson, M.C.A.; Right Field—Gerard Dalton, C. and B.; Left Field—Elmer McNeill, M.C.A.; Centre Field, toss up between Gunner Cox, R.C.A.F. and Neil Walker, C. and B.

We picked that team without considering what teams they belong to, and find that M.C.A. are out in front with 3 points, C. and B. has 2 1-2 points, R.C.A.F. has 1 1-2 points and Abbie Intermediates manage a point. The Abbie Juniors and Summerside Intermediates fall to place. This standing doesn't quite agree with the present team standings, does it? Don't forget, however, that pitching wasn't considered, and it's the most important part, as far as defence is concerned, in the game. Certainly, if you consider pitching, that would put the C. and B. aggregation up where they belong.

We'll wager the picking of Canteen recently. The chair of the bride-to-be was daintily trimmed with pink and white streamers reaching to the ceiling and caught with bows and the table was of red with a white cloth and the basket that carried the gifts was daintily trimmed to match. The guest of honor was escorted to the seat by her girl friend, Miss R. MacCaull. The gifts were opened by Miss Edith Grant and the accompanying verses were read by Miss Jean Miller and Miss Orill Hayes placed the gifts on the table, Marie thanked her many friends for their kindness in remembering her and asked them to visit with her in her new home in Summerside. The chorus, "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow," was sung and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Lunch was served by the ladies of the community.

non for first-base will cause the most eyebrow raising. Maurice is just breaking in, and lacks experience, but he's doing a bang-up job at the initial sack, and his hitting is improving. Besides, he hasn't got the competition which is present at some of the other positions. Holman's, the Abbie Intermediates and Juniors don't have what you'd call a regular first baseman. Cannon's opposition, then, is Des Trainor, a polished performer, but no superman with the shillelagh, and Todd who may be the gentleman to make the choice of Cannon look pretty sick before the season is over, but we still have a suspicion he is weak with the willow.

Mill-Gunning Wedding

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, June 25th, at 2 o'clock by Venerable Archdeacon G. R. Harrison in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Summerside, when Mr. John Gunning, daughter of Mr. John Gunning Travellers' Rest and Jabez Javelock Mill, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Mill of Clermont exchanged marriage vows. Bouquets of spring flowers adorned the church. The organist, Mr. Everett Penwarden, was in charge of the wedding music.

The bride chose for her wedding a suit of navy with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations. Miss Hope Mill, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and was attired in a suit of rose with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mr. John Pillman was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a reception for twenty five guests was held at Robson's Restaurant where the bride's table was centred with a wedding cake encircled with bouquets of spring flowers and lighted tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mill left on a honeymoon trip throughout the Maritimes and on return will reside in Clermont where the groom is a successful farmer. The bride has been on the staff of R. T. Holman Ltd.

Previous to the marriage the bride was guest of honor at the

Mr. and Mrs. Wedge will reside in Summerside.

What might have been a drowning tragedy occurred on Friday evening, June 13th, when Mr. Clifford Gaudet, a fisherman of Fighish Shore, took his wife and two children out for a sail in his boat. Mrs. Gaudet sat on the side not far from her husband, when she suddenly fainted and fell overboard. Because of the presence of mind and the good judgment of Mr. Gaudet he was able to save his wife from drowning. He shut off the engine and circles around with the boat until he could see her. He then called to her instructions and she managed to keep afloat until with some difficulty he got her in the boat. Mr. Gaudet said this was the 3rd person he had rescued from drowning. The Gaudets are in their early twenties and have two children aged four and two years. BG.
