'Mr. Pope Go Home' Signs Appear On Walls In Bombay

By CONRAD FINK
BOMBAY (AP)—A month in advance of the arrival of Pope Paul VI, posters plastered on Bombay walls demand: "Mr. Pope go back home."
Small but fanatic groups of religious extremists are opposing the visit of the Roman Catholic pontiff and the 38th international eucharistic congress, which he will attend.
They could make trouble. Officially India, with only 480,000 Catholics among its 480,000,000 people, welcomes the congress.
Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a member of the Hindu majority, said Sunday he will attend Shastri told a public meeting "the essence of Hinduism lies in its respect for all religions."

state branch of the Hindu Mahasabha, a right-wing group banned in India for years after one of its members assassinated the Indian independence leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi, in 1948.
At the very least, shouting demonstrations by placard-waving Hindus are expected when the Pope lands. Police plan to have large forces in the streets and hope to keep these demonstrators in check.
But religious feelings run hot and high in India. Hindus and Moslems have battled for generations in bloody sporadic clashes touched off by conflicting aims and methods.

NEW YORK (CP)—Besides President Johnson and Senator Barry Goldwater, at least eight other candidates contested the U.S. presidential election Tuesday.
Why do minor party candidates run when their chances are considered so small against the two major parties—the Democrats and Republicans?
E. Harold Munn, running as the Prohibition party ticket, explained:
"I'd rather lose in a cause that eventually will win than to win in a cause that eventually will lose."

OTAWA (CP)—The defence department has decided to go ahead with the closing of naval reserve units at Charlottetown, Kitchener, Ont., London, Ont., Regina and Edmonton. It was announced here.
Defence Minister Hellyer said in a statement to the Commons defence committee that five reserve bases, originally cut in December of 1963 but later retained pending further study, are not necessary to the naval reserve role.
It had also been decided to set the established strength of the naval reserve at 2,925, a decrease of 1,673.
Further studies of reductions in the RCAF auxiliary has confirmed the need for them, Mr. Hellyer added.
