

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. LOUIS MacGUGAN

Numerous relatives and friends, far and near were shocked and saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Louis MacGugan, 27 Allen Street, Charlottetown, which occurred at her home on March 31st.

Mrs. MacGugan was formerly Lillian Currie of Fairview, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Currie, and was in her fifty-first year.

Her early life was spent in Fairview where she was respected by all who knew her.

For some years before her marriage she was employed in U. S. A., where she had numerous friends. Tangible evidence of the esteem and respect in which she was held there, were the various messages of sympathy received from former friends and from the Company where she worked.

Her seventeen years of married life were spent almost wholly in Charlottetown, except for a brief period which she, with her husband and family spent in Montreal. There too she made many friends who heard of her passing with regret.

It was apparent by the unusually large concourse of people who came to view her remains, that she possessed a personality capable of forming lasting friendships no matter how wide the span of distance or time. Children in the neighbourhood loved to visit her, especially the very little ones who mourned her loss sincerely.

Possessing a natural musical talent Mrs. MacGugan dispensed pleasure and entertainment to many, both in homes and at public gatherings, being always ready and willing to share her talent with others.

For some years she was organist in St. Martin's Church, South Shore. As a parishioner of St. Dunstan's Basilica, her religious zeal and devout christian life were outstanding examples to her family and friends.

She was visited during her last brief illness by Rev. Father Smith, who administered the last rites of the church to which she was so faithful.

Besides her husband, there are left to mourn the loss of a devoted mother and a loving sister, one daughter Marlene and one son Melbourne, both at home. Also six sisters, Mrs. MacQuaid, who came from Montreal to be with her sister during her final illness; Mrs. Arthur Holland, Boston; Mrs. Richard Koppel, Leipzig, Canada; Mrs. Augustus Franke, Saskatoon; Mrs. George Wilson, New Dominion and Mrs. James Cavanagh, Charlottetown.

The funeral was held on April 2nd from her late residence to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Father Corcoran. Rev. Father McMahon and Rev. Father Smith were present in the Sanctuary. Service at the grave was conducted by Father Corcoran.

The pallbearers were Allison MacMillan, Wilbert Currie, Roy Wilson, Keith Myers, Keith Dunford, James Greenan.

The family were the recipients of approximately two hundred and fifty Mass Cards, several floral tributes and numerous cards and messages of sympathy for all of which they are deeply grateful.

May her soul rest in peace.

Card Of Thanks
