

A Song of a Man of the World.

My soul is sick with the ceaseless strife, The cruel mockery of life, The fickle, changeable, hollow hearts, Slaves to mammon, all acting parts,— Thus sang a man of the world.

Oh, for a true and honest friend, Oh, for a love that could never end, Oh, for a firm and honest grasp Of the hand in a true friendly clasp,— Thus sang the man of the world.

Oh, for a laugh without the sneer, Oh, for a smile which could never end, Oh, for a world free from deceit, Oh, for one soul that's pure and sweet,— Thus sang the man of the world.

That voice from out the stillness came, That put the singer's song to shame, Go thou and make thine own heart whole, Go cleanse thy sin-stained, spotted soul, And there'll be one in the world,—

—Carrie E. Emery.

Worse than Dynamite.

Hardly a month passes but we read of terrible explosions, and loss of life from natural gas. One writer has taken up Chinese history, wherein it appears, that away back in the time when the famous Chinese wall was building, before the use of gas wells was discovered, a terrible explosion took place.

The big lives in some way got the start of the little ones, so that enormous volumes of air was sucked down into those subterranean magazines. When the air reached certain proportions, the whole thing went off like a leaky gasoline stove. The result was horrible in the destruction of lives. The same writer predicts similar conditions underlying the great natural gas belt of this country, from Toledo, through Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, whereby that whole vast region might be ripped up to the depth of 1500 feet, leaving a living form of the waters in the great lakes to pour down into blotting out every living human being in this now densely populated valley from the face of the earth.

That writer might easily have shown further, that throughout our whole country not only in densely populated regions and cities, but in country and village houses, natural gas is far more dangerous than is found in the lake regions, are carrying off not only "pig-tail" Chinamen, but our own families and friends, during the hot waves of July and August.

Scores of people are dying daily from typhoid fever, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, and infant summer complaints; all caused by poisonous gases and ferments, far worse than hydrogen gas or dynamite in their explosion. Fortunately this latter danger can all be averted, by the use of a simple old-fashioned remedy, Johnson's Anodyne Linctament, used internally, as explained in a pamphlet sent free to anyone, by L. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass. No matter if you have used this remedy before, it will pay you to get a bottle and read the direction, or send for the pamphlet just to learn how to use it economically. a2 ddt wti

MONROE, August 11.—Scott Act Inspector Mally returned to-day from a tour of the county, prosecuting complaints for violation of the Scott Act; $700 in fines being imposed as a result, and a large number of cases still pending. At Sackville, Prestly Estabrooks was fined $150 on different charges, and his effects have been seized under execution to cover the amount. D. T. Elliott was fined $100 at the same place on two charges. At Pettoodick, N. Doherty was fined $100 on two charges, and his bartender $30. Elliott McCallum was also fined $50. At Memramog, Pascal Herbert and Dominick LeBlanc were each fined $50; and at Shediac, Joe Gallant, Thibout Boudreau and Paul Legere were each fined $50.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. 1yr

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—The dehorning commission appointed by the Ontario government have been busy engaged for the past two days drawing up the commission's report. The commission find in favor of dehorning and their report states that the cruelty of the practice has been intensified by the opponents of the horn-depriving operation. The report will be printed shortly.
