

Is the baby too thin?
Does he increase too slowly in weight?
Are you in constant fear he will be ill?
Then give him more flesh. Give him more power to resist disease. He certainly needs a fat-forming food.
Scott's Emulsion is just that food. It will make the baby plump; increase the weight; bring color to the cheeks, and prosperity to the whole body. Thin children take to it as naturally as they do to their milk.

Of Special Interest to our Farmers

Cover Crops in the Experimental Farm Orchards.

Mr W. T. Macoun, the horticulturist at the Central Experimental Farms, in his annual report for 1898, writes upon this subject as follows:

"The clover sown for cover crops on the 1st, August, 1897, in the orchards, mention of which is made in the report of the Horticulturist for that year, came through the winter in splendid condition. Nowhere was there any winter-killing and when growth began it was a fine sight to behold. On the 13th June clover in the crab apple, pear and plum orchard was turned under. Part of this land was reseeded on the 14th July, with Mammoth Red clover, at the rate of 12 pounds per acre, and part with about equal parts of Mammoth Red clover and Lucerne mixed. This formed a good covering by autumn. In a part of the apple orchard where the soil is very poor, the clover was ploughed under on the 26th May. The land was harrowed and peas were sown at the rate of 2½ bushels to the acre on the 1st June. On the 22nd July, when the peas were beginning to bloom, and about 2 feet 6 inches high, they were turned under, and, after harrowing, equal parts of Mammoth Red and Lucerne clovers were sown at the rate of 12 pounds to the acre. Owing to the very dry season the Mammoth Red clover did not make as vigorous a growth as could be desired, but the Lucerne was 11 inches in height when frozen. These two crops of leguminous plants ploughed under this season will improve the texture of the soil and enrich it considerably. The clover in the greater part of the apple orchards was not ploughed under this year. This is contrary to what is usually recommended but it was left for several reasons. In the first place, the soil in the orchard is a sandy loam, which is easily moved by the wind. During the years which the orchards have been under cultivation, the soil has blown away so much from a number of the trees that the roots have been more or less exposed. A second reason why it was left was to determine whether the tree would seem to suffer in time of drought. Notwithstanding the exceptionally dry summer which we had, neither the clover nor the trees seemed affected by drought, except in a small portion of the Russian orchard. This would seem to indicate that the soil in the orchard does not lack moisture. Taking all things into consideration, namely, the texture of the soil, its capacity for holding moisture, the exposure of the orchards, the destruction of pasture, which it seems otherwise impossible to kill, even with thorough cultivation, and the belief that it is better not to encourage too vigorous growth when so near the limit of the successful growing of large fruits, it was thought better not to cultivate this year."

News and Notes.

In commenting upon the complaints of consumers that sweet corn on the ear as found in city markets is entirely devoid of sweetness and flavor, although it seems fresh and juicy, The Rural New Yorker says that no other farm product loses flavor more rapidly after gathering than green corn; and if it could be sold more promptly to the consumer we should hear no more complaints of its deteriorated quality. Drugs are expensive. Sometimes they are more expensive than need be. And sometimes they are not so reliable as they ought to be.

There was a time when the prices of drugs were away up—too high altogether.

That is not the case now. The Apothecaries Hall changed that some time ago. You can get prescriptions from pure drugs at the proper prices—no fancy profits.

You can get all my reliable special remedies; they've been tried and found effective.

The price—the main thing—will be found right in every case.

drilling in the seed gave a better result than drilling the seed on burned or unburned stubble or on disked unburned stubble.

In answer to the question whether manure where sawdust has been used for bedding is injurious to soil, American Gardening has obtained the opinion of such good authorities as Professors Day of Ontario, Canada; Clinton of Cornell University, Voorhees of New Jersey, Fields of Oklahoma and Dr. H. M. Wiley of Washington, from all of which it appears that, upon the whole, there is no valid objection to the use of sawdust. Professor Day thinks an excessive amount of light land might possibly injure the texture of the soil.

It is said that in all regions, where roads have been oiled by leakage or otherwise they are firm and dustless. The estimate of expense of oil for road improvement, according to a government civil engineer, is not to exceed $141.50 per mile, one barrel being enough for 50 feet of roadway 12 feet wide. It is reported that an experiment in this line is to be made by the department of Agriculture in conjunction with the local authorities of Des Moines on country roads connected with that city. Everybody, whether skeptical or confident in the project will await the outcome with interest.

GOOD HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food Restores Weak, Sickly Women to Robust Health.

Any irregularities in the monthly uterine action is sufficient cause for women to be alarmed about their health. Whether painful, suppressed or profuse menstruation, the cause can be traced to some derangement of the nerves.

A few boxes of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will completely build up the exhausted nerves and restore the regular monthly action which removes from the body the clogged matter that would otherwise cause pain and serious disease.

It is as a restorative for pale, weak women that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has been singularly successful. It counteracts the debilitating diseases peculiar to women by feeding the nerves and creating new nerve fluid, the vital force of the human body.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has restored scores of hundreds of weak, sickly women to robust health. See a box at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BERLIN CONFIRMATION.

Andrew Hauss Corroborates the Report That Dodd's Kidney Pills are the Only Cure for Lame Back

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—Andrew Hauss, of this town, confirms the story that he was quickly cured of pains in the back and kidneys by Dodd's Kidney Pills. He had tried rubbing with liniments and various other remedies to no purpose, and he was advised to take Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I did," he says, "and got better from the time I started to take them. I am sincere in saying that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, for which I cannot be too thankful."

In a letter dated June 19, 1899, Mr. Hauss answers an enquiry as to his cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills as follows: "I am pleased to say I am cured entirely through taking Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Weary of Experimenting

With salves, suppositories and ointments and reading a surgical oration, scores and hundreds have turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's ointment and found it an absolute cure for piles. The first application brings relief from the terrible itching, and it is very seldom that more than one box is required to effect a permanent cure.
