Upon the Diamond Bookstore has been placed an appropriate signboard, "The cheapest store in the city," and Mr. Chappelle is prepared to prove the correctness of the inscription.

We cannot see the advantage of repairing our streets by putting upon them numerous loads of fine clay, which will become dust before long and become a nuisance. We more particularly refer to that portion of Grafton Street north of Queen Square.

ICE COLD SODA WATER, a delightful drink this warm weather, at Macdonald's Confectionery. 21-177.

The Firemen's practice last evening was satisfactory to all concerned. The Salvage Corps arrived first on the scene, and were quickly followed by the Engines and Hook and Ladder Co. Frequent practices like that of last evening would be a great benefit to the Department.

Good Butter makers say no Dairy should be without a thermometer. Cheap at R. K. Braze's. 177.

The mammoth excursion and tea, at Cape Traverse to-day, was a grand success. Four trains with over two thousand excursionists, arrived early at the grounds and they were joined by about three thousand people, from the country surrounding the Cape. A telegram received as we go to press, says the affair is passing off splendidly.

Some tobaccos spurt up in the pipe while smoking, with little crackling explosions. This is caused by the addition of foreign matter to assist the combustion. When the purity of the tobacco is not tampered with, and it has been properly taken care of, this combustible foreign matter is wholly unnecessary. For in that case it burns at a lower temperature than almost anything. Nothing of this kind is seen in smoking the "Myrtle Navy." It burns with steady combustion throughout.

"An ounce of prevention worth" a pound of cure. It is an old adage but true. In view of predictions that this country is liable to be visited by more than an ordinary amount of contagious disease this year, it behooves all to inquire about and practice every sanitary measure, especially cleanliness, which as a preventive, offers some one means of escape at least; and in this how important the article of Soap as to quality fit for use; certainly all inferior grades made so by foreign substances and adulterations of a questionable character, should be rejected, that there may be no taint left on the person or clothes which might in any way invite the germs of these various diseases. A first-class article, made by known reliable manufacturers, is the only kind that can be safely used or recommended. In the use of a standard soap, like the "Welcome," made by Curtis, Davis & Co., there can be no risk, being the goods of a firm whose name on soap is a sufficient guarantee of its purity.

[WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER.] Ye Olde Maide.

We heard a lady, lately, Who had chosen not to wed, Address herself quite stately To—; and this is what she said: I seem to you too staidish, Never having changed my name, You say, I am, "old maidish," And you mean, I think to blame. I wish to show I wholly, Disagree from what you say; I'm disenthralled from folly, (Which includes the wedding day.) That's all so much preferring, The sobrieties of life, To what is oft' occurring, Through matrimonial strife. I must confess 'twere better, Could we longer ho'd the smile, That makes the world a debtor For many a little "pile." But there is so much sorrow Behind the average laugh, The old maid on its morrow Cannot tell the wheat from chaff. Is not an old maid willing To help her friends always, Unselfishly time-killing As the measure of her days. Not so those selfish brew-sters, Called Old Bachelors, you know, What are they? but queer roosters, That might, but will not, crow. So, sir, I'm quite contented To be the good old maid, With duties God invented, Quite as high as being wed.
