NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 6.
As the first fruits of the change in the Finance Ministry the "Official Messenger" publishes an Imperial ukase abolishing the duty on salt, which will greatly benefit the poor classes.
It is reported that the plague has appeared in Moscow.

LONDON, Dec. 6.
Wallace Ross challenges Laycock to row a race over the Thames Championship course for £200 a side, two months from the time of signing articles of agreement, a condition being that if Laycock beats Hanlan in the match, which will take place on January 17, 1881, the race shall also be for the "Sportsman" Challenge Cup.

ATHENS, Dec. 6.
In the Chamber of Deputies, the Prime Minister, replying to the comments of the Opposition, exhorted members to abandon mutual recrimination as the country was on the eve of a supreme crisis. He said his programme was the mobilization of the army, and preparation to carry out very soon the decision of the Berlin Conference, but that the Government does not make assistance from the Powers an indispensable condition to taking action.

LONDON, Dec. 6.
The Times this morning says the Royal Geographical Society is about to appoint a Committee, the first business of which will be to collect and arrange all information accumulated since the return of the expedition under Captain, now Sir George, Nares in 1876. If the Society conclude that the time has arrived for a fresh effort, they will probably appeal to the Government for funds. We doubt if the time for great and expensive expeditions has not gone past. We see no reason why our Geographical Society should hold aloof from the scheme favored by other countries for establishing a number of permanent stations around the North Pole.

WATERFORD, IRELAND, Dec. 6.
In his speech at the great land meeting here yesterday, Mr. Parnell denounced the Government, which he said was too weak with the Land subject, and hoped to crush the movement by depriving the people of their representatives in Parliament. "But," he continued, nothing now could put down the agitation until the tiller of the soil became its owner." Mr. Parnell charged the Government with entering into a conspiracy against the Irish people, and said that the mild justice of revenge (meaning assassination) was only attempted in the green Isle when there was no organization (meaning Boycotting.) The proposition to confer the freedom of the city on Mr. Parnell was carried with considerable opposition. The result of the opposition, however, was that the dissenting members of the Municipal Council have been more or less "Boycotted." Wholesale intimidation was exercised to compel their co-operation to make arrangements for the reception of Mr. Parnell. The windows of several establishments were smashed when it became known that their owners would not join in the popular movement, and in two cases watch had been constantly kept to see that no business was done. The inhabitants had to join in the rejoicings or have their houses attacked and trade destroyed. The result was that every business house was decorated with flags.

Greece and the Situation.

The latest advices state that serious apprehensions are now entertained as to the course likely to be adopted by Greece on the withdrawal of the allied fleets. The time is at hand for the dispersal of the squadrons; and Russia alone shows any willingness to unite with England in a further demonstration. Greece thus threatens, as soon as the fleets are dispersed, to make an attack on Thessaly and Epirus, and then precipitate a conflict with Turkey, which she is not strong enough, single handed, to sustain. This would create a most embarrassing situation for England. England can neither stand by and see Greece beaten, nor help her without bringing on a general European war, for which England herself is unprepared, and to which the country is totally opposed. Great efforts are making to induce Greece to wait on events until next spring. But the Greeks think this the golden moment for them, and they are disinclined to lose it to oblige Great Britain. Very warm representations have been made to the Greek Government, urging moderation and delay. The position causes much anxiety in Ministerial circles, especially as affairs in Ireland show no signs whatever of improvement. The King of Greece has half promised to keep his troops in check until the first of March, but his sincerity is doubted.

TURKEYS—A Toronto Telegram says: A number of gentlemen are considering the advisability of shipping live turkeys to the English markets.

And in the same despatch we find the following awful revelations:

To-day there was a lively time in the St. Lawrence Market. The Inspector took a tour among the poultry dealers and examined the birds for sale. In one turkey half a pound of hard beans was discovered; all manner of stuff decorated the inside of many of them.

THE deficit of Austria, this year, is $1,000,000; while that of Hungary is $12,350,000, which has to be added. The deficit of Austria, exclusive of that of the Hungarian kingdom, has gone as high as $40,000,000 in one year.

LORD DUFFERIN has been appointed to the embassy at Constantinople. His successor at St. Petersburg will be Sir Edward Thornton, who is promoted from the Legation at Washington, where he has discharged his duties with great honor to himself.

PRINCESS LOUISE visited the Queen on the 6th, for the first time since her arrival in England. This repairs the break in the unfriendly relations between mother and daughter, which has been assumed to exist during the present visit of the Princess—a visit which she is said to have undertaken against the expressed wishes of the Queen.

LAST evening the usual annual supper was given the employees in Messrs. Coombs and Worth's printing office, by Mr. Theo. L. Chappelle, in recognition of their success in getting out the P. E. I. Almanac, at an early date. This example is worthy of imitation as the knights of the stick and rule are too often forgotten.

THE steamer "Worcester" sailed from Georgetown on Saturday evening with 600 bbls. mackerel, 146 bags and 2,700 bush potatoes 50 cases fowls and other produce. Christmas & New Year's Cards, 1880-81,
Embracing some of the Choicest Designs ever produced.

MY patterns of Xmas Cards are unique in design, entirely different from anything in the market, and chosen because they are refined and suitable for customers of education and taste. They are produced for the trade, and not for dry goods merchants.

From the Celebrated DE LA RUE & Co. we have received a choice assortment, including the Satin designs.

From Messrs. PRANG & Co., a great variety, including the $2,000 Prize series. And from one of the largest Fine Art publishers of London, a series of Photo. Hand-Painted Cards.

Persons desirous of sending their friends Xmas Cards that they are not tired of seeing in every dry goods shop in the country, would do well to give me a call.
