

Indian Jack Jacobs Resigns As AI Coach

MONTRÉAL (CP) — Indian Jack Jacobs, assistant coach with Montreal Alouettes, resigned Monday "for personal reasons."

The one-time Western Conference passing great had been credited with moulding the fine defensive unit the Alouettes fielded in the 1961 season.

It is believed, however, that he wasn't satisfied with conditions generally this year.

He said he saw no reason to go into details now about quitting but did say the work necessary to do a good job here should not be too tough.

"I hope to get another coaching job in Canada," said the 41-year-old Jacobs. "I feel I am perfectly able to handle a head-coaching job in the Canadian Football League."

He said that when he first took over London Lords in 1956, in the now defunct Ontario Rugby Football Union, he

Mrs. Ronald Parker, vice-president of the provincial branch of the Canadian Ladies Golf Union, returned from Toronto recently where she attended the fall meeting of the C.L.G.U.

At this meeting a team of Canada's champion lady golfers was chosen to play in the 2nd Commonwealth Tournament to be held in Australia in August, 1963.

The Texans lead the league in both teams offence and team defence. They were ahead in defence last week and this week they have also taken over in offence.

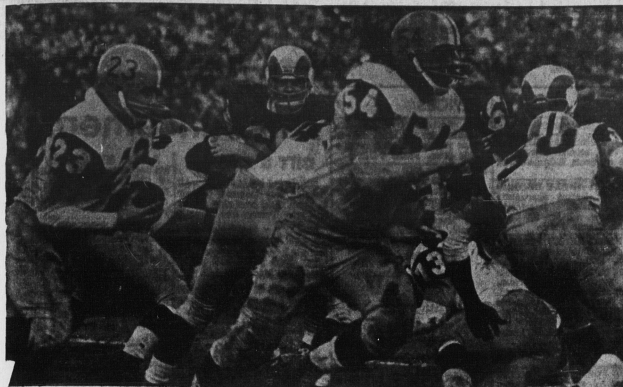

Dallas has rolled up 3877 yards rushing and passing to boast an edge of 47 yards over second place Boston. The Texans have given up only 3001 yards, which is 366 less than Houston has allowed.

Dallas is moving into strong contention for the lead in rushing with 1915 yards compared to 2105 by Buffalo. Both appear destined to erase the seasonal record of 2183 and they probably will decide which is to top the league for the season Sunday since they clash at Buffalo.

Dallas is averaging 174.0 yards per game on the ground with three games to go. Buffalo is averaging 173.4 with two games left.

He also was counted on in the mile relay. Medical Treatment Seen Urgent For Harry Jerome

By JACK SULLIVAN

Canadian Press Sports Editor PERTH (CP) — Harry Jerome of Vancouver, one of the most controversial figures in track circles, left for home Monday night with a leg injury that an orthopedic surgeon said is in "urgent" need of medical treatment.

The departure of the 22-year-old sprinter left the Canadian track team at the British Empire Games badly disorganized. Without Jerome at anchor, the sprint relay team was scuttled—there are only three sprinters left. He also was counted on in the mile relay.

Jerome's sudden and unexpected flight came after an eventful day for the Canadian team that included a third-place finish by Bruce Kidd of Toronto in the three-mile blue ribbon event of the Games, a world record performance by Canadian Women in swimming and medals in diving and weightlifting.

But the University of British Columbia Eight couldn't redeem itself in a rowing repechage and was eliminated by Australia in a close race. UBC won two gold medals in the Eights in the 1954 and 1956 Games.

HALBERG SUPERB
Kidd, who won the gruelling six miles Saturday, was trying for a double gold in the three miles, but his own blistered feet and Murray Halberg's superb tactical sense were too much for the 19-year-old Torontonian.

Halberg, a New Zealand school teacher and the world record-holder at the distance, won by 12 yards in 13:24.2 over Australia's Ron Clarke. Kidd was a couple of yards back of Clarke.

New Zealand's other great distance runner, Peter Snell, came through to win the 880 in Gurnell record time of 1:47.6.

he nipped George Kerr of Jamaica by two strides. The three-mile run was the highlight of a day that saw the Australians add to their growing collection of gold medals, with three in track and field and four in swimming and diving. The hosts also wrote two more world swimming records into the books.

No other country in the field of 35 has a hope of catching Australia in the battle for unofficial team honors. Australia has 14 gold medals, England six, New Zealand four, Canada two, Scotland two and Kenya, Ghana and Singapore one each.

In the unofficial point standings based on the traditional 10-5-2-1 scoring system, Australia leads with 29½; England is second with 15; New Zealand third with 7½ and Canada fourth with 7½.

Since the games got under way Friday, Canadian competitors have won four silver medals and seven bronze as well as the two golds.

Canadian medalists Monday were Kidd, who won a bronze in the three miles; Tom Dinsley of Vancouver and Ernie Miesner of Kitchener, Ont., with a silver and bronze respectively in the men's spring-board diving competition; Alton Satter of Ottawa, a silver in bantamweight weightlifting; Jack Kelso of Ocean Falls, B.C., a bronze in the men's 440-yard individual medley; and the women's 440-yard medley relay team, with Halberg used every bit of his cunningness to beat Kidd in the three-mile.

With 2½ laps to go, Kidd spurred to the front and Halberg went with him. Shoulder to shoulder the two hit the final quarter — a mile lap. With 200 yards to go Halberg streaked to the front. Kidd tried to match the blistering pace, but he lacked the power.

"That Halberg is dumb like a fox," Kidd said. "I had the mistake of not making my move earlier and trying him out. I should have run the race differently. I have a lot to learn."

"I didn't have confidence to set my own pace. That's what I should have done." Halberg said. "Bruce Kidd was trying to break us. But I expected it. I knew that if I shadowed Kidd all the way and Bruce Talloh of England did go, Kidd would go too. I just had to watch him."

What everyone should know about term insurance!

Term, or temporary, life insurance has many uses—but watch out for possible abuses.

Just as Fire Insurance pays only in the event of fire during the life of the policy, so Term Insurance pays only in the event of death before the term expires.

Often The Excelsior Life man will recommend Term Insurance—but only as a temporary coverage where the maximum amount of immediate protection is needed for the least amount of premium. And he endeavours to make certain that this temporary life insurance is converted into permanent personal policies as soon as the owner is able to do so.

There is no equity in Term Insurance which can carry the policy if a due date is missed, and none which builds future security for its owner.

We suggest that you talk to The Excelsior Life representative in your community. He has been selected and trained to help you with all your life insurance problems—and especially assist you to design your own "Blueprint for Security".
