sored the the Women's Auxiliary of Zion Presbyterian Church and held yesterday afternoon in the church hall was a decided success. The booths of fancy work aprons, etc., making delightful Christmas gifts, were well patronized as was the home cooking and candy tables. Colored tapers gave a pleasing affect to the tea tables in the lower hall where upwards of 500 patrons enjoyed a turkey and salad supper. Mrs. T. G. Dennis, president of the W.A., capably convened the entire proceedings assisted by a bevy of willing workers. Mrs. Rankin McLain and Mrs. Douglas MacLeod were ushers, while Mrs. James Power and Mrs. Dave Schurman replenished at the centre table.

Artists Work At Ottawa In Limelight

The following article from Time Magazine refers the well-known artist, Mr. Robert Hyndman who is a son of Mr. Justice J. D. Hyndman of Ottawa and a nephew of Mr. A. W. Hyndman, Charlottetown:

"Curious Ottawans swarmed by the scores through the Robertson Galleries last week, staring appreciatively at oil landscapes, drawings and formal portraits by Artist Robert Hyndman, 39. When the exhibition closed, a gallery official called it 'the most successful show we have ever had.' More than 2,000 had come to look, and buyers had taken home 20 oils (average price: $100) and twelve drawings.

"Hyndman's rough-hewn landscapes reminded some viewers of the work of Canada's famed 'Group of Seven' artists, but as Hyndman himself conceded, they were designed more to please the eye than to excite the mind. 'I am interested in color and design,' he explained. 'The subject isn't the most important thing for me.' Although the critics found Hyndman's glowing colors full of 'spontaneity and vigor,' the artist himself pronounced a more modest judgment on his own work: 'When you're clobbering along toward 40, you expect to have at least made your mark in the artistic world. I don't feel that I have done it yet.'

"Hyndman first set out to make his artistic mark by caricaturing the masters in an Anglican boys' school he attended in Vancouver, discovered unhappily that 'they didn't like any boy who made rude pictures of the padre.' As a youth in Ottawa, he graduated to landscapes, left high school to study painting in Toronto and later in London. After joining the R.C.A.F. in 1940, Hyndman spent his spare hours recording on canvas the combat scenes he glimpsed from his Spitfire.

"After the war, Hyndman traveled through all of Canada's provinces in search of material for his landscapes. But like many artists before him, he discovered that there was more money in portraits. He became Ottawa's most fashionable portrait painter, now commands a fee of $600 a portrait.

"When the R.C.A.F. decided last spring to commission a group of oil paintings of its men and bases in Europe, Hyndman accepted temporary reappointment as a flight lieutenant to fill the assignment. But after he left for Europe, company-conscious Defense Department officials were seized with bureaucratic tremors at the thought of an artist touring Europe at government expense. When Hyndman returned with the 60 pictures, Defense and Air Force officials viewed them in two private showings, then ordered the paintings stored quietly away in a government basement.

"Hyndman refused to be disturbed by the suppression of his pictures and salvaged some capital from the trip by turning out 24 drawings of North African scenes the last week's show. His pictures of a sidewalk cafe in Rabat, an Algerian girl, and a cluster of Moroccan natives attracted special praise and added a pleasantly exotic touch to the otherwise predominantly Canadian exhibition."

Monthly Meeting

pending re jobs for veterans who had applied to him. He was hopeful of favorable results soon.

Clover Club report was given by Com. Bowlan. He reported a profit for the month of $132.55.

Com. Doyle reported on membership. He spoke of the good turn out of members on Remembrance Day. This president again commented on the Remembrance Day Parade. He said he thought it was one of the best held in Charlottetown in recent years and heartily thanked those who had attended and made the parade a success.

Comrade Ruah reported for the canteen committee and everything was found to be in order.

Comrade Lightizer reported for the finance, ways and means committee. There was some discussion re the payment of a music tax. An explanation was given to the members re this tax which is to be paid by all dance halls, theatres and other places where music is played publicly and goes to the Composers and Authors Guild. It is a Dominion tax and is paid annually.

Comrade Sinclair reported that there were seven applications before the Pension Commission. He spoke especially re one application that had been turned down by the Commission and said that he considered this widow's case was a very deserving one, and that he did not intend to let the matter rest there; but intended to fight this case to the bitter end. He said that some members might think that because an application for pension has been turned down that that is the end. This is not so. He spoke of one case which had been turned down several years ago and was recently opened and now this applicant gets 15% pension.

A Legion Comrade, Major Art Peake gave a very instructive and interesting talk on "The latest military changes as they affect Prince Edward Island." He said in opening that the people of this province had always showed great loyalty to the crown and had been always ready to answer the call when the Empire was threatened. For that reason he believed that the public and the Legion members in particular were interested in the militia as we have it today. He stated that the change over had caused grief to such men as himself who were artillery men since now we did not have an artillery unit here. However, as far as he had been able to see the new set-up in action he thought that it would work out well in the over all defence of Canada and after all that is what mattered. He said that whether we realized it or not Communism was our enemy. That we could not be too much on guard. It had infiltrated into this country. Yes into this Province and City. Perhaps we did not realize that but nevertheless, it was a fact.

Comrade Peake's lecture was listened to by the members with rapt attention, and he was given great applause when he finished. The thanks of the meeting was tendered him by the president.

Comrade Art King spoke at some length re increased allowance for burnt-out pensioners. He urged this branch to get behind the Dominion Command in this endeavour. The president assured him that he would take steps to do so.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned with "The Queen."

AMERICAN FLYER Talking Railroad Station

At the touch of a remote control button, your train stops in front of the station. Then—right from the station—come the sounds of hissing steam, the chug of pistons, the long wail of the whistle. Mingled with them is the voice of the station announcer. As the noises die down, your train starts automatically. A marvelous, realistic addition to your train system.

Potato Board.
"We further request that the personnel of the future Potato Board be on a similar basis as at present; with the dealer representation being recommended by their Association, and the producer representation being recommended by a committee representing the potato producers are prepared to undertake the formation of a Provincial organization of potato producers."

"We believe this suggestion is in line with the wishes of our Government and if so we, a committee representing the potato producers, are prepared to undertake the formation of a Provincial organization of potato producers."

"Such a system we believe would overcome the mixed voices of those who are bona fide potato producers and those who are not primarily and directly concerned with the problems related to this phase of our agricultural economy."

"It has also come to our attention that a recent Board Order (No. 27) has been issued which in part reads as follows:

"Section 12 (B) No Dealer, Assembler, or Export Truckers shall purchase or agree to purchase or receive potatoes from or transport potatoes for any producer who does not hold a valid license from the Potato Board, provided that this section of this Order shall not apply to any purchase or receipt or transportation of potatoes grown by any producer who does not grow or have grown on his behalf more than one acre of potatoes in any marketing year."

"We do not believe that the majority of potato producers are favourable toward such an Order under the present circumstances and we therefore request that the present Potato Marketing Board be instructed to defer any request for financial support until such time as a new Board has been set up. We further state that we believe the more desirable and satisfactory method of obtaining funds for the promotion and protection of the industry would be through a system whereby the shippers would be required to remit and which requirement would be contingent on their obtaining a license through the Board rather than on an acreage basis direct from the producer."

"We trust, Mr. Premier, that you and your Government will look favourably upon these requests and give them your immediate attention. In doing so we are confident that you will gain the full support of the majority whose chief objective is to promote this valuable industry in an intelligent and harmonious combination of effort."

"Respectfully submitted."

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on 'nerves'—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.
