AT LAST.

Republicans Agree Upon a Candidate.

The Nomination Made Unanimous.

[SPECIAL TO THE GUARDIAN.]

MINNEAPOLIS, June 10.—At last night's session the vote to substitute the minority report of the credentials committee on the Alabama Case was defeated 463 to 423, and this was taken as a victory for Harrison. It was thought this morning that Blaine would not be nominated, but in a short time Blaine men decided to push matters and shortly after noon Wolcott of Colorado nominated Blaine amid great enthusiasm and predicted success for the great unwarred leader of the Republican party. The nomination was seconded by Eustis of Minnesota, while Thompson of Indiana nominated Harrison seconded by Depew. Blaine men cheered for half an hour and the demonstration was almost as great as made by Harrison men. Blaine managers now in session say that a combination has been effected, which will defeat Harrison. It is believed that McKinley will be the compromise.

LATER. MINNEAPOLIS, June 10.—The first ballot resulted in giving Harrison 534, McKinley 183, Blaine 175, Reid 4, Lincoln 1. The nomination was made unanimous.

Presbyterian Assembly.

MONTREAL, June 10.—At the Presbyterian General Assembly, today, the Home Mission Committee submitted their report showing that the total receipts were $139,298, of which the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland contributed $12,112. A proposition to cut down the salaries of ministers in the Northwest $50 was voted down. A proposition to extend the boundaries of the St. John Presbyterian is under consideration, and will probably be carried to the Maritime Synod to report thereon. British Columbia was divided into three Presbyteries and a synod established.

Steamship Collision.

KINGSTON, June 10.—The Toronto and Montreal steamer Algerian collided with the propeller Tecomacs eight miles from here and a bad hole was stove in the bow of the steamer. Fortunately the airtight compartment held and the passengers were safely landed.

Murder Provoked by Jealousy.

PORT ARTHUR, June 10.—Mrs. Carrothers was on trial to-day charged with murdering her husband at Rainy River. She is supposed to have shot him because he upbraided her for sitting on another man's knee.

Closing Exercises of Prince of Wales College.

The Philharmonic Hall was crowded Friday evening to witness the closing exercises in connection with the Prince of Wales College. The students occupied an exalted position on the platform; also the following gentlemen: Dr. Anderson; Professors Owen, Harcourt and Robinson; Judge Hensley, His Honor R. R. Fitzgerald, Premier Peters, and Prof. Lloyd. After the singing of "Rule Britannia" by the students, under the guiding wand of Mr. Lloyd, musical director, Dr. Anderson called upon two pupils, Miss F. Durant and Miss Katie Hughes, to read essays. Miss Durant responded by reading in an easy, natural manner her essay, subject "Miranda," which evidenced careful thought and considerable ability as a writer.

The subject of Miss Hughes' essay was "Wordsworth's Excursion," which was also a production evidencing good literary abilities on the writer's part. Miss Fairlie Durant was also the valedictorian of the class. She spoke of the happy days passed together at Prince of Wales, and the ties which serve to bind pupil and teacher in enduring remembrance. She also referred to the changes on the staff of teachers during the year, and the generosity of Premier Peters in donating football jerseys to encourage athletic sports. The regrets of leavetakers were expressed, and the speaker concluded by saying "that a warm spot would ever be retained in the heart for old Prince of Wales College."

Auld Lang Syne was next rendered in good college style by the students. Dr. Anderson in reply to the valedictory spoke for himself and his brother teachers the regret of parting with the students. This was one of the stages in life for students to pass through, and he trusted as they went out into daily life they would carry with them the spirit of the instructions received at college.

We are sorry we have not space to give a full report of the Doctor's remarks. After singing "The Last Rose of Summer" Dr. Anderson read the list of honor students and the diplomas were awarded by Premier Peters. The list is as follows:—

TERRIBLE DISASTER

Sixty Children Killed by a Cyclone in Omaha.

More Bodies Recovered at the Scene of the Flood.

OMAHA, Neb., June 8.—McCook, Neb., was visited Saturday by a terrible cyclone. As the huge funnel-shaped cloud passed over the Burlington and Missouri shops and round house it seemed to suddenly drop to the ground, first striking the business building owned by H. W. Cole, and with awful power raised the metal roof clear of the two parts in the rear and whirling it around brought it down with a terrific force in almost its first position upon the heads of the cigarmakers who were at work. All escaped except one who was severely injured. The storm center seemed to raise up in the air and again drop to the ground about three blocks away. In a moment the air was filled with flying debris, and the cry was raised that the Congregational church was in ruins, and hundreds of children buried in the ruins. The children of the city were rehearsing for the children's day at the Congregational church, and that edifice was packed to its utmost capacity with the little folks. Only two minutes before the cyclone struck the building about two hundred of the smaller children had finished their exercises and gone home. The church was raised from the foundation and dashed down in one mass of ruins, burying about 60 children, together with the pastor of the church and several teachers. Many of the children who were leaving were hurt by flying timbers, but so far as is known none seriously. With willing hands the fallen timbers were raised from the ruins and soon all were released from their imprisonment. Timbers falling had formed an arch over the heads of those who were in the church. Several of the children are so seriously injured that it is feared they cannot live beyond a few hours. Many of the injured children have legs and arms broken, and still others seem to be hurt internally. The list of the injured is about 50, and as many were carried home at once it is impossible at this hour to get the exact number. Had the cyclone struck the church five minutes earlier at least 250 would have been buried in the ruins.

The Model School Examination.

The closing exercises in connection with the Model School of this city were held yesterday. Quite a number of the children's parents attended, and evidenced their interest in the examinations, conducted by the teachers. At the close of examination the pupils assembled in the Principal's room and carried out an interesting program, which reflected credit both upon the children and their teachers. Perhaps the most pleasing feature was the songs by the pupils, conducted by Miss Scott.
