Senior NCO's Dinner Dance Held At S'Side Last Night

The first regimental dinner-dance of senior N. C. O.'s of the 17th Recce Regiment was inaugurated last evening at the Legion Home, Summerside, with great success, with Regimental Sergeant Major Charlie Ryan as master of ceremonies. The commanding officer, Lt.-Col. E. K. Kennedy was guest speaker. Before the delicious banquet was enjoyed, two minutes silence in tribute to the late Lt.-Col. R. D. MacNeill was observed following which officers, senior N. C. O.'s and their wives sat down to a turkey dinner prepared and served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Summerside Branch Canadian Legion. W. O. 1 Ryan extended a hearty welcome to all in attendance and stated it was his sincere hope that the event could be made an annual affair. Sergeant Major Ryan introduced Lt.-Col. A. W. Rogers, who spoke briefly, the regiment's padre, Rev. C. R. Webber, and the squadron commanders and their wives, Major R. J. Mahar, Major G. L. Monkley, and Major L. G. MacNevin, as well as the adjutant, Capt. W. B. Peters. Lt.-Col. Kennedy during his remarks in which he spoke of the units progress and of the upcoming summer camp, announced that W. O. 1 Charlie Ryan had won this year's competition as most efficient senior N. C. O. of the regiment.

Political History

(Continued from page 2) eribed the attitude of Nova Scotia between 1850 and 1860 when Joseph Howe as well as the New Brunswick political parties looked to London Eng. "The Metropolitan Centre". Eventually they went as members to Ottawa with the avowed intention of busting up the confederation movement. Speaking of Sir John A. Macdonald as having "made the Liberal Conservative Party and men made the country," Mr. Macquarrie described the fusion of political groups and many humorous incidents which developed chiefly through the activities of his very brilliant opponent, George Brown, who was a clever newspaper man but not effective as a politician. "When Mr. Brown had described how labourers and a low element had been enthusiastically received by Sir John, the latter saw to it that a copy of the paper went to every working man — and Sir John became heir accepted champion politically." "Sir John had great judgment — he was building Canada and he knew it," Mr. Macquarrie said. The building of the C.P.R., the national economic policy and various other highlights were dealt with briefly. He knew that essentially there were two ancient customs to be considered and ironed out. "It all were French and Catholic in one area and all Anglo and Protestant in another there would never be a united Canada. Sir John achieved the impossible in bringing both factions together to map out a course agreeable to both."

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. WILLIAM FOLLAND The angel of Death visited a home in North Granville on March 21st and claimed for his own the beloved wife of William Folland at the age of 79 years. The deceased had been in failing health for the past few years due to a heart condition. On March the 15th, she was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage from which she never rallied. All that could be done in tender nursing and medical skill was done, but God willed otherwise. Deceased was before her marriage Mary Eunice Somers, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Somers of Clinton. She was a kind and loving wife and mother always interested in the welfare of her loved ones and will be sadly missed in the home especially by her aged husband with whom she had celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary on Dec. 24th 1957. The funeral service was held from the North Granville United Church on Monday afternoon and in spite of bad roads was largely attended. It was conducted by Rev. Mr. Bartlett, assisted by Rev. Mr. Rayner. Mr. Bartlett's message contained comforting thoughts for all bereaved friends; he had also visited her in her time of sickness. The hymns sung were "Nearer My God to Thee," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." The body was tenderly laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery to await the resurrection morn. The pallbearers were six grandsons of the deceased Charles Oakes Roy and Francis Folland, William Eric and Albert Trowsdale. Those left to mourn, besides her sorrowing husband, five daughters and two sons namely: Blanche, Mrs. Le Nelson, Spokane, Wash.; Myrtle, Mrs. Myrtle Trowsdale, Summerside; Maise, Mrs. Maise Oakes, N. S'Side Development Forecast In Plan To Exchange Land

In a notice of intention at the Summerside Town Council meeting Monday evening, Councillor W. E. MacCausland announced that he will introduce a motion at a later meeting to arrange for an exchange of land with Brace, MacKay and Company Ltd., by acquiring from them, land situated between First and Foundry Streets, having an area of 14,413 square feet, more or less, in exchange for a block of land owned by the town and situated on the corner of First and Summer Streets, having an area of 3,105 square feet more or less, and the difference in value of the properties being exchanged is to be adjusted by a payment of $5,500 to Brace, MacKay Co. Ltd. The preamble to the notice of intention stated this proposed transaction is because past expansion of the business section of the town has been limited to an east and west direction; and because certain lands adjacent to the centre of the business section are now available, which could provide for expansion to a northward direction, and these lands may not be later available; and because the council deem it advisable to acquire the lands now, so that future expansion may be possible; and finally because a representative of Brace, MacKay Company is already desirous of erecting a modern merchandise sales outlet on the corner of First and Summer Streets. CORRESPONDENCE READ This announcement followed the earlier reading of correspondence between town and Steadmans Ltd., in which it was revealed that the town had offered $10,000 to this company for a 14-foot section of the property recently acquired from Brace, MacKay. While taking the matter under consideration by their Board of Directors, the Company pointed out that the offer by the town was actually less than the land had cost them. However, the letter recognized the need of this land by the town in order to improve the Summer Street area. The correspondence indicated the actual transfer of this property will be between Steadmans Ltd., and the MacArthur Estate, who will, in turn, deed a similar area of 14 feet from the western boundary of their property, so that Summer Street can be widened by the town, and a new business area opened up in a northward direction on Summer Street off Water Street. SHOPPING DISTRICT These plans envisage a new shopping district for the town, with Brace, MacKay Co. Ltd., acquiring a site approximately where the temporary J. and S. Clothing Store is now situated in order to build a modern furniture store. The plan would be to move the J. and S. Store slightly to the north. In return the town, after paying a sum of money, would acquire all the land on which the warehouses of Brace, MacKay Co., are now located between First and Foundry Streets. According to the long range plans which take into consideration the eventual removal of the Fire Hall, new business sites would be made available on Summer and Foundry Streets, with the latter being widened. First Street could then be used as an unloading area for business premises on both Water and Foundry Streets. In the meantime the land acquired by the town could be used as a parking area and according to a plan prepared by the town manager could park 49 cars.

Easter Pageant Is Presented

To a capacity congregation in the O'Leary Baptist Church the Easter Drama "The Gardener" by E. D. Yale, was presented on Good Friday evening. This drama, with a cast of fifteen characters took place in a beautiful setting depicting the garden of Joseph of Arimathea. Grass matting covered the stage floor with a background of imitation rock walling. Over this Wall hung ivy, ferns and mums, and will be sadly missed in the home especially by her aged husband with whom she had celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary on Dec. 24th 1957. The funeral service was held from the North Granville United Church on Monday afternoon and in spite of bad roads was largely attended. It was conducted by Rev. Mr. Bartlett, assisted by Rev. and he added the colourful ingredient which Borden lacked in their joint contribution.

"Laurier was brought down by conscription, the crisis he had strained to avoid." Mr. Macquarrie said as he concluded that phase of political history. "There is no danger of a recurrence of this situation — the nation has developed beyond it — there will never be a default in Canadianism in Quebec — Moderation is the key-word and we have a great area of agreement all of which has to be taken into account." "Each and everyone of us is important in the development of Canada as her position is broadened and solidified in national advancement," Mr. Macquarrie concluded. The speaker was thanked on behalf of the Association by Bennett Carr. The meeting was opened by singing The Queen, followed by Grace by Rev. Canon J. T.
