MARCH 28, 1895.

CHANGE AT THE MERCHANTS BANK OF P. E. ISLAND.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Merchants Bank of P. E. Island, held this morning, the cashier, Mr. William McLean, tendered his resignation. This step Mr. McLean was compelled to take owing to ill health, which of late has manifested itself in a way not to be disregarded. The Board reluctantly accepted the resignation and, we hear, made a suitable recognition of Mr. McLean's long and faithful service. Mr. J. Milton Davidson has been appointed Cashier in Mr. McLean's place, and Mr. Charles McLean has been appointed to Ledger-keeper.

A CHANGE OF POLICY DEMANDED.

The Patriot of last evening declares that the Provincial debt "should not be allowed to increase one dollar more." In that case, we must have a new Government and a new policy. The Patriot says: "As we understand the Treasurer's balance, the total debt of the Province is as follows: Debentures Account, $185,000.00; Loan do, 40,265.50; Treasury Balance, Dec. 31st, 1894, 117,742.62; Stock Farm Balance, March, 1894, 7,305.88; 350,314.00.

According to Patriot's party, the debt of the Province in 1891 was $171,931.97. So that the Peters party have, according to their own showing, added to the debt, 178,382.03. This is a decidedly bad showing for a party which mounted to power on the cry that their opponents had heaped deficit upon deficit.

We all know that the Grit statement of 1891 was wrong to the extent of $70,000. But we let that pass, and we say nothing about the outstanding accounts of last year, in view of the Patriot's practical admission that the present Government have, in three short years, sunk the Province in debt to the amount of close upon $200,000.00! This, together with taxation, uttered in the days of Sullivan and Ferguson, has followed the admission to office of the Honorable Frederick Peters and his party.

The record of the Liberal Conservative Government so far as expenditures are concerned, was as follows:

Table with columns for years (1890-1894) and expenditure amounts. Total expenditure for 1894 is $305,799.38.

The deficit being, in 1892, $37,651.29; in 1893, $119,842.33; and in 1894 (after collecting nearly $45,000 in taxes) $20,164.21—a total, in three short years, of $177,657.83. Yes, this is a decidedly bad record for the party of retrenchment and economy!

The real truth of the matter is that the Liberal-Conservatives left the finances in an improved condition, having obtained more than enough to cover all their deficits, while the Liberals (so-called) have heaped up a debt to the amount of about $200,000.00.

The Patriot says that "the expenditure can be still further cut down, and we should see the succession tax, in a year or two, will help the revenue." Is it come to this? Must we look to the dying and the dead for the money needed to keep the debt from still further increasing?

It is not, rather, evident that our present financial position demands a complete and radical change of Government and policy?

NOTES AND COMMENTS. Deposits in the Post Office savings banks continue to increase month by month. The Montreal Gazette remarks that there is somewhere a good foundation being laid for the business revival when it starts.

Free trade as it is in England? does not command the approval of the Liberals of British Columbia. The Victoria Times, a leading Liberal organ of the province, says: "It will pay the farmers of the whole of British Columbia to take a wide view of the fiscal question. A fear prevails among a portion of them that if the Liberals get into power all the duties on farm products will be at once removed and the local markets will be thrown open to the 'cheap products of Washington.' There is nothing in the Liberal platform to warrant the conclusion."

What about the promises of the Liberal leaders to remove from the tariff every "vestige of protection?" Montreal Witness: If the Government comes to terms with the Newfoundland delegates who are about to start for Ottawa, the present parliament during the session just called will have an opportunity of passing upon that question. There can be little doubt that the Dominion Government will offer the Newfoundland Government fair and even generous terms; but such conditions as those telegraphed from Newfoundland are, of course, out of the question. The instantly favorable effect upon Newfoundland's credit of her union with Canada would of itself afford great financial relief to the island. With the present outlook for a very good seal fishery this year, brighter prospects are opening up for Newfoundland.

THE REPORTED RESIGNATION.

COMMENTING upon Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper's reported resignation the St. John Sun says:

"The doubtful feature of the announcement is the fact that the reasons are not adequate. The ministers could hardly be expected to resign on the same ground as such a subject as the date of the election. It is not essential that they should be. That is a question of expediency or convenience. It is not a question of principle. There are reasons why a free trader should not be a member of a protectionist government. But a minister who thinks that parliament should be dissolved in April is in no way obligated to resign because the cabinet decides not to bring on the elections until the autumn. Parliament has the right to exist until next March. It can without a jar to the constitution be resolved tomorrow. No great principle is violated and no right is taken from the people by either course. A minister in favor of either course could without renouncing his freedom of conscience or impairing his self-respect consent to the other. It might be suggested that having passed the remedial order the government ought to have appealed to the nation on that issue. A principle is involved in this suggestion. But there is every reason why the Manitoba question should not be the chief issue in an election. It is not fit to be an issue. It is not the question on which parties are divided. It does not directly affect more than one province. It cannot be made an issue without arousing sectarian and race bitterness which public men should avoid rather than promote. Suppose the Government should win on the Manitoba issue, would that show that its general policy was supported by the people? Suppose it should lose? What could be more consequential than that? We should have a Laurier Government and the abolition of protection, because the people of Canada do not want Roman Catholic schools restored in Manitoba. The chief issue before the people of Canada in the next election should be the tariff issue. On the school question there is no material difference between the present ministry and the one which would be formed if the government were defeated. The main difference between this ministry and a Laurier government would be that the new ministry would sweep away every vestige of protection. On this issue, which is the real one, we expect to find Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper in the van of the fight. There is no harm in his holding out his opinion until the last moment. But we are quite sure that he will not permanently retire from the Government because of a disagreement as to the date of the elections."

MR. MARTIN'S PLATFORM.

Mr. Joseph Martin, M. P., is credited with the authorship of the following, which has been freely circulated around Portage la Prairie and independent electors of Macdonald. Awake! arise! or be forever fallen.

"If it is to prosper, increase in population and give work to the idle, the Bay railway, Manitoba must have free trade with all the world.

"Canadian electors have never had a chance to vote for free trade and direct taxation.

"The Conservative policy is protection. We have no use for that; although till now it has raised sufficient revenue and kept up the public credit of Canada.

"Tariff for revenue tinkering, with more free goods, would not give enough revenue, but it would unsettle business and do harm. It might take the duty off your hat and put it on your boots, but you can't get your socks off to buy a pair of boots.

"The Liberals and Patrons have promised you that policy—a high tax on property valuations, revenues of incorporated companies, and on incomes over one thousand dollars, with the present inland revenue, would give free trade and plenty of money to pay for it.

"Are you afraid of that? At any rate it is plain and above board. You will know then what you are paying to support the Government, and save money.

"Nearly half a century ago, the Liberal association of Quebec had free trade with all the world as part of their policy. Are we nearer free trade now than they were then? No! for on the 12th of April, 1894, the Liberal leader said, in the House of Commons: 'The policy of the Liberal party is not free trade as it is in England, that is the ideal, that is the goal. We will, however, have for a great many years to go still collecting our revenue by customs duties.'

"This empty ideal, this hope of an imaginary goal, has been the fond dream of hundreds of thousands of politically gullible Canadians, who are now reposing in their stent graves having never even seen a loaf of bread like Moses, to ascend the mountain and see the promised land; and now the 'silver tongued' orator has assurance enough to tell the next generation of electors, that they shall not go over Jordan, but must fall down and worship his beautiful ideal of free trade, and keep on their knees in the wilderness, with the custom house whip lashing their backs, until they die!

"Electors of Macdonald! Demand a straight independent free trade candidate to advocate free trade with all the world for Canada, and direct taxation.

"If you elect your action will be handed down in history! You will be famous! And you will show the world that your maiden constituency is not satisfied with still playing-out catch words, that will never do her any good. You have been fooled too long, but they cannot fool the people all the time.

Considerable coal is being hauled over the Joggins railway at present. Trains are running day and night over the road, and it is estimated about 650 tons are brought out to the Junction daily.

The Marquis of Lorne has written a libretto for an opera. The Marquis wrote the words for a national song for Canada, but it never had a chance against 'God Save the Queen.' For his musical reputation, it is to be hoped his newer effort will take better with the mass.

Seeding has been started in some parts of the Northwest, as a Winnipeg despatch announces. There is room for a good many varieties of climate in this big country, and we have them, and in some of them the wild westeners have the start of the rest of us.

Admiral Togo, who committed suicide rather than face defeat at Wei-Hai-Wei, was honored after his death by his Japanese countrymen, and by the representatives of other nations. It was left for his own countrymen to drag his body from the coffin and expose his mangled remains on the streets.

The New York bank statement shows that specie is going out of the banks but is not going into the national treasury. It is not going into circulation either. Perhaps it is going into stockings, to come out when a misguided Congress legislates so as to put the money of commerce at a premium.

Mr. Gladstone was vociferously cheered by the London crowd on his return from the continent. He is expected to greatly help the Government in securing the Speakership difficulty. Some almost think he may settle the Premiership difficulty also by taking it himself. He did this once before after he had retired from the worries of public life, and was still capable in several ways of doing as peculiar a thing.

While the British squadron was recently weighing anchor in the harbor of Wei Hai Wei during a fierce gale a heavy sea swept over the forecastle of the flagship Centurion, drowning a seaman named Edwards. During the confusion which followed the Albatross came into collision with the Centurion and seriously damaged her boiler plates. Both ships drifted dangerously near the lee shore, but managed to get clear and steam out to sea.

Princess Beatrice, who is now the Queen's constant companion, has of late been always present during her interviews with the ministers, and is recognized in official circles as practically the wielder of all the royal prerogatives. It is well understood that the Queen has willed to this favored daughter the bulk of her savings, believed to be £1,500,000 ($7,500,000), together with Osborne and Balmoral, both residences being the private property of the Royal mother.

Rival Bismarck is undoubtedly a living force in politics when the question of a compliment to him on his birthday throws the Reichstag into confusion, causes the President and Vice-President to resign, and leaves the whole nation in question of the hour for the whole nation. Bismarck once more has the Emperor at his back and the Reichstag against him. In opposing the congratulatory message, his enemies have played into his hands. They have brought him into greater prominence than ever, and no doubt the sly old politician is laughing in his sleeve at his supposed discomfiture.

The New York Tribune's special London cable says: Rumors of dissolution increase. The news telegraphed to the Tribune last week respecting Lord Rosebery's illness and its possible consequences to Parliament has now found its way into the London papers, and the Government and the ministerial organs are expectant of an early break-up to the Cabinet. If the removal of Walter Cassel does not benefit the Premier he may try a short sea voyage, but in the present critical condition of the Ministry his absence from the helm of state cannot be long endured.

In addition to the Cabinet anxiety over the Veto bill, the recalcitrant Liberal brewers and the Irish Nationalists, fresh troubles are developing over the speakership.

Harold Frederic cables from London to the New York Times: The return of Mr. Gladstone would have been the occasion of a great popular demonstration this afternoon, but, unhappily, the dense fog in the channel delayed his steamer, and he did not arrive till dusk. Despite the hour and the gathering rain, a huge crowd assembled in the station and out on the Strand, and volleys of hearty cheering were raised as the carriage finally emerged. Mr. Gladstone himself seemed physically vigorous, and walked across the platform to the cab with erect bearing and firm step. The profile is a good one to turn, but to look him in the eye he is alert and strong-faced as ever. Indeed, all who were in the small reception party on the Strand commented to one another after he had gone how singularly the tense, eager expression of his countenance recalled the old days when he came to the House, and volleys of hearty cheering were raised as the carriage finally emerged. QUEEN AND PREMIER.

It is again rumored that the Queen is ill. Health. Mrs. Crawford writes to London Truth to say that on arrival at the railway station at Nice, the Queen seemed unable to raise her eyelids; as if wanting strength to look otherwise. One might have thought she did not feel her feet under her, as with the assistance of her servants she tried to descend the sloping gangway from the train into the station. It is well known among those familiar with court affairs that rheumatism of the knees has lately not only developed complete loss of power over both legs, but has extended to the back and arms, and that a fatal issue is to be feared at almost any time. The reports of the Queen's condition seriously affect the parliamentary situation. With the death of a sovereign Parliament is immediately dissolved. This contingency is undoubtedly an important factor in all the present calculations. The political atmosphere, in fact, is charged with sensational possibilities. It is to be hoped that this picture of an aged and beloved sovereign is largely overdrawn. But taken in connection with the report concerning the Premier, it cannot be denied that the political situation in Great Britain is decidedly unsettled. It is stated that Lord Rosebery is in almost complete retirement in the country, and the Premiership practically is out of commission. His physicians give only the guarded opinion that he may soon recover. The World correspondent learns from friends of Earl Spencer, First Lord of the Admiralty, who visited him yesterday at Epsom, that Lord Rosebery still is able to get only a few hours sleep out of the twenty-four, and that only in the afternoon. Those who saw him at the brief cabinet meeting the other day say his hair has turned quite white within the past month in consequence of his intense suffering and continued insomnia. Of course, this situation cannot last, and unless some relief is speedily found he will certainly resign at no distant day. There has not been an hour in the past three weeks when he would not have done so except for the opposition of his friends. Should the Conservatives come into power at the general election, necessitated by such resignation, they probably would have a short tenure—unless they could repeat their success—for the Queen's death is considered inevitable within a year or two at most.
