Whim Road Farm Forum

..*The Whim Road Farm Forum met on December 15th, at the home of Mr. Leslie Stuart. The topic was "Building for Peace". By dramatization the steps were outlined which are being taken to try to keep the peace. It showed that parts played by the U. N. and N. A. T. O. the subject was one which provoked a great deal of discussion.

There were three leading questions submitted:

No 1" Do you think that the United Nations offers hope for world peace." the conclusion of the group was that the United Nations offered hope for peace but not as a certainty.

No 2 "How can we as Canadian citizens, help bring peace to the world?" The Forum felt that an exchange of views with other people could result in much friendship which would help to build the peace.

No 3 "Some people think a world government will be necessary before lasting peace is assured. What do you think?" The Forum thought world government might help but it would not insure peace.

For a future topic the Forum submitted the following: why the great difference between producer and consumer prices of meats and poultry products?

During the time usually set aside for recreation a lively controversy developed over the merits and demerits of the weight scale on the topic for measuring live cattle. Final conclusions are still pending.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Webb Nicholson.
