Rotarians Addressed By 4-H Club Spokesmen

Mr. Kelvin Blacquiere of North Rustico and Miss Isabel MacCallum of Brackley Point, King and Queen respectively of the 4-H Clubs of P.E. Island, gave a comprehensive and lucid explanation of the aims and objects of their organization before a representative body of business and professional men in Rotary at the weekly luncheon Monday. The meeting was held at the Charlottetown Hotel and presided over by Bob Parent, chairman of the rural-urban committee with Reg Bell as co-chairman.

The ensign or emblem of the 4-H Club is a four leaf clover with an "H" on each leaf, signifying the pledge "Heads to clear thinking, Hearts to greater loyalty, Hands to larger service and Health to better living for Club, Community and Country." This year the membership throughout Canada stands at 73,000 who are celebrating the 25th anniversary of the foundation of the organization.

BOTH SEXES ACTIVE

"King" Blacquiere, who was the first speaker, pointed out that the prevailing impression that 4-H Clubs were a boy's organization was far from correct. There are now 36,000 active girl members who take part in 18 projects, from home economics and sewing, to stock raising and gardening. At the Royal Winter Fair this year, scarcely a day passed without a club member winning honours.

While 4-H clubs really date back to 1912, it was not until 1924 when trips to the Royal Winter Fair were awarded to winners at Rural Youth Fairs in each province, that the organization began vigorously to pursue club activities. Now more than 100 boys and girls represent 4-H Clubs from all over Canada at the Fair in Toronto.

Boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 are eligible for enrollment in the clubs which now total 1,083 throughout Canada. Mr. Blacquiere urged that sons and daughters engaged in club projects should be encouraged "for they are the citizens of tomorrow, and the future rests in their hands."

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

"Queen Isabel" said that 4-H Club work stressed community spirit,and for this reason she was glad to let people know what the organization stands for and what they are doing to make better citizens of young people in Canada and 19 other countries. She described the organization and its contact with the various Provincial Departments dealing with Agriculture. She told of the inner workings of the clubs and how parliamentary procedure was followed at meetings.

Dealing with club routine Miss McCallum described the work of her own Club at Brackley Point, where last year each of 19 members was expected to obtain a calf, feed and care for it and show it on Achievement Day. 15 calves were shown on that day.

"Speaking as a girl", Miss McCallum said, "I sincerely feel that it is worth while for every girl who has the opportunity, to be a Club member because they can by study, observance and practical experience, better understand what it requires to make and keep animal husbandry the back-bone of Agriculture."

STRESSES COOPERATION

In expressing the thanks of the club, co-chairman Reg Bell stressed the necessity of close co-operation between city and rural folk in the developmentof a healthy economy.

President Frank Curtis announced the appointment of a Rotary blood donors committee consisting of Art Wellner, Reg Jenkins, Bob Pitt, Clare Hodgson and Rev. T. H.B. Somers, under the chairmanship of Bill Hayward.

The executive and team members of the Nomads football organization, winners of the McCurdy Cup were club guests as were also Gregor McCallum, Brackley Point and James Blacquiere, North Rustico, fathers of the guest speakers, Mr. Gus Flynn and Mr. W.A. Gaudet.

GIRL GUIDE NEWS

TRAINING DAY

How could Guiding in Prince Edward Island help but flourish with such spirit as is shown by our Trainers and Guiders. Training Day which was held at Epworth Hall in Summerside Saturday was AND Blue Guiders were there a huge success. Brown Guiders from all over the Island. There was Muriel Richards from Souris, her husband brought her in from Souris after his work Friday night arriving in the City about 1.30 A.M. so that Muriel could leave first thing in the morning. Ann Cereadine from Georgetown, her husband Joan LeLacheur to Charlottetown brought Ann. Ann Murphy and before daylight while the rest of us were sleeping in our beds. Kay Steele, Morell, missed her drive and she had to hitch. That is the spirit prevailing among our Guiders, all eager to learn and to bring the best back to their Companies, and believe me they got the best.

The Training Sessions conducted by Mrs. Charles Linkletter, Miss Suzanne MacKinnon, Mrs. W. J. Rodd, and Mrs. Harry Cudmore and Mrs. Ferno Rogers were interesting and instructive. The ladies of the Local Association served lunch at noon to all out-of-town Guiders and a dinner at night to al Guiders. Mrs. Fred Jenkins gave a very interesting talk about her visits to different companies while visiting England and Scotland. Miss Carry Holman, another good friend of Guiding congratulated Mrs. Marilyn Linkletter, Captain of 1st Summerside Company, on winning the Bessborough Shield and gave it to Mrs. Linkletter to hold until it can be properly presented to the company

A worthwhile day was brought to an end with evensong and Taps. All were high in their praise of the time and effort put into this day by Mrs. Linkletter, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Cudmore, Miss McKinnon, Mrs. Rodd and Mrs. Dumont, Commissioner for Training.

Now Guides, it is up to you. Your leaders wil not disappoint you, don't disappoint them. Have a full attendance at your meetings. Be co-operative, try to make your company the best.Helen Smith.

CANADA TO PROSPER

ROBERVAL, Que. (CP) — This year promises to be the best to date for Canadian civil aviation, Transport Minister Marler said Tuesday. "Canada has become an important factor in international aviation, not merely because of her geographical position but because Canadians themselves like to travel by air," he said in a speech following opening of a new runway at the Roberval municipal airport.

Pope's Mystic Vision Reported From Vatican

By Webb McKinley

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The weekly Osservatore Della Domenica, published in the Vatican, says the Pope heard a voice saying "a vision will come" the day before the image of Christ is reported to have appeared at his bedside.

The account, to be published in the Weekly's Dec. 4 issue, was carried this morning in the newspaper Il Quotidiano, organ of the Italian laymens' organization Catholic Action.

The magazine says that last Dec. 1 during the Pontiff's grave illness he heard a voice saying "a vision will come."

"The mysterious announcedment was confirmed the next morning," the weekly says. "On Dec. 2, while the first light of dawn was breaking, the Pope saw: The Lord was close beside him, silent, in all His majesty.

"Pius XII thought this was the call: Jesus had come to him to tell him follow Me."

COMFORT, NOT CALL

"He interpreted the silence to mean "Magister adest et vocat te the Master is present and calls you.

"The Pope replied, 'O bone Jusu, o bone Jesu voca me; jube me venire ad jte. . .' Oh good Jesus, oh good Jesus, call me; order me to come to you."

According to the first published account in the Italian weekly illustrated magazine Oggi, the vision came to comfort him, not to call him.

Osservatore Della Domenica's report was virtually the same as Oggi's, save for its acount of the warning voice a day before the vision.

RAPID RECOVERY

The Vatican weekly denies a published report in Milan's Corriere Della Sera that the vision itself spoke to the Holy Father.

Osservatore Della Domenica says: "The same morning the Pope spoke of the mystic visit to a very few intimates. These persons that evening, when the worsening of the Pope's condition spread such great apprehension through Rome and the world, thought for a moment that the Lord had truly commanded his servant to follow him. But Pius XII was saved for the Church and Cath olicism ni the Church and Catholicism. . .'

The Pope, soon after the reported vision, made a rapid recovery

Workshop Patterns

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

This family of carol singers is made from a panel of hardboard. A pattern available to readers is taped in place and traced for sawing out the blank including the street lamp. When the first coat of white is dry the fun of adding the colors begins. Just tape on the pattern and trace spaces for the colors. Begin with daddy's red striped cane and muffler. Then junior's mittens and stocking cap; and mamma's red bow. There are lots of spaces for vivid blues and holly greens, with just the right shade for the faces. Every detail is complete on pattern 414 which will be postpaid for $1.50. Guardian Pattern Dept., 443 West 5th Avenue, Vancouver, B.C.

MRS. HUGH MacSWAIN

There passed peacefully away a Cable Head West on Oct. 30th., 195 one of its most beloved and respected residents in the person o Mrs. Hugh MacSwain in her 73rd year at the home of her daughter Mrs. Arthur Anderson. Her death came after a long and painful illness against which the best of medical care and loving ministration of her family could not avail Through all the long period of suffering she never complained but bore it all with unwavering faith and patience.

Loved by friends and neighbours she will be missed by all who knew her, but most sorely by those in the family circle. Her maiden name was Mary Elizabeth, daughter of the late Martin and May (Hall) Nicholson of Milltown Cross

Left to mourn are two sons and one daughter, John H., Cardigan Head; Alexander, St. Peters North Effie, Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Cable Head West; one brother, John W Milltown Cross; two brothers, and two sisters predeceased her, Samuel and Fredrick, Milltown Cross Margaret, Mrs. Wm. MacLaren Brudenell, and Ester, Mrs. John MacSwain, Roseneath.

She was a member of Cardigan Presbyterian Church and on moving to Cable Head West transferred her membership to Greenwich United Church. Her funeral was held from the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs Arthur Anderson on Nov. 1st. conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. A MacLeod, who spoke words of comfort and hope to the bereaved. The hymns sung were "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "I Hear a Welcome Voice," and the male choir of the congregation sang.

The many beautiful flowers bore silent testimony to the love and affection for one who has gone to the haven of rest were pain and sorrow are unknown. The pall bearers were Leslie MacLaren Leith Sanderson, Iruy MacKenzie Harold Lewis, James Lewis, and Carswell Powell. Funeral was directed by Dingwells of Souris. Interment was in the Midgell Cemetery

EPSOM, England (CP) — An 84-year-old was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He told police he was celebrating his wife's birthday.

FARMS CAUSE LAG

OTTAWA (CP)—A sharp reduction in agricultural output was the chief reason for Canadian commodity production declining in 1954 for the first time since 1945. The bureau of statistics said Monday preliminary data indicates that the net value of agricultural production declined about 28 per cent in the year. The net value of manufacturing production dropped about two per cent.
