

New Zealand Watches Arctic Developments

J. C. GRAHAM, Press Correspondent, AND, N.Z. (CP) — New Zealand is watching warily developments in the frozen wastes to the south.

The next few years will see most intensive effort in the Antarctic. At least 10 plan to establish bases in the continent, some of which will be permanent.

Americans this summer plan to make a shuttle service of the continent from New Zealand to the continent now is well advanced.

Zealand claims to administer a substantial sector of the continent south of New Zealand ending to the south pole. It is one of the most active of the Antarctic claims.

BASE PLANNED — Although New Zealand has never established a base there. Plans are under way to set up the first New Zealand base at the McMurdo Sound area under the leadership of Sir Edmund Hillary.

The Russians and Americans have made New Zealand a far more vigorous than in the past will be by claims to sovereignty.

In this point of view the plans are being welcomed, as assurance that a friendly United States activity has been some questions of sov-
