

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

FEBRUARY 5, 1896.

THE RESULT IN CAPE BRETON.

In the classic language of the Toronto Globe, the opposition "put up a big fight" against Sir Charles Tupper. All the power of the Local Government was brought to bear against him. All that money, slander and lies could do was done to defeat him. All that a lively ingenuity could invent, and a long experience in "human devices" could suggest, was attempted to accomplish his defeat.

But their confidence was all the while mistaken. Their attacks were repelled by Sir Charles Tupper with a vigor and spirit that surprised his warmest admirers. From the moment of his entry into the County, the tide of victory began to turn in his favor, and for several days past the question has been merely one of "the majority." The returns of last evening show that, despite the tremendous odds that were against him, the majority rolled up by Sir Charles is close upon eight hundred! If he had been in the County another week, it would, without a doubt, have been upwards of a thousand, even though their opponents had an advantage in the voters' list of close upon nine hundred votes.

This great victory may be taken as decisive of the question whether or not the party of the National Policy will be successful in the general elections. Sir Charles Tupper's success in Cape Breton may be likened to that of Mr. Gladstone in his first campaign in Middlesex. Like Mr. Gladstone upon that occasion, Sir Charles has taken the country by storm, and it is evident that, like Mr. Gladstone, his success in the bye-election will be followed by a great victory for his party in the general election. An assuring factor in this regard is the unanimity and cordiality of the support of the Protestants and Catholics. The attempt made by the Opposition to divide the strength of the Liberal-Conservatives upon the question of Remedial legislation failed, as it ought to fail, and we have no doubt that it will fail again, in the course of a few months, throughout the wide extent of this great Dominion. The reputation of Sir Charles Tupper is now world-wide. He stands for a closer union of the British Empire. He stands for more intimate trade relations between the Mother Country and her colonies in all parts of the world. He stands for the continued development and prosperity of Canada by a National Policy under which railway and telegraph communication has been provided between Victoria and Sydney, and all the great industries of the Dominion have been wonderfully enlarged. With Sir Charles Tupper as Leader of the House of Commons and influential in the Cabinet we have the best guarantee that can be afforded that the great Liberal-Conservative Party will continue to march on to victory.

THE FRUIT MEETINGS

We trust that the great and general interest exhibited in the meetings held by Mr. Craig betokens a time in the near future when our farmers will work together for the production of fruit, as they are working together for the production of butter and cheese. No doubt a great deal of the interest shown arises from the fact that Lieutenant-Governor Howland has taken pains to awaken it. The presence at the meetings of Mrs. Howland and other ladies is auspicious of the success of the movement, for if our men and women exert themselves to the same end success must be more certain. In the nature of fruit-growing there must be delay at the beginning, and patience will have to be exercised. But if a beginning be made with small fruits, and advantage taken of the facilities for canning the surplus products there will be a distinct gain to this Province, even before we are able to ship our luscious apples, in quantity, to the British markets. Professor Craig's lectures were very good as an addition to the store of practical information which is needed by our fruit growers, and which is essential to the success of the enterprise. We are at one with the Honorable David Laird in the hope that Mr. Craig will, ere long, deliver a series of lectures, in which all that is to be done and guarded against in fruit growing will be set forth in detail.

FRUIT GROWING IN P. E. ISLAND.

A Synopsis of Mr. Dillon's Remarks.

Mr. J. Heber Haslam's Paper.

After Professor Craig had concluded his address, a summary of which was given in THE EXAMINER yesterday, Mr. T. J. Dillon, came forward and briefly addressed the meeting. Mr. Dillon endorsed everything that had been said by Messrs. Craig and McKee with regard to fruit-growing. He thought that on account of the quality of the fruit produced here, there should be an unlimited market, and that if the Island were all one orchard, the area would not be too great. Manure was absolutely necessary to the production of quality fruit, and that the cheese-dairies in the Island should produce and sell only the concentrated product. No oats should be sold off the farm for less than 50 cents per bushel, or hay for less than $15 per ton. He explained that the cheese-dairies in the Island during the past season had been sold, and that the balance due the patrons would be paid just as soon as the detailed account of the sales had been received. The individual accounts could be made ready, which would likely be within six or eight weeks. An advance of 50 cents per hundred pounds of milk, will at once be made to the patrons who have been supplying milk to the creameries. This advance will include all milk supplied up to January 31st. It would have been made before if the money had been available. Although the weather during the past few days has seemed cold, the quantity of milk received at the creamery today, (Tuesday), was over 13,000 pounds. This with the cream received from the separating stations would be worth about $2,000. There had been over 40,000 pounds of butter made in Charlottetown since work began on Dec. 3rd. This had been an excellent advertisement for Prince Edward Island, as he had published his plans to have it published far and wide. He had even gone so far as to have an article written in Danish showing the extent of the work in this line, which article would shortly be published in the papers of Denmark, the object being to encourage the emigration of dairymen from that country to this Province. There were only 350 farmers patronizing the creameries, and there are nearly 10,000 on the Island. There is a great deal of work to be done yet, and we want the assistance of all the business men, professional men and mechanics. There had been considerable agitation for a creamery and cold storage building last summer and fall, and the matter should not be allowed to drop, as the building was badly needed. He showed that the wharfage, freight, insurance and trucking on the best supplied to Montreal last season would amount to nearly $4,000, which sum might have been saved to the milk producers if proper accommodation was available here. He claimed that by working together we should be able to get a low rate of freight from Charlottetown to Liverpool or any other desirable port in Great Britain as from Montreal. By combining the dairy, fruit and vegetable growing, and canning, pickling, etc., he thought there would be no difficulty in providing cargoes for a small steamer which might make monthly trips between here and Great Britain. He strongly urged the uniting of the fruit-growers and dairymen in one association, and recommended Alfred E. Dewar and F. B. McKee, as suitable persons to take action with a view to the adoption of his suggestion.

Messrs. A. E. Dewar, T. B. McKee and Richard Barker, were then elected delegates to the fruit growers' association. Votes of thanks were then tendered Messrs. Craig, Dillon and McKee for their valuable addresses and papers. A vote of thanks was also tendered His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, who presided. The meeting then closed.

MR. J. WEBER HASLAM'S PAPER.

The following paper was prepared for the meeting yesterday, but owing to Mr. Haslam's absence at half past seven, it was not read. We omit Mr. Haslam's introductory remarks:

That apples, plums, cherries and nearly all the small fruits will grow in abundance in this Province there can be no doubt. There are hundreds of old orchards scattered over this Province that yield a crop of care that would produce no other crop. It is true this fruit is not a very good quality, and brings its owners in very little return, but this is not the fault of the Province, but of our methods. Nearly every one of the small fruits grow here in their wild state, and there is no reasonable limit to the capacity of the Province to grow strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries. I am sure that thousands of bushels of those fruits went to waste in this Province last year. But it is not only the wild fruits that will grow, but the cultivated varieties as well, and if there was any organized effort made to utilize the small fruit possibilities of the Province in the way of canning and preserving, thousands of dollars might be realized for the revenue of the farmer. There is abundance of cheap labor for the picking. Hundreds of expert canners from the lobster factories are out of employment during the fruit canning season, and would be available. We have the very best facilities for getting cheap sugar from the West Indies, and the lumber vessels to Mananicoi would bring us sugar from Germany at a merely nominal freight. The production of pickles would also be done in nicely with the fruit growing, as the culls from the apple orchards could be turned into cider and vinegar, and shallots, cucumbers, etc., grow here as well as anywhere on the coast. This all requires capital and organization to develop. But what has been accomplished in the cheese and lobster business, can be accomplished in the fruit business with energy, care and pluck. But I believe further that the very best quality of winter-keeping apples can be grown here, that will compare favorably with those grown in the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia. Last May I had from my own orchard, apples that were as fine as any I ever tasted. I made a trip to the Pacific coast, and had almost a satiety of the best California, Oregon, and Washington and B.C. fruit; and on my return my wife had some peaches which I thought were nicer than I tasted while away. The green pears were just ripening when I left the Province, and I thought them as luscious as any I got while on the Pacific coast. But the trees on which this fruit grew, were not grown without some trouble. The land was well sheltered and protected from the north winds. The grass and weeds were kept from growing around the trees, to take the nutriment that properly belonged to them. The ground was well manured with ashes, chip and stable manure, and they had at least some show for their life. I cannot say I always succeeded as well with my trees, or need them as well as those I speak of.

This much is sure, that fruit trees that amount to anything, and that will produce good fruit, require care and good cultivation the same as any other crop. Does anyone suppose that potatoes could be grown with the care that is given to the average orchard? In the apple region of Nova Scotia I have seen old orchards that had been bearing for four and five generations, that were kept as free from grass and weeds as a corn field and the harvest and hoe was going on as in the garden, and the result was that those orchards were producing four and five hundred dollars worth of fine apples to the acre. If this Province is ever to amount to anything as a fruit region this lesson will have to be learned.

The best fruit will not grow without the very highest cultivation and care. There is manuring to do, insects to fight, trees to prune, and a great many other things to do so as surely as you can become a skilled and successful orchardist. Fine good flavored and keeping apples are always in demand at paying prices, and it looks as if they would continue to do so as surely as you can become a skilled and successful orchardist. The region in which they can be grown is very limited, and the demand is universal as the apple is undoubtedly the king of fruits. The mistake should not be made of planting too many of the early summer and fall varieties. They are easier grown and come into bearing quicker, but there is practically no demand for them, as people want apples when other fruit is scarce. The old bearing trees should not be neglected as new tops of better varieties can be grafted on them, and they will be productive while a young orchard is growing. Care should be taken to select a suitable situation. A neighbor of mine owns a large orchard on a very rich, well drained piece of land. It had a northern aspect and was overlooking a millpond. He gave it every care and yet he lost the bulk of his trees. My orchard faces the south and has a spruce hedge around it that protects it from the north and west winds, and I have never lost a tree, except from rabbits and snow. If a proper site is not selected no care will make a successful orchard, and no matter how favorable the site, if the trees are not properly cared for, the results will be unsatisfactory. A great many farmers in the Province are deterred from extending their orchards from the fear of midnight frosts. The greatest evil of the kind, and the Legislature should make the penalties for that crime very severe, as it is one of the greatest drawbacks that a fruit grower can have. I know of nothing so annoying as a young orchard stripped of its fruit, and the trees partially ruined, after carefully tending it all summer. If there is a hard cell in the penitentiary, it should be the portion of the sneak fruit thief.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

—Yes, there's life in the old lion yet. —Our Young Liberals were not "a new thesis" last evening by "the glorious news" from Cape Breton. —A week ago it was decided to celebrate Tupper's defeat at a meeting of our "young Liberals." It is said that Mr. Premier Peters was to have been the orator of the occasion, and that the week was spent in anticipation of the occasion. Some of the boys put up bets on the result, and looked forward to a brilliant speech. But the news came from Cape Breton, and that——The Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association at its annual meeting, held at Wolfville on the 2nd inst., unanimously elected His Honor the Honorable George W. Howland, Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island, an honorary member, and ordered the certificate of membership and annual reports to be forwarded to him. This is a pleasant and quite unusual recognition, and we are sure our fruit growers, in whose interest he has put forth such efforts will, in particular, and the Province in general, heartily appreciate it.

By an article in the St. John Daily Record, we are reminded that the family of the late Hon. James I. Fellows, the talented and wealthy inventor of the world-wide known preparation which bears his name, once lived in Charlottetown. According to the Record, his family occupied the house still known as the City Hotel. It was at this time that Mr. Fellows was a clerk in the employ of Mr. Wm. R. Watson. Mr. Fellows died in London on the 22nd January last. The Record gives a long list of the learned societies of which Mr. Fellows was a member.

PROVINCIAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION

The regular annual meeting of the Provincial Rifle Association was held last evening, Colonel Doherty presiding. The proceedings began at half past seven, and were not concluded until about midnight. The report of the Secretary-Treasurer was adopted. It showed a balance on hand of $77.07. Captain Stewart's report of the Ottawa team for 1895, and Colonel Longworth's report of the Maritime team for 1895 were also received.

The Association adopted the suggestion of the New Brunswick Association that the shooting of the Inter-Maritime matches take place at Halifax instead of Drury Range, St. John's.

It was resolved that the selection of the inter-Maritime team of next year be left to the Council; also that 1000 rounds of ammunition and a sum not exceeding $200 be placed at the disposal of the Council for the use of the team. The Ottawa members were increased from ten to twelve members, and a sufficient sum was voted to pay all the expenses of the team. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the Secretary-Treasurer, Lieut. Macdougall, for the efficient manner in which he performed the duties of his office. A hearty vote of thanks was also tendered the President, Lieut. Col. Doherty. The following officers were elected for the year: President—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. Vice-Presidents—His Honor the Master of the Rolls, the Deputy Adjutant-General, Lieut. Col. Doherty, 82nd Batt., chairman; Lieut. Col. Moore, D. A. G., Lieut. Col. Longworth, G. A., Surgeon G. R. Jenkins, G. A., L. E. Prowse, Esq., M. L. A., and Lieut. Col. Doherty, 82nd Batt., Capt. W. A. Weeks, Esq., Capt. G. Crockett, 82nd, Capt. H. M. Davison, G. A., Quarter-Master Sergt. Allen, 82nd Batt., Capt. F. W. L. Moore, G. A., D. Nicholson, Esq., Lieut. E. Stewart, G. A., Lieut. J. A. Melhoul, 82nd Batt., Lieut. Ewen Macdougall was re-elected Secretary. An adding committee composed of Sergt. J. M. Davison and Lieut. E. Stewart was also appointed.

THE VERNON RIVER CONCERT.

Those in town and country who risked the bad roads and attended the concert in the Vernon River Chapel last night were not disappointed in the rich musical treat prepared by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Doyle. The pretty chapel was comfortably filled with an appreciative audience, estimated at about four hundred. Dr. Doyle occupied the chair. Though a few of the vocalists suffered from slight colds, every number was well rendered and many were enthusiastically encored. The genial pastor in his vocal selection had to respond to a second call and sang "Father O'Flynn." The Charlotetown and St. Dunstan's College contingent must not sell their reputation, and Miss Eliza O'Neill, of Notre Dame Convent, received a warm welcome. The selections by the choir showed careful training under a good leader. Following was the programme:

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—In reply to the many false statements circulated by Mr. Clarke's friends, both in the press and in their conversations, permit me to say that I have no connection whatever with the Citizens' League, of which the Hon. Donald Farquharson is president, nor am I in any way associated with any other clique or class. I am contesting the ward independently and in the interest of economical city government. H. C. DORSE.

To the Electors of Ward Five:

Having been asked by a large number of the electors of your Ward to nominate for the coming Council, I have decided to do so, and now beg to solicit your votes. I shall not be able to see you all, but having many years' experience in the Council, you may depend on me in the future to protect your interests as honestly as I have done in the past. I am Respectfully yours, THOS. MORRIS. Feb 5-11/96

A Decisive Conservative Victory

Marking the Turn of the Tide.

A Majority of 700 Equal to 1,500.

HALIFAX, Feb. 5. When Sir Charles Tupper's candidature for Cape Breton County was announced, the Grit leaders promised to make this not only "the fight of his life," but also "a fight for his life," and they have kept their promise. Sir Charles Tupper made the fight of his life, and won his greatest triumph. His election by 300 majority, in view of the tremendous forces arrayed against him, despite the personal canvass made against him, and the disadvantage under which he labored from the outset, would have been a great victory. His election by a majority of 890, in spite of these obstacles, is an overwhelming triumph, and is equivalent, under normal conditions and a fair contest, to 1500 majority. The figures are, Tupper, 3,771; Murray, 3,026; a majority of 745. Sir Charles Tupper will arrive in Halifax this evening, and will be banqueted by the Liberal-Conservatives of Halifax to-morrow night.

We seek the trade of merchants, farmers and gardeners who appreciate the value of First Class Seeds, and supply (wholesale and retail) the high quality of goods which has built up for us the largest seed trade in the Maritime Provinces.

Our prices are fair—as low as you can buy good seeds for—higher than you should pay for poor. It is not their cost, number, how they are put up, or how advertised, that makes good seeds—it's what the seeds themselves are. Our best customers are those who know us best. It is our business to sell the best seeds that grow. This has been our business during the past sixteen years. We can safely claim that we know seeds.
