TOASTMASTERS CLUB

Here are three simple questions which may hold the key to your future.

- 1) Do you ever remain silent even though you feel you have something valuable to say?
- 2) Do you have problems making your ideas understood and getting them accepted?
- 3) Are you willing to spend some of your time to try to resolve this situation?

If you were able to answer YES to all three questions, then the Toastmasters, Communication and Leadership Program will benefit you.

Contact Emmett Bradley at 892-0361, or Horace Crozier at 892-0211 or 894-5353 (home) if you are interested.

The English Department will be showing A Midsummer Night's Dream on Thursday, November 1st and Friday, November 2nd in the Robertson Library Lecture Hall at 7 pm. The comedy was directed by Max Rheinhardt in 1935--only the second Shakespearean play to be filmed. It features a Hollywood cast of Dick Powell, Olivia de Havilland and James Cagney. Weak on acting, the film outdoes even Shakespeare in fantasy.

There will be a general meeting of the Association of International Students on Friday, November 2 at 6:30 in the Student Services Lounge Area, first floor Main Building.
