

VARIETIES.

SIGNS OF A HORSE'S TEMPER.
 The ear—of the size, position, and motion of the ears are important points. Those rather small than the rest are placed not too far apart, erect, and quiet in motion, indicate both breeding and spirit; and if a horse is in the treatment of carrying on the ear forward and the other backward, and especially if he does so on a journey, he will generally possess both spirit and endurance. The stretching of the ears in contrast with the rest, has led to be attentive to everything that is passing around him, and while he is doing this he cannot be much fatigued, nor likely to become so.

It has been remarked, that few horse sold without pointing one ear forward and one ear backward in order that they may receive notice of the approach and be able to proceed not too far from the middle of the train turn out. When horses or mules march in company at night, those in front direct their ears forward; and those in the middle of the train turn out laterally, thus seeming to be actuated by one feeling which watches their general safety.

The ear of a horse is one of the most beautiful parts about his head, and is the temper more safely indicated. The ear is more intelligent even than the eye; and a person acquainted with the use of the horse can determine the position of the organ, almost all that he thinks or means. When a horse lays his ears flat back on his neck, he not only signifies mischief, but indicates a still deeper one. The ears of his feet. In play, the ears will be laid back, but not so decidedly nor so long. A quick change in their position, and a sudden contraction of the organ of the eye at the time, will distinguish between playfulness and vice.

The hearing of the horse is remarkably acute. A slight vibration of the air, or a light touch to make impression on the human ear, are readily perceived by him. It is well known to every hunting man, that the cry of hounds will be conveyed by the horse, his ears will be erect, and he will be all spirit and impatience a considerable time before the rider is conscious of the least sound.—The Horse and the Rider.

ONE HAPPY HEART.

How have you made one happy heart to-day? How lively you can seek your pillow: how sweetly you may sleep in the night, how sweet as getting a living comfort to the distressed—so getting a sun ray into a gloomy eye, and a smile on a sorrowful brow. We turn: there is not a moment that tears are not shed and sighs uttered.—Yet how many of those sighs are caused by our own thoughtlessness, and how many of those tears are shed by the soul of a fond mother by acts of unkindness and ingratitude! How many a husband, by his neglect, makes his wife's life a life of unkind thoughts! How many wives, by their recrimination, estrange and embitter loving hearts.—How many brothers and sisters neglect their aged and infirm parents, and how many wounds that no human heart can heal! Ah! if each one worked upon this maxim, day by day, to make some one happy—some, by his assiduous, mad, love, with their kindred evil associates, would forever leave the earth. If you would sell your labor, labor for it, if you would relish your own life, before you wear it; if you would spend soundly, take a clear conscience to bed with you.

An angry man opens his mouth and shuts up his eyes.—Cato.

RUSSIAN SERFDOM.

Among the limitations of Russian serfdom, are these:
 1. The master cannot sell the serf without the hand on which the serf resides.
 2. The master cannot be separated, and the unmarried children, after the death of parents, constitute a family.
 3. The master's power over the body of the serf extends not to maiming or killing life.
 4. The master cannot require the serf to marry contrary to his own choice and affection.
 5. The serf is entitled to be absent from his master's house for three days of the week, and cannot require labour on the Sabbath or on high festivals.
 6. The serf cannot be held, except by the nobility and certain privileged classes of persons.
 7. They cannot be held, except in proportion to the master's property in hand, there being required for each serf the possession by the master of twenty acres.

A COMPLIMENT TO THE LADIES.—Water Savage Lander, now residing at Bath, England, in his 31st year, became acquainted with Lady Pittman at Florence, in 1825. In Madden's life he was mentioned as that lady, just published, several letters of Landor's. We make the following extract from one of them. He writes to Lady B, "Cannot you teach those boys to write somewhat more purely? I am tired of fatuous, Tully, and I was obliged to correct a friend of mine, a man of fashion, who so far forgot the graces as to say of a lady, 'I have not often been in her company, my 'Say presence;' we are in the company of men, in the presence of angels and women."

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
 EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF ASTHMA!!
 OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY FIVE YEARS OF AGE.
Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Weston, (Book Store), Toronto, dated the 9th October, 1854.
 To Professor Holloway,
 Sir,—Gratitude compels me to make known to you the extraordinary benefit an aged parent has derived from the use of your Pills. My mother was afflicted for upwards of thirty years with the most distressing and spitting of blood; it was quite agony to see her suffer and bear her cough; I have often declared, that I would give all I possessed to see her cured, but although I paid a large sum for medicine and advice, it was all to no purpose. About three months ago, I thought perhaps your Pills might succeed; at all events I resolved to give them a trial, which I did; the result was marvellous; by slow degrees, my mother became better, and after persevering with your remedies for nine weeks, she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health, although seventy-five years of age. I remain, Sir, your obliged,
 (Signed) THOMAS WESTON.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DROPSY.
 AFTER BEING TAPPED THREE TIMES.
Copy of a Letter from Anthony Smith, Esq, 135 King Street, dated the 25th August, 1854.
 To Professor Holloway,
 Sir,—I desire to add my testimony to the value of your Pills, in cases of dropsy. For nine months I suffered from the greatest distress with this distressing complaint; it was tapped three times, and finally given up by the doctors; having become in appearance as if I had been a dead man, I was, however, induced to try your Pills, and immediately sent for a quantity, which I commenced using soon. The result was scarcely credit even now, although it is still. After using them for four weeks, I felt much better, and by persevering with them, at the expiration of two months, I was completely cured. I have since enjoyed the best of health. I am, Sir, yours sincerely,
 (Signed) ANTHONY SMITH.

ANTONISHING CURE OF GENERAL DEBILITY AND LIVER COMPLAINT!!
Copy of a Letter from William Rees, of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, dated the 17th Nov. 1854.
 To Professor Holloway,
 Sir,—I am happy to say, that your Pills have restored me to health after suffering for nine years from general debility, and I have recovered my liver and bowels were also much deranged, for the whole of that time. I tried many medicines, but they all failed to do me any good, and I had recourse to your Pills, by taking which, and following the printed directions for seven weeks I was cured, after every other means failed to the astonishment of my acquaintances, and friends. I shall ever feel grateful to you for this astonishing restoration to health, and will recommend your Pills to all sufferers, feeling it my duty to do so.

I remain, Sir, your humble servant,
 (Signed) WILLIAM REEVES.
