A Shake-up Among the Clothing

When you are spending good money get good clothing in return for it. The kind of clothing we sell is standard made—it's worth every penny you put into it, it gives good service and looks well as long as you wear it. The beginning of this month opens up the fall trade for which we are thoroughly prepared. We have received

- 500 pairs pants from 75c to $4.50.
- 225 Men's Suits from $3.50 to $15.00.
- 125 Boy's Suits from $1.00 to $7.50.
- 300 dozen Men's Underclothing from 40c to $2.50.
- Top Shirts from 25c up.

Will shake up the balance of our stock of summer underclothing at half price. If saving $'s is a hobby of yours, certainly, well encourage the hobby.

SIR CHARLES AND HUGH JOHN

Unprecedented Gathering In Montreal

ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING OF MANITOBA'S PREMIER.

Our Commercial Capital Strong for the Liberal-Conservative Leaders.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER]

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—The Tupper-Foster-Macdonald meeting held last night, inaugurating the Hon. Hugh John Macdonald's entry into Dominion politics, was one of the greatest political successes ever held in Canada. When the doors were opened the crush was so great that the people were carried off their feet and some cried out for God's sake not to crush their lives out.

Ten minutes after the doors were opened the great Windsor Hall was packed and before 8 o'clock hundreds were turned away.

It was afterwards announced from the platform that fully four thousand people were unable to get even standing room.

The spacious platform was filled with Montreal's mercantile princes, with representative citizens in all the walks of life.

When Sir Charles Tupper appeared accompanied by Hugh John Macdonald and Mr. Foster the vast multitude rose as one man and such an ovation as the chiefs received seldom falls to the lot of the most popular.

Sir Charles was listened to with rapt attention, and during his brilliant oration he received hearty applause. He welcomed Mr. Macdonald as a colleague in his campaign. He charged the government with going to the electorate in 1896 and declaring for Free Trade as they have it in England; then going to the great commercial managers and selling themselves, promising not to injure established industries.

He then attacked the government on their preferential tariff policy and its many changes clearly outlining the Mutual Preference Policy of the Conservative Party.

At the conclusion of Sir Charles' speech the chairman attempted to make a few remarks introducing Hugh John Macdonald. But the audience wanted the Premier of Manitoba and called so persistently that the chairman gave way. On arising, Hugh John received such a welcome into the field of Dominion politics as even his late father might be proud of. He feelingly eulogized his leader and in touching terms referred to the friendship between his late father and Sir Charles.

He stated his pleasure to serve under such a grand old man.

He said that if there was one thing Sir John Macdonald did in his life time it was to endeavor to have all Canadians forget their differences of tongue, forget that they served God, some in Catholic some in Protestant churches, and he endeavored to have all join in making Canada a united country, working for one grand object—the advancement of the common interest of this great dominion.

"In whatever I may fail," said he, "I will at least follow my father in that undertaking."

The applause which the Manitoba Premier received as he made point after point against the Government was inspiring. Time after time the vast audience rose and applauded.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

Spirited Debate over the Bridge at Brighton.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held last night. Mayor Warburton presided, and Councillor Balls was the only absentee from the Board.

After the reading of the minutes and other routine business, the Mayor presented two letters respecting a nuisance at the West End, adding that the nuisance complained of had been attended to.

His Worship also presented a petition from Mr. C. A. Hyndman and others complaining that the new bridge at Brighton was too narrow, and asking that it be extended six feet on the north side.

Councillors Horne and Tanton supported the petition, taking exception to the manner in which the bridge was placed and to the purchase of land from Hon. D. Farquharson for $150 that to them seemed unnecessary.

Councillor Lyons emphasized the necessity of care being taken in the work and having it done properly. There must be something wrong about the bridge or there would not be complaints regarding it. The Surveyor told him he would have it widened and made satisfactory to the people. He moved that a committee of two be appointed to see that the work is done satisfactorily before the contractors are paid.

Councillor Taylor pointed out that the contractors had completed their work and made a good job. What work is now going on is being done by the city. The bridge was a good deal wider now than ever it was. It was necessary to buy the piece of land from Hon. Mr. Farquharson. The bridge was in a proper condition, and he did not think it advisable to spend any more money on it.

Councillor Brown said they could not go six feet further north without encroaching on Mr. McKinnon's land. The bridge was three feet five inches wider now than the old one. He thought that when it was finished the people would be satisfied.

Councillor Macdonald thought that the proper time to have raised objections was when the plan and specification was before the Council.

Councillor Horne reiterated his objections to the location of the bridge. A proper bridge should be built when they were about it. Not enough had been added to its width. Several feet of the citizens' land has been thrown away. There was no occasion to buy the Farquharson land at all. He believed that if a proper survey were made it would be found that the land belonged to the city.

Surveyor Nicholson pointed out, in reply to a question, that nine feet had been added to the bridge since the adoption of the plan and specification.

Councillor Tanton said he was surprised at the sight which met him some days ago when he visited the site of the bridge. Evidently a side track had been taken to steer clear of the road and purchase extra land. On the north side of the road there was a chasm three or four feet wide that might have been used. The contractors were not to blame; their work has been well done. Now was the proper time to have the fault remedied.

Councillor Whear moved that the petition lie on the table. This was not the proper time to take the matter up. Objection should have been taken to the plan when it was before the council or to payment of the bill for land bought from Hon. Mr. Farquharson. The bridge was 20 feet 8 inches wide by actual measurement, wide enough for three teams to pass abreast. The city was extending it to satisfy some of the citizens who complained. It has been extended nine feet which will bring the sidewalk where it was before. It was absolutely necessary to buy the land from Mr. Farquharson.

After some further discussion the motion of Councillor Whear carried, and the petition was laid on the table.

Councillor Whear submitted a memorandum of the verdict and plaintiff's costs in the suit of Ronald McMillan against the city, totalling $585.11. The Mayor was authorized to sign a check for the amount upon receiving an itemized bill of costs.

Mr. Goffe, editor of the Canadian Trade Review, then spoke briefly with regard to the P. E. Island edition of his publication, pointing out what had been done by other cities and stating that at a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade held in the afternoon a resolution had been adopted favoring the work.

A letter was read from the keeper of Victoria Park asking for needed repairs to his house. Referred to the City Surveyor to report upon at next meeting.

Councillor Whear, seconded by Councillor Macdonald, moved that the meeting adjourn. Councillor Tanton arose to make a motion, claiming that he had the floor before the motion to adjourn was seconded. But the Mayor ruled otherwise, and the motion to adjourn carried.

DEAD AND DYING AT GALVESTON

Terrible Scenes in the Streets.

DESOLATION AND DISTRESS ON EVERY HAND

Whole Families Taken From the Debris

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER]

GALVESTON, TEXAS, Sept. 11.—The work of rescuing the wounded and dying from the ruins of their homes has uncovered some terrible scenes.

Screaming women bruised and bleeding, some of them bearing the lifeless forms of children in their arms; men broken-hearted and sobbing, bewailing the loss of their wives and children; streets filled with rubbish, mingling with the bodies of the victims of the storm,—these were the sights that the workers saw.

All the residences that escaped destruction and the leading hotels have been turned into hospitals.

There is scarcely a house left standing which does not contain one or more of the dead and many of the injured.

The property loss will run into the millions.

Scenes of desolation and distress are on every hand. Fully seventy-five per cent of the buildings in the city are more or less damaged. Whole families and communities are being taken from the debris and each minute bring the discovery of some new victim.

It is believed that the loss of life is not less than five thousand.

SOLOMON SLOW'S ADVICE.

What I Would Do, or Have Done, if I Were Boss.

I would have our minister with portfolio explain why he has not kept a few of his promises. Now is the time.

I would ask him why the southern branch railway has turned so many old grits into strong-tories.

I would put a crossing on Queen Street from Stevenson's to Norton's corner.

I would have Sir Louis say how much has been expended in repairs and fittings on the steamer Minto up to date.

I would like to know if Sir Louis expects to see the Summerside breakwater built within the next ten years—if his party is left in power.

I would put drinking fountains on market square, both north and south.

I would lower the fares on the P. E. I. Railway.

I would place a light on the obstruction at the Colonial Building.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY

Said Brown unto his wife one day, "We've nothing left to eat; if things go on in this queer way, we can't make both ends meet." His wife replied in words discreet, "Oh, we won't be badly fed; if you can make but one end meat, I'll make the other bread." Chicago News.

BUT GOOD WIFE!

You can't make good Bread, if you don't use good Flour. It's a mistake many people make in buying Flour as well as other things, in thinking they are using economy by buying a cheap grade but it generally proves the dearest in the end.
