HAPPENINGS

The United States has its Eleanor Roosevelt, Ruth Bryan, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, and Clare Boothe Luce. Canada has its Lady Eaton. This person is surely an ambassador extraordinary, as she travels throughout the length and breadth of our fine young nation. This week it is Prince Edward Island's turn to have this distinguished visitor.

Already many people here have met Lady Eaton in the reading of her book, Memory's Wall. It is truly an intensely personal document.

Lady Eaton has made numerous friends in her long and interesting life. She seems to be truly blessed in giving and receiving magnificent loyalty all along the line. In fact wherever Lady Eaton goes she has a really wonderful time, and everyone around her has a wonderful time too. Flora McCrea Eaton is indeed a welcome visitor.

Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowlen, the Prince Edward Island born lieutenant-governor of Alberta, is looking well indeed in recent newspaper photographs from western papers.

Two members of the Alberta Supreme Court, recently appointed to the appellate division, were administered the oath of office recently by Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowlen lieutenant-governor. Shown on the bench in Appeal Court Room No. 1, at the Edmonton court house were Mr. Justice Hugh J. Macdonald, Dr. Bowlen, and Mr. Justice J. Boyd McBride. Their appointments followed the death of Chief Justice G. B. O'Connor.

Elections and a banquet meeting of the High Court of Alberta of the Independent Order of Foresters were held Saturday at the Macdonald-Low Robson of Toronto, Supreme Chief Ranger of the organization, is at the head table. Also seated at the table were Mrs. J. A. Ford, retiring secretary of the Alberta Court; Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowlen, lieutenant-governor, and John E. Smith, district manager of the order.

Miss Gladys Hart, a charter member of the Charlottetown Business and Professional Women's Club is now living in St. John's, Newfoundland. Miss Hart was recently the proud recipient of a diamond ring awarded for twenty-five years' service with T. Eaton Co.

Miss Elizabeth Janzen, Kitchener, Ontario, national president of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association will arrive by plane in this province on Thursday, 21st. Miss Janzen has been in Newfoundland. She will be here until the 23rd.

Miss Ruth Ross and Mrs. Vernon Bolger have left for Ottawa. They will attend the executive meetings of the Canadian Nurses Association. Miss Ross is the president of the Association of Nurses of P.E.I. Mrs. Bolger is the secretary-registrar.

Mrs. J. A. Likely, Mrs. T. A. Laidlaw, Mrs. J. K. L. Irwin and Mrs. D. R. Brown entertained at bridge Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Mrs. Irwin's residence, Crestwood Drive.

Mrs. W. Haward and Mrs. Sheldon Carson entertained Tuesday and Wednesday at delightful luncheon parties at Mrs. Haward's residence, Crestwood Drive.

Mrs. Lloyd G. Lewis, Summer-ley, is guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Haward, Crestwood Drive.

The life of a society writer is not dull and monotonous provided she still can laugh: Boners coming from the point of origin sometimes makes the rounds, as follows:

"The bride's mother wore a lace dress which fell to the floor."
"The couple went to the same high school and their marriage will end a romance begun there."
"The bride couple then passed out and greeted the guests."

Among those invited are the Earl and Countess of Hardwicke, publisher Viscount Camrose, Lady Diana Duff Cooper, widow of the British statesman, Augustus John, the painter, and journalist Randolph Churchill.

Just back from Rome and a last-minute shopping fling, Miss Dunn showed a reporter her wedding dress, made by Jovianelli, the Italian designer.

"It's rather a historic dress as the style was copied around the 1800 period," said the blonde, blue-eyed girl.

The gown is empire-line, with a high-necked neckline and eight-foot train. Sleeves and train are embroidered with silver thread and the headpiece is a small crown of beaten silver.

FOUR PAGES IN RED
Four pages in attendance will wear red trousers and white frilly shirts and a small bridesmaid will wear a copy of the bride's outfit including crown. After the ceremony at the Ritz Hotel on Piccadilly.

The press has been carrying reports that the couple will go up in a gas balloon over Green Park after the reception. Miss Dunn and Sandford say this isn't true and never was their intention.

For the honeymoon they plan to go horseback riding through Wales. "If the weather's bad" says Miss Dunn, "we'll go to Paris instead."

Later they would like to form an independent film unit and write scripts.

While in Canada last year with her father Sir Philip Dunn the English-born girl wrote a play about a girl preparing for marriage. This is being considered for production on the London stage. She acquired most of her trousseau on the same visit.

Sandford described as a leader of the "smart set" while at Oxford studied English at New College and has established himself as a writer. He has written plays for the BBC and also composes music. For the wedding he has written music called Prelude to Nell which will be played in the church.

Sandford's father formerly published rare manuscripts. The family home is a 17th-century house surrounded by an estate of 200 acres.

lines in gold that go something like "She that is fair, though never vain or proud, More fond of home than fashion's changing crowd; Whose taste refined even female friends admire, Dressed not for show but rob'd in neat attire; She wins our hearts, toward her our thoughts incline, So at her door, go leave my Valentine."
Until tomorrow --- Diary --- Goodnight.

On Thursday, St. Valentine's Day, the 20-year-old granddaughter of the late Canadian millionaire, Sir James Dunn, will be married to 26-year-old Jeremy Sandford, son of a wealthy Herefordshire family. Some 400 socially prominent persons are expected to attend.

GOOD BETTER BEST

When you buy a piece of meat you look for a REASONABLY PRICED piece to give you the most meat value. You also look for meat that will be TENDER and TASTY.

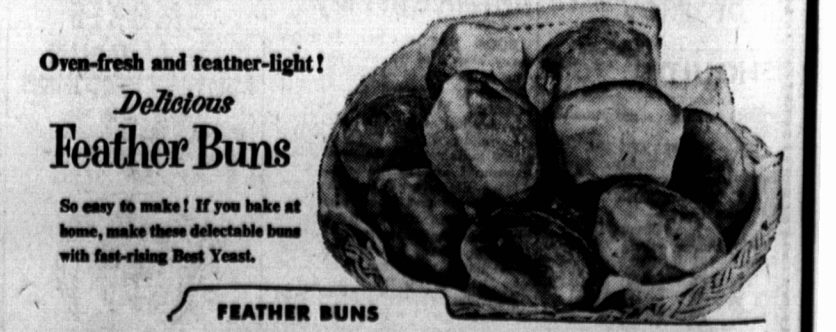

Now when a person tells you that a piece of meat is Government inspected and therefore it must be good he is right insofar as the Government means that it is good enough for human consumption. When you are buying meat don't be satisfied with just passable meat—
