

Active Season Reported In Red Cross Activities

Great activity in all the different Red Cross Departments was revealed at the Provincial Red Cross Executive meeting Thursday afternoon which was chaired by the President, Mr. Walter R. Shaw.

Mr. K. A. Parker, Chairman of the Junior Red Cross Committee, stated that the Atlantic Training Centre which had been held at the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, in August was a very worthwhile experience according to the reports he had received from several of the practical students who attended. He said he felt that a great deal of the credit for the successful outcome of this Training Centre was due to Miss Marie Bowness, Director of the P.E.I. Junior Red Cross, who had done most of the planning for this Conference. Mr. Parker, during the course of his report, remarked that from a professional teaching point of view no other program was so ideally suited to the motivation of the different phases of the school curriculum as Junior Red Cross.

HANDICAPPED CHILDREN
The Handicapped Children's report revealed that sixteen children were hospitalized for treatment during the summer, — eight of these locally, and eight others to various hospitals for such conditions as cardiac investigation and operation. Another child had a pharyngeal tumour removed at the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto, and three had cleft palate repair — two of these locally. Other cases under treatment are, — two dislocated hips, one spina bifida, five club feet (two of whom are twins) one chest surgery. In addition 35 children were assisted in various other ways including two who were provided with artificial limbs at the cost of $250.00. Several others were provided with crutches and wheelchairs. While the bulk of the money for the treatment of these handicapped children is raised each year by the Charlotte Rotary Club by means of the Radio Auction, the Junior Red Cross members in the schools also make appreciable contributions for this purpose.

19 cases containing 5,381 articles of knitted and sewn garments were shipped overseas, so far this year, according to the report submitted by Mrs. E. E. Clawson, Provincial Chairman of Women's Work. Mrs. Clawson said that 5 of these cases containing 516 pieces of bedding, had been sent for distribution by the Austrian Red Cross for Hungarian relief. 10 other cases were sent to Istanbul, Turkey, on the advice of the League of Red Cross Societies which is in close touch with the needs of the different countries. She mentioned that the materials for this year's supplies have now almost all arrived, that the Provincial Workroom will soon be re-opened for the fall season, and that the workers at the Summerside Red Cross Branch are already very much "on the job."

NURSING SERVICES
The Nursing Services report submitted by Mrs. Lois MacDonald told of the 35 hospital beds and the 36 wheelchairs all being in use at the same time during the summer months, along with many other articles of Sick room Equipment. The report also made mention of the plans, now underway to hold a two-day Home Care Institute the latter part of September at Red Cross Headquarters for nurses from all over the province.

The successful outcome of the Blood Donor Clinics held so far this year was commented upon in the report submitted by the Chairman, Mr. F. A. S. Jones, who remarked particularly on the outstanding success achieved by the several Canadian Legion Branches which had sponsored Clinics in their own localities. He told of plans now being made for the next series of Clinics to be held during the week of December 2nd.

Mr. J. Gordon MacDonald, Chairman of Disaster Services, stated that he hoped several members of his committee would be able to attend a Red Cross Disaster Institute being staged by the New Brunswick Division in Saint John on September 27th.

No less than 79 persons received first aid treatment of different kinds at the Red Cross Mobile First Aid Post operated at the Exhibition Grounds during Old Home Week. Another 30 persons were given first aid at the Life Guard posts during the summer, 113 treated by the 53 water safety instructors who conducted Classes in 58 communities and at 23 youth camps, and still another 214 persons were given first aid treatment at the 36 regular First Aid posts established throughout the province.

Mr. Ian Rankine, Deputy Provincial Chairman of Red Cross Water Safety Services, commented that it had been a very busy summer as far as Water Safety was concerned with Classes having been conducted in more centres than ever before and with an enrolment equal to last year's 5100.

Transport Minister Sees Need For Airport Terminals

TORONTO (CP)—A demand for greatly increased airport facilities will be upon Canada within two years, Transport Minister George Hees said Saturday night. His department intends to provide them as fast as Parliament can have the money available and as traffic volume warrants it, the minister said in a speech at a Canadian International Air Show dinner.

"In these two years, we must complete the construction of the six terminals (terminal buildings) at airports now under way, namely, Ottawa, Montreal, Gander, Nfld., Windsor and Quebec City, and start construction on six to eight new terminals."

He did not name the new six to eight localities.

The United States is confident of the support of a substantial majority.

A British spokesman said the special envoy should be a "forceful man who can bang his fist on the table."

A U.S. source said the envoy should have world reputation and personal weight, such as Prince Wan Waihayakon of Thailand, president of last year's assembly. In UN corridors, Prince Wan has been mentioned repeatedly as the most likely man for the task.

Interviewed in Calcutta, India, Prince Wan said a number of countries would nominate Indian Defence Minister V. K. Krishna Menon as the envoy. The prince commented that Menon "is a fit person to tackle the Communists."

Would Try New Effort For Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Western diplomats campaigned Sunday for a plan to send a forceful world figure to Moscow to seek an end to Soviet intervention in Hungary.

The appointment of such an envoy will be part of a resolution the United States is ready to present at the forthcoming opening of a special session of the General Assembly.

The resolution would also condemn the Soviet Union again for crushing last fall's Hungarian revolt.

Medical Mirror

Q. What do doctors mean when they say you have 20/20 vision? A. It means that you have normal vision. Visual acuity, or the ability to see clearly, is expressed as a fraction. The top number is the distance the person is placed from the test chart. The bottom number is the lowest line on the test chart that can be read. A person whose vision is 20/40 sees at 20 feet what a normal person sees at 40 feet. This doesn't mean that such a person is half blind. Half sight occurs when vision drops to 20/100.

Material in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various publications and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by personally attending the patient.

RED CROSS PRESENTS PETER AND THE WOLF

Three of the ten Island High School representatives who attended the 10 day Atlantic Red Cross Training Centre at the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton during August appear in the above picture which was taken at the York County Municipal Home in Douglas, N.S. when "Peter and the Wolf" was presented by one of the "Community Services" groups as part of an evening's entertainment they put on for the children of the Home.

The High School representatives spent several sessions during the first three days of the Training Centre making the necessary arrangements for this year's presentation and preparing favors and practical training in planning and carrying out a "community service" so that they may be able to undertake projects of this kind in their own communities.

Island representatives in the above picture are Sandra Jardine, Kensington High, Frances Clinton of Souris High, and Ann McCabe of Notre Dame High in Charlottetown. This production was presented under the direction of Miss Marie Bowness, Director of Junior Red Cross for P.E.I., who made most of the arrangements for this year's Atlantic Training Centre and was the Programme Director during the ten day period.

science that can regard man from a completely realistic point of view, because it alone can know of the fall and redemption of man. For this reason, every study of the affairs of men inevitably involves theological values. There can be no alternative to the establishment of religious knowledge as the supreme subject of subjects in our educational institutions.

COUNTER PREJUDICES
The above propositions run counter to every prejudice that constitutes the modern mind. Since our intellectual leaders ultimately control education as they should, it is naive to think that education can be reformed by appealing to truths they ignore or deny. Who is so simple as to assume that if our intellectual leaders are ignorant of certain truths or neglect the implications of others, they will submit themselves to teaching on these points?

Suppose for a minute that our intellectual leaders are right and that there is nothing wrong with modern education. If this is true then it follows that there is nothing wrong with modern culture, for modern culture, in its practices and institutions, embodies modern education. But why the universal anxiety about economic, social and political problems? It is pointless to ask our intellectual leaders to consider this puzzle. Of course they have considered it! Their answer is their teaching and their educational policies may sometimes reach a rottenness that only fire can cleanse. The prophets of the Old Testament considered the Assyrian and Babylonian kings instruments of Divine justice, chastening the people who had departed from the way of truth. Through the darkness of destruction dawned the light of a better day. So perhaps a third world war is the agony through which our culture shall be reborn. It is probably not from the hydrogen bomb, but from our educational institutions, that we shall ultimately be saved.

I am perfectly aware that before agreeing with these statements it is necessary to admit that, as a prerequisite, the Christian outlook, therefore it is naive to expect any agreement from a reader who does not place himself in this perspective. I do not intend to convince such a reader. I think it perhaps is interesting for him to know how a Christian considers this question.

REPORTER DENIED VISA
VIENNA (AP)—The Hungarian Communist party newspaper Nepszabadsag complained Thursday that the United States did not issue a visa to its reporter who wanted to cover the United Nations.

NEWMAN'S ARGUMENT
Cardinal Newman has formulated perhaps the most vigorous argument for the necessity of including theology in the curriculum of any true institution of education. It merits presentation in his own words:

"I say, then, that if a university be, from the nature of the case a place of instruction where universal knowledge is professed, and if in a certain university, so called, the subject of religion is excluded, one of two conclusions is inevitable, either, on the one hand, that the province of religion is very barren of real knowledge or, on the other hand, that is such university one special and important branch of knowledge is omitted."

I say the advocate of such an institution must say this, or he must say that he must own either that little or nothing is known about the Supreme Being or that his seat of learning calls itself what it is not.

I repeat, such a compromise between religious parties as is involved in the establishment of a university which makes no religious profession implies that these parties severally consider, not indeed that their own respective opinions are trifles in a moral and practical point of view — of course not; but certainly as much as this, that they are not knowledge."

Theological issues have permeated the entire development of western civilization and culture to such an extent that one who is ignorant of these issues is unable to grasp the meaning of his own times and its conflicts. Theology is the only
