COLT'S REVOLVER.

FOR Sale a few sets of the above complete in Cases, at Haszard and Owen's.

INDIVIDUAL MANAGEMENT, VERUS NATIONAL MISMANAGEMENT.

John Bull has always prided himself upon his superiority. To use the words of Sam Slick, an Englishman thinks "that when nature formed, him, she broke the mould; there never was, never can, never will be another like him."

No country has more reason to be proud of her men of business and enterprising merchants than Great Britain: at the same time, no nation has greater need to lament the utter incompetency of her officials, and to deplore the want of energy which seems to pervade every class of the Queen's Servants. Officials without offices; offices without officials.

Let us now take the case of an individual who has earned for himself a world-wide fame—we refer to Professor Holloway. Having discovered an efficacious remedy for nearly "every ill that flesh is heir to," he has, by his own exertions gradually, but surely, disseminated his remedies through every part of the known world. Commencing with London as his central point, he has by dint of perseverance, tact and energy (the sure signs of a master-mind), made known his Pills and Ointment to the very extremes of the compass. Whether you travel north, east, west, or south, you cannot pick up a newspaper that does not record the successes achieved by this wonderful and indefatigable man. There is no instance on record of any public man having ever approached to such a world-wide celebrity as has Professor Holloway. We speak not of his medicines at present, although we have indubitable reasons for believing, that they have been proved by thousands to be invaluable; but of the enterprise and skill in the system of advertising pursued by Professor Holloway, who has thus by a perfect knowledge of business, and an enlarged view, succeeded where thousands have failed, either from want of judgment or circumscribed means. Take again the Professor's extensive reading-rooms at his establishment in London, why there is not one in the world to be compared to it! With the utmost regularity and care, every foreign paper that issues from the press is carefully filed; and so complete is the system, that the visitor, from amongst this multitudinous mass of literature, can be immediately accommodated with any foreign newspaper he may require, and this too, gratuitously. These reading rooms are daily visited by statesmen, merchants, and capitalists, who can thus acquaint themselves on any matter they may require. So much for individual management.

What a contrast does this present to the plodding routine adopted by the British government! What a slur to the country which produces such men of enterprise, that its affairs of state should be so slovenly performed. Our readers cannot fail to perceive that the foregoing lines do indeed reveal a startling instance of "Individual Management versus National Mis-management."—London Peoples' Paper.

JERUSALM RISING.—While other cities in the Turkish empire are falling to ruin and decay, being depopulated and barbarized, Jerusalem is rapidly springing up into new life. European manners and European wants are bringing in civilization and enterprising industry. Good hotels are found to accommodate most travellers better than the Casa Nuova, so long the only shelter for the Frank pilgrim of whatever nation or religion. There are shops where all kinds of European goods find a ready sale; carpenters, watchmakers, glaziers, tinmen, dyers, laundresses, shoemakers, &c. exercise their various callings. There are three flourishing European tailors. The daily markets are abundantly supplied with good mutton; and poultry and eggs are cheap. Many hundred goats are kept for the sole purpose of supplying the city with milk; and of late, cow's milk was to be had. Fruit and vegetables are abundant, and good bread is made by several bakers.

AN EFFECTUAL CURE.—An American Secretary of state had two afflictions—an obliging door keeper and a pertinacious office-hunter. Day after day the latter called, and the former was too polite to shut him out. The secretary, when he could stand the nuisance no longer, said to the door-keeper," Do you know what that man comes after?" "Yes," replied the functionary, an office, I suppose." "True, but do you know what office?" "No." "Well, then, I'll tell you; he wants your office" The bore was admitted no more.
