THE ROLLER RISK.—A very large number of citizens were present last evening at the Roller Rink, both as skaters and spectators. The evening was cool and pleasant, the music was all that could be desired, and everybody seemed pleased and well behaved. There is every reason to congratulate the managers of this rink upon the satisfaction already given.

LONDON papers of Saturday last all published an appeal in behalf of the Princess Louise fund for the relief of sufferers by the recent rising in the Northwest. The Princess says that Great Britain cannot see Canadians suffer without offering sympathy, and showing them that the Mother Country does not forget them. The Marquis of Lorne, Sir Evelyn Baring, Lady Blandford, and others signed the appeal.

AN old smoker declares that he has been using Myrtle Navy tobacco ever since the second year of its manufacture, and that during that time he has never suffered from a blistered tongue or parched tonsils, or any other of the unpleasant effects which most tobaccos will leave behind them. THE RIEL REBELLION

The Frog Lake Massacre

Details of the Frightful Affair.

Sad Scenes at the Graves of the Victims.

WINNIPEG, June 9.

A Frog Lake correspondent telegraphs the description of the scene there on the arrival of the troops. Every building was burned and the contents destroyed. Terrible stenches from the cellars of the Roman Catholic Glebe house drew attention thither, and a most awful sight was witnessed there.

Four dead bodies were found huddled together in a corner. Two were those of Father Faurand and Lafarge; another was that of a lay brother; and the fourth was unknown. The corpses were horribly mangled. The heads were charred with fire and the four hearts had been torn out. Wide gashes being made in the lower part of the stomach.

Those who know the Indian methods of torture will at once know who did the deed. Faurand's hands were cut off, and some other limbs were missing. Every body was rotten with corruption, and when taken out of the cellar and laid upon the grass, the sight was simply horrible.

Strong men cried like women. The corpses were interred next morning. Capt. Clarke, being the only Catholic officer present, read the litany for the dead over the bodies of the priests and lay brother were reverently lowered into the grave.

Col. Smith read the Church of England burial service over the body of the unknown man.

FORT PITT, June 9.

Mrs. Gowanlock, Mrs. Delaney and several others have been rescued from the Indians and half-breeds, and are now safe in the Canadian camp. They were welcomed with great cheering by the troops.

Many Half-breeds, women and children, came to camp with them.

Both women say the Crees wanted to kill them many times; but they were saved by the Half-breeds.

Seven Indians were killed in the fight with Capt. Steele. Gen. Middleton has not yet caught up to Big Bear.

Fall of Gladstone's Ministry.

Defeat of the Budget by 12 Votes.

The Choice Between Rum and Tea.

Tremendous Excitement in Political Circles.

LONDON, June 9.

Tremendous excitement exists in English political circles over the defeat of Gladstone's Government in the Commons yesterday, and the almost certain resignation of the Ministry to-day.

The extraordinary expenditure in Egypt and India, necessitated the increase of taxation. The Government's proposal to increase the beer and spirit duties met bitter opposition from the liquor interests; and the Tory Party, suggested increasing the tax on tea and sugar, and wine, instead of beer and spirits. The debate was taken part in by Sir H. E. C. Childers, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Charles Dilke, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Sir Stafford Northcote and others. Gladstone, in concluding the debate, said the Government was bound to raise an increased revenue in view of the impending danger to the Empire—danger which had not yet passed away.

The Government had to choose between alcoholic liquors and tea and sugar. They would accept the issue of the vote as one of life or death, and did not envy those who, if they gained the victory, would have to bear the consequence.

The motion for second reading of the Budget was then defeated by a vote of two hundred and sixty-four to two fifty-two, amid tremendous cheering from Tories and Parnellites.

When the result was announced, Lord Randolph Churchill and Parnell jumped upon their seats and frantically waved their hands and cheered.

The majority is composed of all the Conservatives and thirty-nine of the Parnellites.

The minority included Sir Michael Bass, the great brewer, and several Irish Liberals.

The absence of a number of English Liberals, who were afraid to vote against beer, caused the fall of England's great statesman.

Gladstone immediately adjourned the House.

Supreme Court—Prince County.

SUMMERSIDE, June 9.

The June term of the Supreme Court opened here this morning, Mr. Justice Hensley presiding. The following gentlemen comprise the Grand Jury—David Rogers, foreman, Jas. A. Sharp, Henry Oliver, Malcolm McFarlane, Donald McLean, Robert McC. Stewart, Chester Clark, Thomas E. Hogan, George Sturdy, Norman Wright, John A. Sharp, Eli Gallant, George Muttart, Richard Costain, Henry Clark, Thomas Brehaut, David McFarlane, John Cairns, George Compton, George Sinclair, Edward O'Connor and Robert Bell.

The Judge shortly charged the jury who afterwards retired to transact the usual business. So far there are but three criminal cases—one against a woman charged with stealing a child; the second against another woman charged with arson, and a third against a man for forgery. It is said that the latter person has left the Island. The civil list is unusually large, comprising 23 cases, in a good many of which there is some fight. All the leading lawyers from Charlottetown are here except Malcolm McLeod, and he is expected to-night. The trials begin to-morrow.

READERS OF THE EXAMINER have seen what the London Times has said about the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the importance of the work from a national point of view. The following is what another important English journal, the London Economist has to say upon the same subject: "In a political sense, the completion of the Canadian Pacific is undoubtedly an event of very considerable importance. It will knit together those parts of the Dominion, which were before dangerously isolated, and will thus quicken and strengthen the national life. Such results are not unimportant to the Empire, but there are others of more direct importance. The Canadian Pacific furnishes the shortest route to China and Japan, and possesses the great advantage of being entirely through British territory. Our position in the Pacific is thus strengthened, and the importance of this has been thrown into relief by recent events."
