LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

SPONGE crepon at Beer Bros.

PRACTICE of opera at Oddfellows' Hall this evening at 7.30.

CITIZENS LEAGUE MEETING to-night at 7.30. Be prompt—a full meeting necessary.

"Y's."—Regular meeting of the "Y's" this evening in the parlors at 7.30 o'clock.

ST. JAMES' HALL.—Hear Judge Hodgson's lecture on "Francis of Assissi" this evening. It will be well worth attending.

THE STANLEY left Pictou this morning, and arrived at Georgetown at 10.15. She will leave Georgetown to-morrow morning.

I. O. F.—Meeting of Court Avondale to-night. A full attendance is requested as business of great importance is to come before the meeting.

AT THE CAPES.—The boats left Cape Traverse this morning and arrived at Tormentine about 2 o'clock. They will leave on return to-morrow.

UPPER METHODIST CHURCH.—A first-class evening's entertainment in the Upper Methodist Church Thursday evening. Secure a ticket—only 10 cents.

MASONIC.—A regular communication of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., will be held at Lodge Rooms, Masonic Temple, this evening at 8 o'clock.

THAT SKATING RACE.—L. Large has accepted the challenge of Sam Doyle, published in yesterday's issue, the race to come off as soon as can be arranged by the rink managers.

THE CHARLESTOWN TRAGEDY.—This is the day set down for the trial of Mrs. Ida Quinlan, charged with the murder of her sister, the details of which have already been published.

LEG BROKEN.—We regret to hear that Mr. J. H. G. Murphy had his leg broken last evening by falling on the slippery sidewalk on Great George Street. Dr. Kelly set the broken limb.

LECTURE.—Reserve Tuesday evening, 18th inst., for Mr. Ross's lecture in Zion Church lecture room. Tickets 10 cents. Proceeds in aid of Christian Endeavor work.

THEATRICAL.—There was a most successful dress rehearsal of "Our Regiment" last evening in the Opera House. The different characters were well sustained. A rare treat is in store for those who attend the performance to-morrow night.

YOUNG MEN'S SOCIAL.—The young men's social last evening in the basement of the First Methodist Church was a great success. There was a large attendance, and all had a good time. An extended report prepared for to-day's issue is unavoidably crowded out.

82ND BATTALION.—This seems to be an opportune time for this fine corps to complete its formation. Although it numbers eight companies on its strength there are only seven enrolled. With new arms, new equipment and full strength, this Battalion would stand second to none in the Dominion.

THE CARNIVAL.—Mr. W. P. Doull is "letting himself out" on the rink decorations, and the result will be one of the most handsome displays ever seen there. A great many are competing for the beautiful gold medal offered by the managers for the best representative costume, and the question is who will win it, a lady or gentleman?

CITY COUNCIL.—The regular meeting of the City Council was held last night. The petition asking for a plebiscite on the sewerage question was before the meeting, but no action was taken. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the time was too short between now and the election to get an intelligent expression of opinion on the subject. Councillor Douse suggested that a plebiscite be taken at the office of the Water Commissioners, when the rates were being paid; and Councillor Hughes was of opinion that a plebiscite on the matter of sewerage and the second main pipe might be taken at the next election for Water Commissioners. Our regular report of the proceedings of the meeting is unavoidably crowded out of to-day's issue.

POLICE COURT.—This forenoon Alexander Campbell was fined $25 and $3 36 costs or two months imprisonment for a breach of the Lord's Day Act, by keeping his saloon open and selling beer on Sunday morning. Annie Mahar, nine years old, was charged with the larceny of a pair of gaiters from a four year old son of John Macleod. It seems that Annie met little Macleod on the street, and after commenting upon his good looks asked him to sit down whilst she buttoned his gaiters. The little fellow did as requested, whereupon Annie removed his gaiters and made off with them. On another occasion Annie decoyed a young daughter of Mr. James Paton away from a companion and took a fur cape from her which she subsequently returned. In court this morning Annie was accompanied by her mother, and the Magistrate took advantage of the occasion to give both some wholesome advice. After the lecture, on account of the tender years of the accused, and upon her promising to be a better girl in future he discharged her. In so doing he told the girl that on her next appearance she would not be so leniently dealt with. Annie was in tears when she left the Court.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamlyn and family have arrived in England after a good passage.

Mr. J. M. Clarke, of Schurman & Clarke, Summerside, is among the guests at the Queen.

Dr. A. Ross, of Vernon River Bridge, was at the Queen yesterday en route to New Brunswick.

Captain M. Macdonald, of Georgetown, is in town. He is a guest at the Hotel Davies.

Attorney-General Peters leaves this afternoon for Ottawa to attend the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. W. S. Stewart, Q. C., leaves this afternoon for Ottawa to attend the Supreme Court of Canada. Mr. Stewart accompanies Mr. Stewart.

Mr. W. H. Holmes, representing Messrs. McMaster & Co., Toronto, is a guest at the Davies. Mr. Holmes is a brother of Col. Holmes, of Winnipeg, D. A. G. of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories.

Mr. A E. Ings has returned from his trip abroad, looking well. He went "down south" in the Northumberland, and came home via Washington and other leading cities of the United States and Canada.

Mr. John E. Macdonald, foreman of the painting and decorating department of the Dalton-Ingersoll Co., metal workers, plumbers' supplies, etc., Fort Hill Square, Boston, was a passenger by the Stanley to Georgetown on Saturday, en route to Souris, where he intends spending a few weeks with his parents and friends. Mr. Macdonald reports times quiet in the "Hub."

SUPREME COURT.

TUESDAY, Feb. 11.

McCarthur vs. The Quebec Insurance Company—This was an application to set aside the writ issued in this cause for irregularity, or set aside the service upon the ground that the service was not made by the Sheriff. Mr. McLean, Q. C., on behalf of the plaintiff, opposed the application; Mr. Stewart, Q. C., supported the rule.

The Court reserved judgement.

Mr. Stewart, on behalf of Arthur Edward Hogan, obtained an order for his examination, preparatory to his entering as a law student in Mr. Stewart's office.

The argument in the application for mandamus against the Trustees of the St. Eleanor's School was concluded at 1 o'clock to-day. Judgment was against the Trustees, and an order for a peremptory mandamus made to compel the Trustees to receive the boy back to school. No costs were allowed. Attorney-General Peters and H. C. McDonald for applicant; Morson, Q. C., for the Trustees.

In the matter of the application of Mary Murphy for partition of land, F. L. Hazard, Q. C., on petition moved for an order nisi, which was granted.

Court adjourned till Monday next.

MILITIAMEN, ATTENTION!—The members of No. 1 Co, 82nd Batt., will attend Our Regiment at the Opera House (in uniform) to-morrow night.—D. L. HOOPER, Captain.

The members of No. 3 Co., 82nd Batt., will attend our Regiment (in uniform) at the Opera House to-morrow night.—D. STEWART, Captain.

The members of the Charlottetown Engineers will attend Our Regiment (in uniform) at the Opera House to-morrow night.—W. A. WEEKS, Captain.

The members of Nos. 1 and 2 Co's., G. A., will also attend Our Regiment in the Opera House to-morrow night (in uniform.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

LET THEIR NAMES BE KNOWN.

SIR,—Let the names of all prominent temperance people who vote for club members be published after the election. Every voter who votes for a member of the club cannot be classed amongst the temperance people, and I am glad to know that the poll books will be available hereafter as a monument to their inconsistency.

CONSISTENCY.

THE FEELING IN THE AIR.

SIR.—The lines for to-morrow's fight in Ward Four are now drawn for the final struggle. Each side claims a victory, but the indications are that the people's candidates, Messrs. Nicholson and Johnson, will be elected by a good majority. All that is wanted now is a united body to-morrow, the "feeling in the air" being that Nicholson and Johnson have that union, support and determination that will carry them to victory.

WARD FOUR.

MR. HASZARD AND THE CLUB.

SIR,—For the benefit of those who think it a crime to belong to the Charlottetown Club, I beg to make the following statement: Mr. Haszard, one of the applicants for the Mayor's chair, joined the Club about a year ago, at the solicitations of his friends. He is very rarely there. I attend pretty regularly myself, and I do not think I have seen him within its walls half a dozen times since he became a member. I have never seen him take liquor. (Of course, everybody else goes home full, myself included, according to the Guardian's correspondents.) I think this is only bare justice to Mr. Haszard, for whom I entertain a very high respect as a man and a public citizen.

CLUB.

THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATES.

SIR:—Messrs. Nicholson and Johnston, the People's Candates in ward four, deserve the support of all moderate men of all classes of opinion. They are both young men of good character, and although not connected with any temperance organization are well known to be temperate in their views as well as in their conduct, and can thus safely be entrusted with the administration of the affairs of the city, including the judicious enforcement of the Scott Act. There are, as we all know, many things besides Scott Act to look after, and we shall require the best talent at our disposal for that purpose, and the electors of Ward Four cannot do better than elect Messrs. Nicholson and Johnson by a good majority.

WARD FOUR.

GABRIEL SOUNDS HIS TRUMPET.

SIR,—There was in yesterday morning's Guardian a long list of convictions under the Scott Act, and from the names in the list one would think that there were no one fined but unfortunate Catholics. However, in that long list I believe there are two non-Catholics, McKinnon and Watling. I do not know what Watling is, but I know that McKinnon is not a Catholic. His wife is, however, and perhaps Watling's wife is one too. Mrs. Connolly's name is there conspicuous enough. But if the Guardian man, or any other man or woman who is striving to put the obnoxious Act in force had the least spark of charity in their nature they would be ashamed to have an old lady between seventy and eighty years of age incarcerated in jail for selling liquor, which I am pretty sure she never did, and I am certain that she never bargained for or bought liquors for sale. The place was left her, I suppose, by her late husband, and whoever bought or sold the stuff, she did not. There is a grievious mistake somewhere, to have a poor old lady like Mrs. Connolly, who is quite a stranger in this country, and who, I firmly believe, never even sold a glass of table beer or mixed lemons in her life. I believe the matter should be investigated.

GABRIEL MCDONALD.

P. S.—I do not think that the Guardian sanctum itself is very clear of the ardent when it makes St. James' Hall belong to Matthew & McLean and publishes marriages for deaths.

G. McD.

THE CIVIC CAMPAIGN.

SIR,—The civic campaign, as conducted by the Morning Guardian, has been carried on in the basest manner. The columns of the Guardian have been filled with falsehoods and slanderous inuendoes. Its course has been more inconsistent and cowardly even than usual. It condemns one candidate, as a supporter of the rum party, because he is running with a gentleman who is a member of "the club," and it endorses a man's candidature for the Mayoralty who is a prominent "club-man."

The Guardian has, over and over again, cautioned the electors against voting for the rum-party candidates; and, although often invited to do so, has never dared to publish a list showing whom of the candidates are the rum men.

The Guardian has daily repeated the false assertion that the Scott Act is the only issue in the election. If it were true, the Guardian could not justify its course in supporting a candidate who is a partner in a joint stock liquor selling concern, and in opposing the candidature of a thorough temperance man like Mr. Dawson.

But it is not true that the Scott Act, or the enforcement thereof, is at issue in this election. The Scott Act has been proclaimed in force, and no election for its repeal can be held until the specified time. Marshal Cameron, the appointed Prosecutor, is an officer bound by oath to do his duty, and as long as the Act continues to be in force, so long will the Marshal continue to do all in his power to stop the illicit sale of intoxicating beverages by bringing to justice all those who offend against the law's provision.

The Guardian, by asserting that if certain candidates are elected, the Scott Act will no longer be enforced offers a deliberate and gratuitous insult to the worthy Marshal and to His Honor the Stipendiary Magistrate. To say that these gentlemen will refuse or neglect to do their duty, if certain men are elected as councillors, it is to say that they will violate their oaths of office—a thing that no one who knows them would ever dream of their doing.

In the Mayoralty election there is an issue, and a very important one. Mr Dawson contends that the civic affairs are in such a satisfactory condition as to justify a reduction in the present rate of taxation. Mr Haszard contends that the taxes should not be lowered. It is for the electors to say, by their votes, whether they wish the taxes lowered, or whether they wish more money to be collected from the taxpayers than is actually needed, in order that the Councillors can have a surplus in their hands, so that at any time they can buy votes and corrupt the electors.

As regards the Councillors, it is simply a question of men. The city needs a wise, judicious, level-headed Council; therefore, in the selection of councillors the electors should take great care that no crank, or man with a hobby, obtains a seat the Council Board.

I thank you, Mr. Editor, for the space you have so kindly given in which to express my views. COMMON SENSE.

WHO TO VOTE FOR.

SIR,—To-morrow the temperance people will have the opportunity of their lifetime in shewing their consistency as a temperance party. For Mayor there are two candidates in the field, one of whom is known as a staunch temperance man; the other while, perhaps, also a temperance man, is a member of the Charlottetown Club, an institution which bids defiance to all temperance laws and order. To vote for Mr. Haszard simply means that you approve of him and the institution to which he belongs. In candidates for Councillor in Ward one, temperance people have little to choose from; neither of them belongs to the Club, and it appears doubtful if either of them belongs to the Citizens' League. At any rate they both repudiate it. In Ward Four, Messrs. Crabbe and Beer are the nominees of the temperance people and should receive their support. Mr. Crabbe in the past has shewn himself capable of enforcing the Scott Act and no doubt can do so again. His colleague, Mr. Beer, will make a good lieutenant for him. I say nothing against Mr. Nicholson and Dr. Johnson personally, except that they cannot be sound on the temperance question otherwise they would not be opposing the nominees of the League. In Ward Five of course no temperance man can vote for Mr. Thomas Morris at the present time. He is not long enough out of the brewery business to have much sympathy for temperance. Mr. Tanton has been all his life connected with temperance lodges and divisions and should be supported. Mr. Horne is also a good man, and between Mr. Hooper and Mr. Hughes there is very little to choose. In Ward Five the temperance people have four men to choose from and it is only a question of choice.

It is to be hoped that we shall all vote on the temperance principle and bury all minor disputes or differences.

TEMPERANCE.

"Awa with your pladie Black Donald awa'.
I'll hae noa but Horrie, he's is true and he's bonnie.
So awa with your pladie, Black Donald awa."

SIR,—A writer in your issue of the 7th, instant, over the signature of Presbyterian appears to be much annoyed because Hon. Mr. Laird did not respond to the petition, he signed, asking Mr. Laird to stand for the mayorship, imputing his refusal to do so to the fine of our Premier and that of Mr. Haszard,

I cannot understand his attempt to prove the insinuation. It looks like as if he has nothing but suspicion or jealousy to support it, or that he has some unaccountable dislike to Mr. Haszard. He says: "After Mr. Laird declined the nomination, Sheriff Robertson was engaged to go round with another requisition asking Mr. Haszard to run as Mayor." I suppose he meant to say to run for the Mayorship.

Surely there was nothing underhanded in that action. It does not show any preference for Mr. Haszard because Presbyterian states Mr. Laird declined to accept the offer before the petition calling on Mr. Haszard went round.

I never heard of a charge so utterly absurd, or of one more likely to cause a fellow to have a hearty laugh at.

Probably "Presbyterian" thinks that inasmuch as Mr. Laird was born in the country,—a son of an honest farmer, a Presbyterian and a professed teetotaller, that a gentleman, perhaps himself, holding all these qualifications, should have been chosen by the Presbytery to stand for the Mayorship in Mr. Laird's place However that may be, it does not concern us citizens. We want a man capable of discharging the duties appertaining to the Mayor. We know that Mr. Haszard has proven himself, as a Councillor, equal to it, and I trust his fellow-townsmen will appreciate his ability and elect him, as he deserves, to the chair, nothwithstanding that he was born in Charlottetown.

WEEKS' White Goods Sale NOW ON.

Charlottetown, January 29, 1895

TO THE VOTERS OF CHARLOTTETOWN.

GENTLEMEN,—To such of you as have in view one subject only, viz., the welfare of our city, allow me to offer a few words:

1. Don't vote for the candidates the liquor men vote and work for. No matter who the candidate is, he is not your man when in such company.

2. Don't be influenced by the men who are working with the liquor party. The liquor dealer's object is purely selfish and unpatriotic—it is to make money, caring not who may suffer. The men who are working with them must have some selfish end in view or they would not lend their aid to such a party.

3. Don't vote for the candidate who has worked with the liquor interest in the past. There is too much at stake to risk such a man no matter how good his promises now.

4. Don't sell your vote to the candidate who fixed the street in front of your house and because of that expects your support.

5. Don't vote for a man because he does business with you or because he may help increase your business. Your self-respect and manhood are worth much more than any such visionary prosperity.

6. Don't vote for a candidate because he is on your side of politics. When party becomes stronger than principle, men become slaves, advancement stops and honor and honesty are sacrificed to propitiate the political boss.

7. Don't vote for the liquor dealers nominee because a temperance candidate has offended you. Sacrifice your private feelings for the public good; place the state before self.

8. Don't vote for the candidate the rum-seller votes for in the expectation that when elected you can influence him. Such men always follow the wishes of the majority of their supporters and not of the few temperance voters who supported them.

Consider well who the men are that will decide the contest to-morrow; not the liquor dealers, we all know what they will do; not the regular tipplers, they vote for the men who supply them; not the drunkards, they vote for the saloon every time, tho' it is their ruin. If the candidates of the liquor men are elected, it will be by the votes of good, moral temperance citizens who have been induced by one pretext or another to vote for them. Remember no means will be left unused to secure such votes. It is the vote of the careless citizen that places "bosses" and liquor men in power; it is the indifference of otherwise good citizens that gives the law breakers their strength; therefore I appeal to you to oppose the candidates that have the liquor support. The more respectable such candidates, the more harm they can do. I appeal to all good citizens to work and vote to-morrow for the men who are pledged to enforce the Canada Temperance Act. Yours for principle before

PARTY.

TEMPERANCE IN WARD ONE.

SIR,—I wish to say a last word to the temperance voters of Ward One. Let every temperance man in the Ward come out boldly to-morrow and work with all their energy to secure the election of Mr. Douse. Why should we be afraid to enter into the contest in Ward One and engage the soul destroying enemy on the threshold of his abode? Vote for Mr. Henry C. Douse and strengthen our cause. With a temperance council looking after the welfare of our city our League will receive their undivided support and the good work which is being done will be carried on with even greater efficiency than at present and that measure of success which we looked forward to at the outset shall be attained.

A MEMBER.

SIR:—I am sorry to see some of our professed Christians dragging their religion in the dirt. At the Hunter-Crossley meetings ninety per cent. of the congregation stood up to pray for the members of the Club. Now those self-same Christians are willing to move Heaven and earth to elect one of the Club to be our Chief Magistrate, to administer our temperance laws. But he, it is said, is holding out a promise: "Elect me and I will be a good boy." "Consistency, thou art a jewel." Will our good ministers preach a sermon to those men that think more of their party than of their religion, and let their names be published, and we will see who will

THE DREDGE.—We learn with pleasure that Mr. John N. McDonald, of Whim Road Cross, has been appointed Captain of the dredge Prince Edward, to fill the vacancy caused by much lamented death of the late Captain Doyle. In appointing Mr. McDonald to that position, we are sure that the action of the Dominion Government will meet with the approval of the public in general, especially where he is known. Mr. McDonald has rendered the Department good service since Sept. 1st, 1884. He has also secured the good will and recommendation of the late Captain Doyle, which is a sufficient guarantee that the place will be well filled, and that the public service in that line will be satisfactorily carried out.
