THE SMITH-MORRIS RACE.

(Boston, July 1.

The single scull race for $500 aside, between Warren Smith, of Halifax, and Evan Morris, of Pittsburg, distance 3 miles, mile and a half and return, took place at Silver Lake this afternoon.

About a thousand persons witnessed the contest, which proved very exciting.

The water was as smooth as glass.

After two false starts, the referee, George Faulkner, gave the word "Go."

Morris immediately shot to the front, keeping the lead until half a mile was reached, when Smith, by increasing his stroke, shoved the bow of his boat in front of that of Morris.

At this time Smith was rowing about 36 strokes to the minute; Morris, 34.

Three-quarters of a mile from the start both the men were even.

From this point, Smith again gradually gained, and at the mile point he led by one length.

Both turned about even, the difference, if any, being in favor of Morris. The latter led all the way down until within an eighth of a mile from the finish, when Smith put on a beautiful spurt, passing Morris and winning by half a length of clear water, in the

UNITED STATES.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., June 30.

The giant powder magazine at Mowbray's Nitro-Glycerine Works exploded this afternoon, killing Jack Pierce and Wm. Long, who were in the building mixing blasting powder. Their bodies were blown to atoms. The neighboring buildings of the works were badly shattered.

An unknown lady, about 75, while walking on the track near Stratford, Conn., was killed by a Nongatuck train this morning. $544 were found on her person.

WASHINGTON, July 1.

Congress adjourned sine die this afternoon.

NEW YORK, July 1.

The "Evening News" says that in Catholic clerical circles in this city the question of appointment of a new American Cardinal has been the subject of discussion some weeks. It is stated on the authority of a well-known ecclesiastic that America will shortly be honored in this way. It is thought that the west will be favored and that Quebec, Canada, may also be honored.

The Crops of the United States.

The June report of the Agricultural Department show that the acreage of the oats has decreased 4 per cent. The general average is 81 against 103 last year. The condition unfavorable in nearly all sections of the Union. The decrease in the acreage of rye is about 4 per cent. New England is full. New York is only 80 and Pennsylvania 88. Barley is low. The general average is 85, while in 1878 it was 102. Corn is backward, owing to drought. In five or six localities the seed did not germinate. The condition of clover is very low all over the country, except in the New England States and those bordering on the Gulf of Mexico. The prospect for a good crop of fruit is gloomy. The late frosts were fatal in many regions. There will be a short crop of apples. The average is low, except in New England. The crop in all the Atlantic States is fair. In the Gulf States the yield will only be half of a full crop. Peaches suffered most from the frosts of May. In the Eastern States, and particularly in those where the culture is a specialty, the crop is represented as good, but in the Atlantic States south of Virginia it is a failure, and that is the case in the States bordering on the Ohio River, except in a few localities. California will have a full crop.

A Canadian officer, Major H. G. Elliot, who hails from Lambton County, in Ontario, has gone out to the Cape as one of Sir Garnet Wolsley's right-hand men. Major Elliott first distinguished himself at a fearful hurricane that wrought great devastation at Balaklava during the Crimean war. As a result of his early Canadian life, he was able in one instance to be of great use. The mud in the Crimea was so deep that it frequently took twenty-four horses to draw a single cannon. Elliott made some rough "stone boats" out of planks, and after the cannons were loaded on, three or four horses in each instance could easily do the work of the twenty-four. The officer in command and Old Country newspapers paid Elliott a high compliment at the time after which he was chosen Adjutant of a battalion before Sebastopol. For the past four years he has travelled South Africa, and is thoroughly acquainted with the country where the war is now raging. He has had the honour of the Order of St. Michael and St. George conferred upon him, and is in possession of several medals. In Major Elliot the British commander will possess an excellent specimen of a Canadian soldier.

The crime of arson seems to be such a dreadful crime that the natural feeling is to believe that its occurrence is very rare. In some respects it seems to be worse than murder, for it may include murder. And even for murder there may be at least the palliation of sudden anger, of revenge, of jealousy, any one of which may have tempted to it. But the incendiary lights his torch against a whole people. He becomes the enemy of the entire community, and his crime may result in the death of children, women or men, and involve the destruction of the property of those against whom he can have no complaint. Still, it really does seem as if Carleton was suffering from incendiarism, and that there is at least one person there who seems determined to do much injury. Since the burning of the Free Will Baptist Church there have been several fires, supposed to have incendiary origin, and the last two or three, occurring in the same week, are certainly calculated to create much alarm.—Globe.

The Movements of the Governor-General.

THE SUCCESS OF THE PRINCESS AS AN ANGLER, ETC.

The correspondent of the "Telegraph" at Dalhousie telegraphs the arrival at that place of the Governor-General by the "Druid" on Monday, at 11 o'clock, a. m. His Excellency and suite landed, and were received by George Haddow, Esq., M. P., and other prominent citizens. In company with Mr. Haddow the Governor-General visited the principal points of interest about the harbor. He expressed himself delighted with Dalhousie, which must have reminded him of some of the most romantically situated towns in Scotland. He expressed regret, however, at the want of railway connection with the Intercolonial, suggesting that a narrow gauge road might, if necessary, be attempted. After a short visit at the residence of Mr. Haddow, the party embarked and the "Druid" sailed at the 3 p. m. The Marquis and suite are to land at New Richmond and visit the Caspasia river for a short time. He intimated his intention of paying Dalhousie a visit next summer. A despatch from Metapedia, dated July 1st, contains the following additional and very interesting news:—

"Major DeWinton arrived from Campbellton by special train at 8.30 a. m., yesterday, and was met here by Captain Harbor, A. D. C., who returned to Campbellton by the same train, to join the Governor-General's party on board the Druid. This steamer sailed for Gaspe, and will probably be absent four or five days, after which His Excellency returns to Quebec by train.

"The Princess has been enjoying herself very much since her arrival at the Chain of Rocks on Saturday. Sunday was a very quiet, though a pleasant day, as the Princess visited one or two families near the Vice-Regal camp and gave these poor people tangible reasons for remembering with gratitude the visit of the Queen's daughter to their humble homes.

"On Monday the Princess captured another fine salmon, after playing him three quarters of an hour.

"To-night the party are making preparations to break camp at an early hour tomorrow and will leave Metapedia by special train for Assametquagan station, where they expect to stop and fish the Metapedia river for three or four days.

"It seems quite probable that H. R. H. will be joined at this place by the Marquis and Duke of Argyll the latter part of this week, and the whole party will then proceed to Quebec together.

"The Duke of Beaufort and Sir John Reid arrived here to-night from Rimouski and will remain at Fraser Hotel for some days.

"The weather to-day is very fine and salmon fishing good, nine having been taken in the pool and others hooked but not landed."

Cyprus Under English Rule.

The official "Correspondence respecting complaints made against the Government of Cyprus," presented to both House of Parliament, is being discussed in the English papers. It reveals some phases of Eastern life. Sir Garnet Wolsley enclosed to the Marquis of Salisbury a thorough reply from Col. Warren to the charges of the Bishop of Citium, showing that his reverence had been hurt at the same measure of justice having been meted out to bishops and priests as to others of the population. The bishop had been forced to pay taxes and fines which he had dared the Colonel to collect, and which had been decreed by a court in which his own representative sat. Col. Warren observes: "The Bishop of Citium gave me an infinity of trouble; he was determined not to pay revenues on the lands of monasteries. I found it necessary to teach his Reverence that the law must be obeyed and a great scandal removed. When he found the law was too strong, and paid up his dues, I called on him, and did all in my power to reinstate him in his position, which he had lost. He called himself 'a ruin.'" Sir G. Wolsley enclosed a letter from the Archbishop of Cyprus, who says that the Bishop of Citium ought to apologise to Colonel Warren. The story of a Greek gentleman having been imprisoned and fined £25 for having spoken slightly of the British is declared to be a base invention.

The crime of arson seems to be such a dreadful crime that the natural feeling is to believe that its occurrence is very rare. In some respects it seems to be worse than murder, for it may include murder. And even for murder there may be at least the palliation of sudden anger, of revenge, of jealousy, any one of which may have tempted to it. But the incendiary lights his torch against a whole people.
