

A Female Husband.

Residents of Woburn will remember a masculine young woman, who resided here a few years ago, working at Simond's shoe stock factory, by the name of Sarah M. Pollard. She belonged in Binghamton, N. Y., and has relatives in Woburn. She seems to have led an eventful life since leaving our town, and just now the California and Nevada papers are full of her latest sensation, a no less startling enterprise than marrying a young woman of Tuscarora, Nevada. Three years ago she went to Colorado, and was at a fair in Boulder, where she was described as follows:—"She wore a felt hat of alpine shape, brown velvet band around the crown—the only trimming; a white stand-up collar encircled her throat. In her hand she carried a huge brown portmanteau. Her upper lip bore the vestige of a moustache. A whisper ran round, 'She looks more like a man than a woman.' To several on board the train, the journey is to this day a horrible nightmare, in which the chief figure is a gaunt, manish woman, perpetually advocating and advancing the most radical sentiments in a hoarse, guttural voice."

She remained some days in Boulder, and then went to Nevada. At Tuscarora she appeared in male attire, and, after a short acquaintance, captivated one of the belles of the town, a Miss Marancy Hughes. The young lady's friends opposing the match, the couple eloped, and were married last September. The bride was not long in discovering the deception of her husband, but was induced, by fears of personal injury, to conceal the facts, and they lived together until a fortnight ago, when Pollard being absent from town, her wife revealed the secret. Sarah has been arrested on a charge of perjury, and the injured wife writes to the local paper to know if there is not some law by which she can be punished for the imposition she has practiced. Miss Pollard is said to have adopted male garments to escape arrest for some crime committed in another State, and determined to marry to add to the success of her disguise.—Woburn Journal.

A CHANGE OF AIR.—An occasional change of air may be said to be almost necessary to the well-being of every man. Every work-man must leave his workshop, the student his library, and the lawyer his office, or sooner or later his health will pay the penalty; and this, no matter how great his temperance in eating and drinking; no matter how vigorously and regularly he uses his limbs; no matter how open and dry and free from impurity may be the air of the place in which he is employed. In the slightest case of impaired health the sleeping in the suburbs of the town in which the life is chiefly spent, or even spending a few hours of detached days in some accessible rural districts, at a few miles distant from the dwelling, may suffice to restore the healthy balance of the bodily functions, and maintain the bodily machine in a fit state for its duties; or in cases of somewhat more urgency, or of somewhat more aggravated character, a few days once or twice a year will suffice to adjust or restore the due economy of the system.

DIVERTING CHILDREN.—When a child is hurt, never hush its cries. It is inexcusable barbarity; it is repressing its instincts; and for this reason, if physical punishment is inflicted upon a child, it is perfect brutality. A thousand times better it is to soothe by kindly stories, by explaining pictures, or by providing it with new toys. We have many a time, says a famous doctor, in our professional experience as to sick children, found more benefit to be derived from a beautiful or interesting toy, than from a dose of physic. The greatest humanity a mother can exhibit in respect to her sick child, is to divert it, divert it, divert it, in all pleasing ways possible, as we, ourselves, who are larger children, feels sometimes really sick when a cheerful face and much loved friend has come in, and, before we know it, we have forgotten what was the matter with us.

Every newspaper man will appreciate the following from the Mt. Holly, N. J., Mirror, if no one else does:—

"Get your printing done where you please—it is your right—but please do not, after spending your money elsewhere, come to the Mirror office begging free local notices. It isn't business. It isn't decent.

Two ragged little urchins were standing in the gutter looking at a lady who had just fallen down on the pavement. "It isn't so much that I like oranges," observed one of them, "but what a lot of people you can bring down with the peel."

The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different: the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well know the effect of Capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medical agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them, in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniment. After you have tried other plasters and liniments, and they have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will sell hundreds to your friends.

Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one, $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canada.
