Chancellor Warns Rearming Means Budget Deficit

Neville Chamberlain Tells House Of Commons Deficit Is Practically Certain.

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, July 3.—Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, gave the country a foretaste of the cost of Britain's rearmament program today. He told the House of Commons a budget deficit, in view of plans for expansion of the defence services, "is practically certain."

Chamberlain made his announcement as the financial bill, embodying the budget proposals for the current year, was given third reading. Third reading was moved by W. S. Morrison, parliamentary secretary to the treasury, and carried without a division. Chamberlain said the size of the deficit was not known yet. It was necessary, he declared, to make "this country safe" and to put it in a position to fulfill its League of Nations obligations. "Great arrears," he added, must be made up quickly, and "during that short time we must face all together exceptionally abnormal and phenomenal rates of expenditure."

NOTED PIANIST HEARD HERE IN FINE RECITAL

Performance By Mr. Paul De Marky At Government House Last Evening.

Last night in the charming atmosphere of Government House, Mr. Paul de Marky, brilliant young Hungarian pianist, now head of the piano department of McGill University, performed to the intense delight of an audience of two hundred people. The recital was under the auspices of the Ladies' Music Club, whose president, Mrs. Keith Rogers, briefly and gracefully introduced the artist. Mr. de Marky's technical equipment was undoubtedly the most complete and magnificent that has ever been heard in this city. His playing was subtle, delicate, sombre and stormy as the composition demanded; his interpretations for so young an artist were highly distinguished.

From his opening with the Polonaise in A Flat, Op. 53, of Chopin, Mr. de Marky proceeded to astound with the sheer cleverness and brilliance of his virtuosity. Whatever might be felt as to his interpretations there was no doubt that here was the expression of a highly original and deeply emotional musical genius expressing itself. The opening of the Polonaise, perhaps, did not have all the carrying power of which it was capable but Mr. de Marky amply atoned for this by the stirring performance of the climax to the middle section and the repetition of the opening. After this Mr. de Marky played the quiet and appealing Brahms arrangement of the gavotte from "Tchigonia in Aulis" of Gluck.

Of the remaining Chopin compositions the chef d'oeuvre was the Sonata in B Minor, Op. fifty-eight, a work planned in noble proportions and running through the whole gamut of musical expression. The playing of the Scherzo was memorable for its fine rendition of the mysterious middle section and the finale, though perhaps played a little too rapidly, was breath-taking in its sheer sonority and energetic power. The C-Sharp Minor Waltz and two Studies, including the ever-popular "Butterfly," were played with delightful and exquisite sparkle.

Perhaps the most significant composition on the programme was the "Variations on the Theme of Paganini," by the great master Johannes Brahms. These, twenty-four in number, were played only in part but left a deep impression of Mr. de Marky's real gifts as a musician. There were moments in some of the quieter variations when he caught all the serene remoteness that is the soul of Brahms' music, and this is one of the infallible signs of profound musicianship.

The remaining compositions heard on the programme were a Nocturne for the left hand by Alexander Scriabine, Liszt's La Campanella, which though pretty much of a sport, was very finely performed, and lastly a splendid arrangement of the Blue Danube Waltz, great music in spite of its extreme popularity. In fact, the very waltz of which Brahms said, "unfortunately not by me."

We hope it will be our pleasure to hear Mr. de Marky again in the not too distant future. All success to him.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, July 3.—Co-incident with improvements in business and employment conditions as shown by official government reports word came today that Dominion government revenues are now running well ahead of last year. Revenues for the first three months of the present fiscal year, April, May and June, are reported $18,000,000 higher than last year. A $3,000,000 increase in excise tax returns is largely attributable to the rise in the sales tax from six to eight per cent but income tax returns are also well up and about $11,000,000 ahead of last year. Complete official figures are not yet available. The general index of employment, maintained by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics averaged 4.1 per cent higher in the first six months of 1936 than in the same period of 1935.

CHANGE IN PREMIERSHIP INDICATED

Cancellation Of Leaves Cause Of Speculation

(By Guardian's Special Wire) DANZIG, July 3.—Cancellation of all leaves for Nazi storm troops and black-shirted special guards, together with the sudden departure for Germany of the Nazi-controlled Senate of the free city, caused considerable speculation here tonight. Albert Forster, Nazi leader in the free city, also has been in Germany for the past two days, conferring with government authorities. (The League of Nations Assembly is planning to consider the situation in Danzig tomorrow; Geneva dispatches said Greiser had been requested to appear at the session. Greiser's arrival was reported at Berlin, whence he was believed to have gone immediately to confer with Chancellor Hitler at Weimar.)

Premier Bracken Announces Party Manifesto

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WINNIPEG, July 3.—Premier John Bracken tonight announced the manifesto of the Liberal-Progressive party in the Manitoba election campaign. He is seeking a mandate from the electorate for a four-point program of reform, approval of a five-point general policy. Premier of the Province since 1922 and seeking re-election July 27, Premier Bracken announced the manifesto as the Liberal-Progressives went into session here to select candidates for the 10-member constituency of Winnipeg.

Recent Legislation Is Entirely Inadequate to Deal With Unemployment Problem, Is Claim.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) SAINT JOHN, N. ### Morin Faces 25 Year Sentence

SHERBROOKE, Que., July 3.—Red haired Lucien Morin faced 25 years in penitentiary tonight, the sentence handed down today for his part in the robbery plot that brought death to Willis K. Baldwin, aged storekeeper of Baldwin's Mills, Que. The Barnston, Que., cobbler was originally charged with murder along with Kenneth Brown, youthful convict from Milton, Vt., but the charge against Morin was reduced to manslaughter. Brown was sentenced to hang July 10 for beating the former Liberal member of Parliament for Stanstead to death in April, 1935, but was granted a stay of execution to Dec. 18 so he might appeal his sentence. The 78-year-old storekeeper was found bound, beaten and gagged behind the counter of his shop. The store had been robbed and the old man died of his injuries.

Former Premier Celebrates 66th Birthday

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) PORT MOODY, B. C., July 3.—I'm too busy to think about birthdays," Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, federal Conservative leader, said today, his 66th birthday. But he thought of it at the luncheon given by the Port Moody public committee after the re-enactment of the arrival of the first train here 50 years ago. A large birthday cake, bearing a large number of candles, was placed on the table before him and the gathering rose to cheer him. "I am not apt to soon forget this birthday," he said. "Your welcome has touched me deeply and I am sure that however few or many birthdays remain to me none shall be as pleasant as this one."

CROP HOPES ARE REVIVED

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) CHICAGO, July 3.—Hopes for drooping crops revived in many scattered areas of the United States drought belt tonight with a Weather Bureau prediction of more and wider scattered showers. Rains already had bathed withering fields in Dixie, portions of the East, and some Farm Belt sections but they missed North Dakota, one of the states most severely stricken by the $250,000,000 drought as well as other badly hit regions. The new predictions, however, included the northeastern section of that state, which continued to bake in temperatures as high as 90 at Bismarck. In neighboring South Dakota, Pierre and Moberg sweltered in 104 degree heat. The United States wheat markets were easier today after Thursday's spectacular five cent spurt. Winnipeg prices, however, jumped the new five cent daily limit established there after the three cent rate appeared inadequate yesterday. In Des Moines, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, starting a vacation, said present indications were that an extensive purchasing program for cattle would not be required. He said his plan to buy up to 1,000,000 head of stock was intended as a preparatory measure if the drought situation should prove "more serious than it is at present."

Selassie Informs League He Is Reorganizing Armies

Ras Imru, Former Leader, Preparing For Action At Gore In Western Ethiopia — Principles Of League Covenant Reaffirmed In Resolution.

(Copyright 1936 By The Havas News Agency) (By Guardian's Special Wire) GENEVA, July 3.—(C.P.-Havas)—Emperor Haile Selassie tonight officially informed the League of Nations assembly that he is reorganizing his tribal armies to resume warfare against the Italian invaders under a government appointed by the Negus at Gore. He said he had ordered Ras Imru, former leader of his northwestern force, to prepare his forces for action from Gore, in western Ethiopia. Haile Selassie's announcement came at the end of a tumultuous session marked by the suicide of a Czechoslovakian-Jewish newspaperman in the assembly hall in order "to draw the attention of the world to the plight of the German Jews." The assembly hall was thrown into an uproar when Stafam Lux, photographer-correspondent of Praha newspapers, suddenly arose and shouting "this ends it!" pressed a revolver to his chest and pulled the trigger.
