IT IS THE FACT, Think as You Please

It is not generally known, but it is a fact readily proven by the investigations of science, that the real danger from every known ailment of mankind is caused by inflammation; cure the inflammation and you have conquered the disease in each case. Inflammation is manifested outwardly by redness, swelling and heat; inwardly by congestion of the blood vessels and growth of unsound tissue, causing pain and disease.

INFLAMMATION

External inflammation accompanies bruises, bites, cuts, stings, burns, scalds, chaps, cracks, strains, sprains, fractures, etc., and is the chief danger therefrom. Internal inflammation frequently causes outward swellings; as instances familiar to all we mention pimples, toothache, stiff joints and rheumatism. Yet the great majority of internal inflammations make no outside show, for which reason they are often more dangerous than the external forms.

Causes Every Known Disease!

Inflammation of the nervous system embraces the brain, spine, bones and muscles. The breathing organs have many forms of inflammation; such as colds, coughs, pleurisy, bronchitis, etc. The organs of digestion have a multitude of inflammatory troubles. The vital organs form one complete plan mutually dependent; therefore inflammation anywhere is felt more or less everywhere, and impairs the health. The late Dr. A. Johnson, an old fashioned Family Physician, originated JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT, in 1810, to relieve pain and cure every form of inflammation. It is today the Universal Household Remedy.

Send us at once your name and address, and we will send you free, our New Illustrated Book, "TREATMENT FOR DISEASES," caused by inflammation. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

If we told you that your baby was starving, that it actually didn't get enough to eat, you might resent it. And yet there are thousands of babies who never get the fat they should in their food or who are not able to digest the fat that they do get. Fat is a necessity to your baby. It is baby life and baby beauty. A few drops of Scott's Emulsion for all little ones one, two and three years of age is better than cream for them. They thrive and grow on it.

MRS. OFFEN'S JOURNEY.

The Poor Woman Had an Unpleasant Trip to Town.

Mrs. Offen started from her country home for a visit to the city. She was an excellent woman, belonging to all the best social societies of her home town, and a great temperance worker. It therefore struck her as very unpleasant to have the car in which she traveled so permeated with the odor of whisky that she was obliged to ask the conductor to open the window.

"I should think you would like some fresh air," said that functionary in a tone that Mrs. Offen resented inwardly as impudent.

That ride came to an end and Mrs. Offen left the steam car for an electric, which was to convey her to her friends' house in the city.

"Dear me!" said the good woman as she paid her fare, "your car smells dreadful strong of liquor."

"I agree with you, ma'am," said the conductor with a wink; "if you'll sit nearer the door it will be pleasanter for the other passengers."

"The man is intoxicated. What a shame," said Mrs. Offen to her next neighbor in the car.

"Be careful you ain't run in," answered the man as he went outside.

"Now, what did he mean?" she soliloquized, and as she thought it over, and saw the curious looks directed at her, she concluded to get out and walk the rest of the way. Seizing her satchel in a firm grip, she rose, but as the car gave a lurch forward, sat down again.

"You're not at S—— street yet," said the conductor.

"I know where I am; let me out," she persisted.

"Don't let her off here at the railroad crossing—she will certainly be hurt," said a kind woman.

But Mrs. Offen insisted, and left the car, and soon reached her friend's house, very red and tired, and with her bonnet askew.

Her friend met her at the door and was going to be very glad to see her, when Mrs. Offen blurted out:—

"I'm going right back home. Everybody's been drinking. All the people are intoxicated. I wouldn't live in such an ungodly place an hour. You are as bad as the rest. Phew! That vile whisky!"

"Sarah Jane Offen," said her friend solemnly, "you've been drinking yourself!"

"Oh, oh, what a horrible slander! I never tasted a drop in my life, and that's why I told Uncle Silas, at first, that I wouldn't bring a bottle of whisky for medicine to old Uncle Peter. But I did, for I thought a sick man as old as he is might need it. And there it is, and I wash my hands of the whole matter!"

She opened her satchel and gave a shriek. The bottle was broken, and everything in the satchel was saturated with the pungent fluid.

"Good gracious!" she exclaimed, "no wonder they wouldn't sit next to me:" and she promptly went into a fit of hysterics.

And half the pleasure of her visit was spoiled by the knowledge that she had actually figured as an exponent of intemperance.

Scheme for Reviving Exhausted Oil Wells.

A scheme is on foot to restore the productiveness of exhauted oil wells by electricity. It is proposed to lower an electric heater into the well, turn on the current, and by the heat generated melt out the refuse matter which is clogging the pores of the stone, and thus allow the fresh upward flow of oil. It may be explained that the generally accepted idea in regard to the giving out of oil wells is not that the supply of oil in the well is necessarily diminished, but that the flow is arrested by the stopping up of the exit. The stone through which the oil passes is of a very porous nature, and as the liquid is in a crude state, the dregs become thickened and settle in the rock near the edeges of the bottom of the well. The common practice has been to disperse the block at the bottom of the well by torpedoes, but this was found expensive. The machine by which it is claimed the dead springs of the deep can be again made to give up their wealth of oil is described as about three feet long and resembling an iron cartridge. It contains chambers packed with carbon, and so constructed as to radiate intense heat in all directions. Such rejuvenation of the dry wells of the oil districts of the United States would mean a fortune to many a man who had been beggared by the failure of his well, and would add millions of barrels of oil to the annual production of the country. If a sufficient quantity of heat can be generated and localized by the new invention the plan would appear feasible, but it has yet to be proved whether that is possible. The invention is said to be in the hands of a powerful oil monopoly, who are to test it thoroughly.

Paris in 1896.

The Administration has just made known the first results of the census of Paris taken on the 29th of March. These results show a population of 2,511,955 inhabitants for the entire capital. If this figure be compared with that obtained five years ago (say 2,424,703 inhabitants), we find that the increase has been 87,250.

It is found that the entire center of Paris, say thirty-one quarters out of eighty, nearly half of the most populous quarters, is visibly becoming depopulated, to the profit of the suburbs and periphery of the capital. In fact, the total of the diminutions reaches the figure of 19,000 units, which represents practically the loss in the main departments of the city proper, while the total increase of the forty-nine quarters whose population has augmented exceeds 106,000 individuals; that is to say, exceeds the population of cities, such as Rouen, Havre, Reims and Roubaix.

Hereafter it will be no longer in the most populous quarters that it will be well to look for the seat of the normal increase of the population of Paris. The center is saturated, and it is toward the outskirts—toward the suburban and freer quarters, and especially beyond the fortifications—that Parisians are tending more and more to emigrate.

A Novel View of Conjugal Bliss.

"I suppose, Miss Kingsley, that the African woman is a very degraded specimen of humanity?"

"Not altogether; her position has been greatly exaggerated by travelers, and as most of them were men, they had small opportunity for judging. As a woman, I could mix freely with them and study their domestic life, and I used to have long talks with the fat old witch-doctors and gleaned a lot of information. I believe, on the whole, that the African married woman is happier than the majority of English wives, because if the husband gets too bad she can poison him off and get someone else killed for it."

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec, 21 (Special).—An old and well-known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession is rejoicing with his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and as nothing else ever helped me I say they saved my life."

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for diabetes hoping and suffering for years."

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

Calculations are being made that the passage of a United States tariff bill at the next session of Congress will depend upon securing two presently doubtful seats in the Senate. Fergus, April 6, 1896
To Robert Phillips, Druggist, Fergus.
This is to certify that I have suffered from piles for a long time and tried several articles recommended for this complaint, but none of them benefitted me till I tried Chase's Ointment, which has completely cured me.
MRS. JOHN GERRIE.
E. Phillips, jr. Druggist Witness.

"My six-year-old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczema for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. Finally, a week ago, I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the first application showed the curative effect of the Remedy. We have used only one-sixth of the box, but the change is very marked; the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured. (Signed) MAXWELL JOHNSTON.

MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philanthrophy Still Exist.

If any man who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell, and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-beings to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. KING PREMPEH.

The Horrible West African Monarch Who Holds Life Cheap.

Seventy-two years ago the first British expedition against Kumassi came to a miserable end. The skull of its leader, Gov. Sir Charles McCarthy, was turned into a drinking cup, from which, if they at all behaved according to their wont, Prempeh's ancestor and his victorious warriors must have toasted each other in bumpers of human blood. The second expedition, year 1863, was also badly beaten, but by King Fever. Most people know the history of the third expedition, Lord Wolseley's, year 1873. Every newspaper reader has a general idea of the fourth and final expedition, which, without firing a shot, made an end of Prempeh's hideous rule, on Jan. 20, 1896. The recording angel saw at least one good deed done on the earth that day; jotting it down to John Bull's credit, as a singularly satisfactory example of his work in the world.

However much we may detest war it is gratifying to recognize the fact that this West African one has been a service to humanity. King Prempeh was one of the three or four most appalling monsters with whom the British Government has had relations within the last twenty years. Still, had it been merely a question of removing Prempeh, the successful expedition would not have deserved all the eulogium we have just bestowed upon it. When on Jan. 20 Prempeh did homage to Gov. Maxwell, kneeling on a biscuit box, while His Excellency sat on another—it was not merely a black king who passed away, but a whole atrocious system of blood, torture and State sorcery, that had endured from immemorial time. The name Kumass means "the death place." How well it deserved its name is made plain enough in the first part of Major Bade-Powell's book. So numerous were Prempeh's executioners that two whole streets of the town were set apart for them to live in. One of the streets was occupied by the executioners of men, women and children doomed to be sacrificed. In spite of the Wolseley treaty, human sacrifices were never stopped in Ashanti. At the harvest festival human beings were sacrificed to the spirits. Whenever the King made a pilgrimage to his ancestral ghosts he sacrificed twenty men, hacking their heads off on the edge of his execution bowl, a vessel five feet across. "The blood of the victims were allowed to putrefy in the bowl, and leaves of certain herbs being added, it was considered a very valuable fetish medicine." When a great personage died, "two of his household slaves were killed at once on the threshold of the door in order to attend their master immediately in his new life, and his grave was afterwards lined with the bodies of more slaves, who were to form his retinue in the spirit world." Sometimes the slaves or free people, kidnapped for the purpose, were buried alive with the dead personage. Slave girls were killed to accompany their mistress into the other world. Great numbers were sacrifice when a king died. When a man was kidnapped for sacrifice he was gagged with a knife run through his cheeks. These frightful customs of the Ashanti capital were observed by every kinglet in the Ashanti "empire." Executions were decreed on any pretense. "It is even said that on one occasion he (King Prempeh) preferred a richer color in the red stucco on the walls of the palace, and that for this purpose the blood of 400 virgins was used."

The Patriotic Spirit.

Every boy and girl in Canada may well be proud of the bright flag which waves above so many school-houses today; and the youth of other countries also love their national flag and their native land, so that the patriotic spirit is not confined to any one period of human history.

Just because that spirit is sweetest where the people are most earnest to seek the happiness of all their countrymen, it is right that we study the history of other countries and peoples, to see if we can learn from them that which will make us more blessed and prosperous.

Sometimes we forget that nearly all the laws, maxims and incentives to patriotism which move our own hearts and bless mankind had their real origin long before Greece and Rome were known to history.

The trials of our forefathers when they first landed upon these shores and their gradual attainment of national life never fail to awaken sympathy. And yet the most noteworthy adoption of a new country by a wandering people was that of the Hebrew. The devotion of his Hebrew ancestors to their native land when they were captive exiles, far away from home, is a sublime type of the patriotic spirit in its noblest and best expression. "If I forget the, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning! If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth!"

Dr. Chase's

Millions die annually through lack of care for the kidneys—the first sign of kidney trouble noticeable is a single pain in the back which gradually develops into that dreaded malady Bright's disease—one of the most alarming symptoms is highly colored urine giving bricklike deposits—do not delay when the slightest symptom has appeared—Kidney troubles are easily prevented in their earlier stages—if neglected they may become obstinate, chronic and perhaps fatal—medical science has proved that all kidney diseases arise from an excess of urie acid or kidney acid poison in the blood—One of Dr. Chase's kidney-liver pills if taken weekly will neutralize this acid and prevent any tendency to Bright's disease or Diabetes.

Have you any of these symptoms? Back Ache, Dull Heavy Pain in the Bladder or Base of the Abdomen, Pains in the Back and Sides, Unusual desire to urinate, Scalding urine with passage obstructed, Red or White deposits, Tired Feelings, Weakness, Dropsical Swellings, these are sure signs of kidney troubles.

YOUNG MEN

With backache, weak back, deposits in the urine and other symptoms of kidney decay should not postpone using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

OLD MEN

Troubled with stricture, impediments obstructions, stoppage of the water, or a frequent desire to urinate at night will find Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills a great reliever.

KIDNEY-LIVER

TESTIMONIAL

J. F. Browning, Carpenter and Joiner, of Kingston, Ont., writes the following testimonial:

Gentlemen.—I was troubled with my kidneys for ten years and was compelled to arise four and five times a night to urinate. The pain in my back was terrible. I have used enough plasters and pills to stock a drug store, and obtained no relief. The doctors pronounced my case hopeless and advised me to go to Toronto Hospital, and I had made up my mind to go when I read your advertisement in The Toronto Evening News calling your pill the great K. and L. Pill, which I took the meaning to be the KNIGHTS OF LABOR PILL, and being myself a member of that order I had confidence in the name, and I pronounce them the Workingman's Friend, for since taking them regular for three months, I can say I am entirely cured, and had I taken them years ago, would have saved hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills

Very truly yours,
J. F. BROWNING, Kingston, Ont.

Ask those who have tried and been benefited by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills about their wonderful curative powers. Don't be skeptical. One or two doses of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills may mean the saving of your life. They act gently and effectually, and do not in any way interfere with your daily avocation.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR KIDNEY TROUBLE

Bright's Disease, Liver Complaint, Headache, Biliousness, Costiveness and Dyspepsia. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, or 5 for $1.

PILLS

We will give $500 to any person troubled with disease of the kidneys that Dr. Chase's Combined Kidney and Liver pill will not relieve or cure.

Granby Rubbers

It is no wonder that rubbers, which are not the same shape as the boot, should be uncomfortable. It costs money to employ skilled pattern makers but the result is a satisfactory fit. Each year new patterns are added, to fit all the latest shoe-shapes, and Granby Rubbers are always "up-to-date." They are honestly made of pure rubber, thin, light, elastic, durable, extra thick at ball and heel.

INDIAN TEAS.

Sales have increased over one hundred per cent. during the past twelve months for my special brands imported direct from the Indian Tea Gardens. Orders are constantly being received from some of the largest cities in the United States and Canada.

Shipments to London from the producing countries stand as follows:—

CHINA (from commencement of season to 30th November, 1895) 33¾ mill lbs as against 37¾ in 1895.
CEYLON (from commencement of season to 30th Nov., 1896) 45¼ mill lbs., as against 38¾ in 1895.
INDIAN (from commencement of season to 30th Nov., 1896) 103¾ mill lbs., as against 95¼ in 1895.
