Blood Clinic Results At Souris Suggest Possible Trophy Win

Even the culling figurings of the Souris branch Royal Canadian Legion underestimated the 120 being barely more than half realized—86 donors turned up. But the overall provincial picture showed that the day's quota, involving both centres, was up by 8 donors as a result of the Souris showing.

Morrell's clinic was also Legion-sponsored, with James Blackland chairing the committee. The Ladies' Auxiliary provided the refreshments there as well as the volunteers to carry out various tasks. The clinic was held in the newly-renovated Legion Home.

Other volunteers at the clinic included nurses from the area and the high school Red Cross members. The clinic was held in the newly-renovated Legion Home.
