VANCOUVER (CP) — Her clean, fast lines were washed by the Bering Sea. She has run into the ports of northern Japan and Russia and has hunted the Alaskan fur and the bays and inlets of British Columbia.

She is the Black Bandanna now, but many names have been painted on her curving surface. She has passed across her yellow-like stern. Her hold black bloody cargo during the sealing slaugher of the 1880s. Later, illicit liquor spilled blood decks as she ran without lights from United States revenue cutters.

Her decks have known gangsters and police, honest tugboat steers and pirates. She has passed through the straits of the Bering Sea and the Gulf of Alaska. to get her as a catch. We had set July 15, 1964, as sailing date to depart for Honolulu on a four-month cruise. At present he is raising the $25,000 necessary to put her in shape.

"We will have accommodation for 20 to 25 persons who want to go on a four-month vacation of pure adventure. It will cost them $1,500 each.

"We will sail to Hawaii, spend a while in the islands, then on to Tahiti. We'll come back by way of the Galapagos Islands, put in at Asapulo, and sail the coast of Mexico."

Another reporter is with him in the crew—Alan Harman of Palmerston North, N.S. Engineer is mechanic Ralph Kowin of Vancouver.

Another writer, Pat Tryon of the Province, will fashion the biography and perhaps join the crew.

Naval architect Tom Timmerman examined the hull and pronounced it in excellent condition. He put the hull replacement value at $130,000 and her present value at $30,000.

Monty Backs Veto Plan

LONDON (Reuters) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery Wednesday endorsed a British government plan to replace three individual service ministries by one united defence ministry.

But Montgomery said the plan does not go far enough. Eventually, he said, there would be one fighting service.

"It has come very late, but better late than never," he told the House of Lords in a debate on defence.

Montgomery, who was deputy supreme Allied commander in Europe in the Second World War, said the three services had to learn to pull together and one way to ensure this was to transfer the officer to be inter-service from his earliest days.

Reluctant Peers Get Permission To Drop Titles

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's reluctant peers and members of the nobility who want to drop their titles were given official permission to do so when Queen Elizabeth approved a new bill.

The measure will allow peers who do not wish to retain their titles to drop them at the House of Lords and run as ordinary citizens for seats in the House of Commons.

The bill was hailed as a victory for such traditional reformers as Viscount Stansgate—Anthony Wedgwood Benn—who fought for them to remain a member of the House of Commons after the death of his father placed the title on his shoulders.

Within minutes of the bill being read by the viscount completed the necessary formalities to become more just plain Mr. Benn.

The bill was of particular political interest because it increased the opportunities for government ministers now in the House of Lords to be considered for future prime ministerial office.

The bill opened up possibilities for several leading cabinet ministers to become more just plain Mr. Benn.

Du Pont Reports Income Increase

MONTREAL (CP)—Du Pont of Canada Ltd. Wednesday reported net income of $6,445,000 for the first six months of 1963, compared with $6,024,000 for the corresponding period last year.

Net sales to June 30 were $78,380, compared with $82,615,000 for the first six months of 1962.

Earnings amounted to 87 cents per common share, compared with 81 cents for the first half of last year.

Herbert H. Rank, president, said in a message to shareholders higher sales reflect continued improved business conditions in both domestic and export markets. However, the effect of the increased sales revenue was offset slightly by higher prices for certain nylon yarns.
