2 Names Added To 'Wanted' List

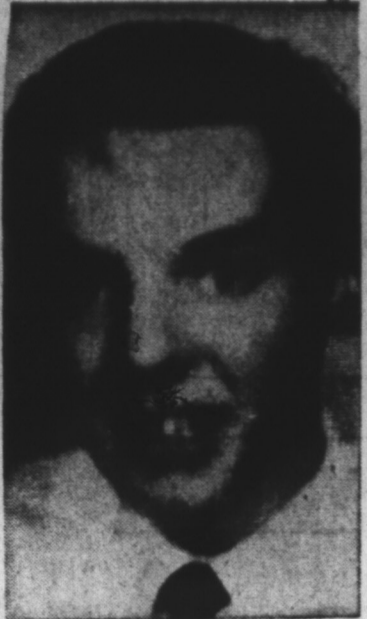

Two more names have been added to the list of criminals most wanted by the RCMP, it was announced Thursday. Both of the wanted men have built themselves a formidable list of crimes during the past few months.

The new candidates are Warren Wilbert Durning alias Ronald Lee Harvey and Richard Madison, they are being sought by the RCMP and the Ontario Provincial Police on several charges of armed robbery and kidnapping in the Belleville, Niagara-on-the-Lake and Morisburg, Ont., districts.

The two men are reported to have entered a number of homes and forced the occupants, at gun point, to drive their automobiles on a tour of the province of Ontario. In all instances they are said to have stolen money, clothing and food from their victims but at no time did they harm any of their hostages.

KIDNAP VICTIMS

Among their kidnap victims were Mr. and Mrs. George Rooney, of Niagara-on-the-Lake who were forcibly taken from their home and compelled to

The Guardian, Charlottetown, Fri., Dec. 4, 1959.

Superintendent Deplores Waste Of Straw On Farms

A visit to the Charlottetown Experimental Farm today would find the staff engaged in many of the tasks common to any farmer. They are getting ready for winter by banking buildings, covering tender shrubs and making vegetables free from frost.

Superintendent R.C. Parent notes that this is also a good season of the year to make repairs to buildings.

Recently the farm constructed two concrete manure pits, one at Charlottetown and one at Up-ton. These pits which are actually a concrete platform are 75 x 30 feet with a five-inch slab.

Mr. Parent explained that the platform serves as a storage place for manure and makes the manure pile easily accessible with a front end tractor loader without the possibility of being bogged down.

In the field, he said, "burning straw today is just like burning money. Only last week we had a request from Newfoundland for 20 tons of baled straw at $12 to $15 a ton."

"The proper place to put straw," said Mr. Parent, "is in bedding under animals. I can hardly think of one farm on the Island that could not use more bedding."

As an alternative to this use he points out that straw spread on hillside pasture has the effect of preventing soil erosion as well as providing organic material in the soil.

COMING EVENTS

Some of the coming events at the farm are the Aysure breeders' annual meeting which takes place Dec. 10. Early in the new year, an egg grading course of two weeks duration will be conducted by the PEI department of agriculture at Birch Court.

Following this there will be the annual conference of federal-provincial agriculturists which will take place early in February. These meetings are in keeping with the farm's policy of encouraging farm organizations to use the facilities provided.

At the present time two of the staff members are on a visit to the experimental farms at Fredericton and Nappan, Dr. J.W.G. Nicholson, director of animal nutrition and Douglas Munro, research officer in soil fertility are reviewing and comparing results of experiments made at the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick farms.

Mr. Parent said it has become more and more the policy of experimental farms to exchange ideas and compare results, especially in the Atlantic region.

STRAW WASTE

In his travels through the Island last week, Mr. Parent observed a farmer burning straw
