World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893.

THE Government of the Dominion of Canada has accepted the invitation of the Government of the United States to take part in the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in Chicago from 1st May to 31st October, 1893. As it is important that a very full display of Canadian products be made on that occasion, a general invitation is extended to Canadian producers and manufacturers in agriculture, horticulture, products of forests, fisheries, minerals, machinery, manufactures, arts, etc., to assist in bringing together such a display of the natural resources and industrial products of Canada as will be a credit to the country.

An Executive Commissioner for Canada has been appointed, who will have the general charge of the exhibits and the allotment of space, and the several Provincial Governments have been invited to co-operate with the view of making the exhibition as complete and satisfactory as possible.

The Dominion Government will pay the transport of exhibits going and returning, and for the placing of articles sent.

Entries must be made not later than 31st July. The reception of articles at the Exposition buildings will commence 1st November, 1892, and all exhibits, excepting Live Stock, must be in place by 1st April, 1893.

Forms of application for space and general information can be obtained on applying by letter post free, to the undersigned.

Executive Commissioner for Canada.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A Disappointment

SIR,—It appears the good people of this place are again doomed to disappointment in respect to the County Court. It was thought the amendments to the Act last session would have the desired effect, and that the next sitting of the court would be held here. In fact some of the windy supporters of the Government were never done boasting of the great services the Premier had rendered the people of Mount Stewart in this important matter. But now these same men are dumb as oysters, when it is known that owing to the stupidity—inexcusable stupidity—in one who is paraded before the public as a great lawyer, consitutional and otherwise, the Act cannot be put in operation till again amended, and that after the next session of the legislature. No doubt we will be told that stupidity was not the cause of the bungle, but if not, then the Government must have been insincere in the whole business, and was only attempting to bluff the people until after the election, which would, no doubt, have taken place ere this had not that innocent offspring of Mr. Peters—known as the gerrymander bill—been strangled by the Lieutenant-Governor in its infancy. Indeed, not a few are inclined to the belief that after the court was promised us a few interested supporters of the party on St. Peter's Road kicked so vigorously that the Government were compelled to back water—hence the bungle as the only way out of the difficulty till after the election.

Time, however, will test their sincerity, and no matter how they may explain away their stupid legislation, the business men of the place who have now to travel twelve or fifteen miles, at great inconvenience and loss of valuable time, to transact any business they may have with the court, will hold their representatives in the Assembly responsible—especially the senior member. As for the other, he is not supposed to understand much about this or in fact any other matter concerning the welfare of his constituents, Clarktown bridge question excepted.

ELECTOR.

Cattle Shipments from Cardigan Bridge.

The schr. Soudan, DeCoste master, sailed from Cardigan Bridge on June 7th inst., with the following cargo for St. John's, Newfoundland, shipped by James E. McDonald, Esq: 58 head fat cattle, 1 horse, 14 sheep, 500 bushels oats and potatoes—value $2250. The heaviest among the cattle were 1 ox, weight 1950 lbs; 1 cow, 1275 lbs., fed by John Nicholl, Esq., Lot 56; 1 ox, 1160 lbs., fed by William Dingwell, Little River; 1 bull, 1490 lbs., fed by Mrs McLure, Murray Harbor; 1 bull, 1450 lbs, fed by Daniel Carmichael, Pisquid Lake; one ox, 1125 lbs, fed by Daniel Sinnott, Morell; and 1 bull, fed by William Thompson, Lot 59. The balance of the shipment were of good quality, but of lighter weights.

A Story in Every Face.

I love old faces; they are always true, writes Gerald S. Lee in an article entitled, "As it is seen in our faces" in the June Ladies' Home Journal. The old man's face is his autobiography; it is his life in miniature. A face is the scenery of the soul, the camera of our thoughts; although we have not really seen a face until our hearts have followed the whole repertoire of its expressions, yet each man's habitual face, as a fair general expression of himself, is as if a composite had been taken, and the soul had had a thousand sittings, each negative differing in its way, but all combined resulting in this one. Why should a man be ashamed of his wrinkles? It is being ashamed of not what he seems, but of what he is. Wrinkles in a man's face are a kind of orthography, nature's handwriting, the shorthand of features, in which the main ideas of a man's life are set down without his knowing it, and in spite of himself, and in the very midst of his denials. It is a language without a grammar, and only the vaguest sort of a lexicon, but every man can read it. It is German to the German, and Indian to the Indian; the universal language of the globe, the instinctive Volapuk of mankind!

The First Year of Married Life.

A woman should not take offence too easily, writes Christine Terhune Herrick in an interesting article on that most serious of questions in the June Ladies Home Journal. Often, Indeed, the words or manner she resents were not ill-meant by her husband. Some men have a hasty, brutal-sounding fashion of speaking that tries and hurts a woman cruelly, and she should endeavor, by all gentle means in her power, to break him of the habit, by representing to him, in his calmer moments, the pain he inflicts upon her. The man who loves his wife will usually try to break himself of any peculiarity that is distasteful to her; but she may rest assured she will not better him by continual harping upon the sore subject. To harmless and inoffensive idiosyncrasies the wife should shut her eyes. At the beginning of her married life let her make up her mind to one fact: that she cannot force her husband to resemble her in every particular of thought and feeling. He will have his preferences and his distates, and she need not expect to coerce or persuade him into conforming them to hers; after all, he has a right to his own individuality, and she has no business to interfere with them. There will always be enough points of common sympathy to form a meeting ground, and upon matters of divergent opinion let them agree to disagree. A potent aid to a wife's charity for her husband will be the reflection that, in all probability, her faults are quite as trying to her husband as his can be to her. If he takes his share in the endeavor to preserve unity of feeling, there is little doubt that in time the fermentation will work clearless.

Life Saving Apparatus.

When the German steamship Eider was wrecked off Southampton, England, some months ago, the London Daily Graphic offered a premium of $500 to the inventor who could devise the best means of communication between a ship at sea and the shore. Several plans were sent in and a cable despatch informs us that the prize has been awarded to Messrs. Thompson and Nobb, of Southampton. The apparatus they have devised consists of a rocket which is fitted with strong grapnels, the flukes or claws of which are shut close while the rocket is in motion through the air, but which open out the moment they touch the ground, into which, of course, they stick by reason of the momentum they have acquired. The great advantage claimed for this instrument is that it is independent of human action, and the communication is established automatically, as it were, which is not the case with the rockets which have hitherto been in use.

The Drinking Habit

The Dutch are a hard working and frugal people, and their conspicuous ability to consume liquor has accordingly been a matter of some wonder to others. But the Dutch Labor commission has at last thrown a lucid light upon the drinking habits of the working classes. In Rotterdam the practice is said to be general of paying laborers in public houses or saloons, the paymaster either being in receipt of a commission from the gin seller, or, as it frequently happens, the tavern keeper is the paymaster himself in the service of the stevedore, the commission business operating in the same way. The laborer who does not agree to spend a portion of his wages in the house is not continued in employment. And so the glass goes round on pay day till each man has consumed his regulation three pints of gin. The practice is simply appalling, and that it should be sanctioned by any organization of employers is far beyond the average comprehension as is the ability of any one man to drink three pints of gin and not be any the worse for it. However evidence is evidence.

Car Transfer Boat.

A most unique combination of mechanical and nautical skill, in its way, is the passenger car ferryboat, which for some time past has been operated in the Straits of Mackinac by the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railroad. As described, it has an enormous capacity for carrying cars, but its peculiarities are its strength, its shape, and the number of its steam engines. It carries twenty-four steam engines for performing the various requirements of the business in hand. The hull of the boat is a triumph of solidity, and the bow rises up and away from the water, so as to hang or slant over it as if it were a hammer—what indeed it is designed to be; this is because the boat is an ice breaker, intended to keep a channel open in the straits all winter, or to make one whenever it is necessary to encounter the massive ice that forms in that region.

A Hard Profession.

Old Dr. Johnson once said addressing a class of medical students, that the study of medicine was a most arduous undertaking; that the most comprehensive mind and the most industrious student could scarcely do more than explore the portals to medical knowledge during the brief time alloted to study before commencing practice, but that throughout his whole life the responsibilities of his profession should rest upon him like a night mare.

He should explore every avenue of natural knowledge, must become familiar with chemistry, natural philosophy and natural history, but, above all, he must learn the construction of his own frame, the means by which he lives, moves and has his being. He must understand the nature of all those influences by which health is broken down and restored and by what means disease, suffering and death may be averted. Dr Johnson further says that nothing contributes so much to the support of quackery as the present insufficiency of medical knowledge. Men do not, he says, easily abandon hope, but as readily put faith in ignorant pretenders as drowning men catch at straws.

"The good that men do in this life lives after them." During the lifetime of old Dr. Johnson he invented what is now known as Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, a standard family remedy of surpassing merit. This liniment is both for internal and external use, and it is safe to say that no single remedy ever discovered has done so much good as has this one. It is inexpensive, ready at a moment's notice night or day and may be used with absolute confidence in the thousand and one ailments that afflict humanity. In the cure of severe cramps or pains in the stomach or bowels, dysentry, diarrhœa, acute or chronic, this ailment is a sovereign remedy. In the case of chroaic diarrhœa it is certainly worth its weight in gold. It has been known to cure cases of from ten to fifteen years standing after the sufferers had been given up.

The final revision of the Indian census returns gave a population of over 288,000,000. These figures include the native states and Upper Burmah. The religious classification of the peoples of India shows an increasing preponderance of Hindoos, who are nearly 208,000,000, as compared with less than 57,500,000 Musselmans. Christians are about 250,000; Buddhists are 7,000,000; Parsees under 90,000; Jews, 17,000; Theits, Agnostics, and Atheists are grouped together in the insignificant figure of 289. The rest are described as Jains, Sikhs, and forest tribes.

MAKES FLESH AND BLOOD.—When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat. In fact, Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life," and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles 50c. and $1 at Charlottetown drug stores.

Hereditary Liver Trouble,
ENLARGEMENT OF THE LIVER,
Diagnosed by the best Physicians, CURED.

GENTS:—My father died of Consumption of the Liver, many in my family have died with the same disease, and a large part of the time for the past two years I have been very sick, no appetite, bowels alternating between Constipation and Diarrhœa. Pains all over my body, and severe pains all through my Liver. So nervous I could not sleep nights, and in fact BETTER was much emaciated and run down. My Physician said I had Enlargement of the Liver.

The day before I commenced the use of SKODA'S REMEDIES, I had two different Physicians call upon me. People thought I must die. I had doctored so much and taken so many different kinds of patent medicines, without any benefit, that when SKODA'S DISCOVERY was brought to me, I threw THAN away doctor's medicines, and began its use.

Soon I commenced to gain; my appetite increased; from being weak and feeble I began to grow stronger; bowels assumed a natural condition; sweet and refreshing sleep came to me nights; I began to increase rapidly in flesh.

I have now taken less than a full course (six bottles) of SKODA'S DISCOVERY, with SKODA'S LITTLE LIVER TABLETS, and to-day I am strong, am able to COLD do my own work. In fact, am well and happy. The strongest statement I could make would not tell half your wonderful Remedies have done for me.

Respectfully yours,
